JAPANESE OPEN WAY TO MUKDEN

Report That They Have Pierced Left Flank of the Russians.

ARE MARCHING NORTH

Escape Between Positions Held by Generals Keller and Rennenkampff.

BATTLE AT LIAO RIVER

London, July 22.—A Russian correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Mukden, under date of July 19, says:

"A fierce fight has been raging during the past two days, and it still continues.

"The Japanese, who are in superior strength, attacked with great daring and coolness. The Russians are contesting the ground splendidly.

"The Japanese flanking movements to the east are the real cause of our retirement. Heavy losses have been sustained. The Japanese artillery has again shown its superiority."

The scene of the fighting is not mentioned by the correspondent.

LONDON, July 22.—According to a special dispatch from Moscow, the Russky Listok of that city confirms the Associated Press report from Liao-Yang that the Japanese have broken through the Russian left flank and are marching on Mukden.

TOKYO, July 22.—(2:10 a. m.)—A fisherman reports that the Vladivostok squadron was off Miyako yesterday, going in a southeasterly direction at a speed of 10 knots. If this course and speed is maintained the squadron will be off Yokohama late today. The eastern coast of Japan is shrouded in fog. Shipping has been suspended awaiting the location of the Russian fleet.

The Russian eastern army today attacked the Japanese on the other side of the valley of the Liao river. Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller, after a hard fight, compelled the Japanese to retreat with great loss.

Gen. Herscheimann, July 19, had a successful engagement, forcing the Japanese to rapidly retreat on their main forces. The Russian losses were 200 men killed or wounded.

It is reported that Gen. Kuroki is suffering from malaria and that he follows his army in a litter. Gen. Oku, it is rumored, has resumed his advance beyond Kai-Chou. The Russians are expecting a battle.

The heat at Liao-Yang registers 90 degrees Fahrenheit.

Russians Discredit It.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—The most sensational piece of news from the front is from Liao-Yang, dated July 20, reporting a persistent rumor that the Japanese have broken through the Russian left wing between the respective positions of Lieut.-Gen. Count Keller and Gen. Rennenkampff and are marching upon Mukden. The report received from Gen. Kuropatkin bearing the same date says that there has been no change of importance in the situation, and a close study of the dates shows that the rumor probably refers to the Japanese advance against Gen. Rennenkampff on the northern Samaitsza-Liao-Yang road, when they drove the Russians back as far as Poutsiatze, 26 miles east of Liao-Yang. A later dispatch shows that Gen. Herschelmann commanded this detachment of Gen. Rennenkampff's camp and that he turned and took the offensive, subsequently compelling the Japanese to retire in the direction of Sikeyan.

Further but incomplete details of Gen. Keller's attack at Motien pass July 17 show that the fight lasted all day, and was a bloody affair. The Sevsky regiment rushed eight of the Japanese guns with the bayonet, but later were compelled to abandon them.

A Russian detachment which crossed the Lian river at dawn on the opening of the fight discovered a Japanese detachment under a hill dressed in the Russian uniform and hailed the soldiers in Russian as friends, but when the Russians got within easy range the Japanese opened fire.

Fought Three Days.

SIN-MIN-TUN, July 20.—(Special Cable.)—News reaches here today that the Japanese, after three days' of desperate fighting, have forced back the Russians under Gens. Rennekampff and Keller and are now between Mukden and Liao-Yang with an army estimated at 75,000 men. They have almost reached the railroad, according to these reports, and there is no Russian force in their front sufficient to retard their advance.

LONDON, July 21.—(Special Cable.)—A report reaches here from the far east which has revived interest in the situation in Manchuria. It is to the effect that Kuroki's column has succeeded in turning the Russian left flank and is marching on Mukden.

If this is true, Kuropatkin is in a more desperate plight than has been generaly supposed. He is cut off from his base and retreat is impossible except by fighting his way through the Japanese northern army. The fighting in that section, which has been going on almost constantly since Sunday, indicates that the Japanese are in force there and the presumption is that Kuroki has at least all the troops he brought up from the Yalu, estimated at something like 75,000 men. It may be that he has been reinforced since then.

With 75,000 Japanese in his rear, another army, estimated at 50,000 men, in touch with Kuroki and strongly intrenched to the east and with Oku's force estimated at all the way from 60,000 to 100,000 men on the south, it is difficult to figure any escape for Kuropatkin's force in the trap.

Mines Menace Navigation.

TIEN-TSIN, July 21.—Lloyd's agent at Niuchwang telegraphs that nearly every steamer arriving reports seeing mines, and that navigation will practically cease unless steps are taken to explode them.

WILL RELEASE THE MALACCA

So Russia Promises Britain, but Promise Is Not Yet Fulfilled.

CZAR IS FOR PEACE

Will Take England's Word That No Contraband Was on Board.

FRANCE IS NOT EXCITED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, July 22.—After midnight, just before the adjournment of the house of commons, Premier Balfour stated that the government had received no confirmation of the reported release of the Malacca.

The authoritative assurances that the Malacca will be released, cabled from St. Petersburg to the United States do not appear in the British morning papers. Special dispatches to a somewhat similar effect from St. Petersburg do not allay the alarmist views of the leading organs, which construe Premier Balfour's post-midnight announcement to mean that the incident remains unsettled.

The Daily Mail says there is reason to believe that the British garrisons in the Mediterranean will be strengthened by drafts from the United Kingdom, while several vessels will be sent to the vicinity of the Dardanelles and others to Port Said.

Admiral Edward Field, retired, speaking at a public banquet last evening said he believed that the Russian government was trying to drag in both France and Great Britain. "Do not let Russia play her game," said the admiral, "but leave the matter to the diplomatists. The Malacca incident is safer in the hands of Mr. Balfour and Lord Lansdowne than in those of the naval men."

Meant No Infringement.

Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador, at a conference with Foreign Secretary Lansdowne yesterday afternoon, assured the foreign secretary that his government had no intention of infringing on the rights of Great Britain, Germany or any other neutral power, and that if a mistake has been made in the seizure of the Malacca, unquestionably the steamer will immediately be restored and damages will be paid.

The ambassador pointed out that it was unreasonable to suppose that the Malacca had been seized without the commander of the St. Petersburg having good grounds to believe that she had contraband on board. Unless this suspicion is effectually disproved, the matter will have to go before a prize court, which procedure Great Britain herself follows. In the meantime Russia will make full investigation in order to establish definitely the grounds on which the commander acted.

Fuel has been added to the flaming indignation against Russia by the news that another liner, the Pak Ling, bound to Yokohama, has been seized in the Red sea, although this is denied by the owners of the vessel. The cabinet was in session today, and the principal subject under discussion was the pending crisis. The cabinet also discussed the reply to be made in the house of commons to questions concerning the status of the St. Petersburg and the sailing of the Malacca with a prize crew aboard from Port Said. The premier has promised to take the matter up Monday.

Bad Effect on Business.

The war crisis is having a disastrous effect on business, particularly on the export trade. The insurance rates have now reached a point which makes profitable shipments out of the question. The rates have gone up as high as 20 guineas per cent, and there is every prospect, if the Malacca is not released, that the rates will go even higher.

The Cardiff coal men are particularly exercised about the situation, and urgent appeals are being made by them to the government for prompt and effective measures. The Russians have plainly declared coal to be contraband, and as the trade with the far east in this commodity is great, there is reason for the plaints from Cardiff.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 21.—The scare yesterday over the Malacca incident has given way to a calmer and more rational view. The feeling in high officials circles, where an exact knowledge of the attitude of the government exists, is that the case will be speedily and satisfactorily adjusted. The government, under the direct inspiration of the emperor, who is personally anxious to avoid grounds for a quarrel, is apparently ready to meet Great Britain in the most friendly spirit.

The Russian Position.

The Russian position can be stated in a few words. While not admitting that the Russian captain seized the Malacca without some warrant, Russia will accept without question Great Britain's assurances that the war munitions on board the vessel were government stores bound for the naval station at Hongkong, and order the immediate release of the ship. At the same time she will maintain her right to stop vessels believed to have contraband of war on board, and detain them if the manifests are not plain as required by international law.

Whether Russia will agree to discuss the war status of the Red sea cruisers is not plain, but if Great Britain insists seriously she may offer to refer this and other collateral questions to The Hague tribunal.

It is stated that the foreign office was not consulted regarding the international

TURKEY WILL KEEP TREATY

Will Not Permit Armed Russian Vessels to Pass the Dardanelles.

SILENT ON MERCHANT SHIPS

By G. H. EDMONDS.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Constantinople, July 21.—Turkey will not permit armed Russian vessels to pass the Dardanelles. After a long conference with the British minister, the sultan's grand vizier has decided that Turkey's interests for the present at least, lie in the direction of a strict adherence to the terms of the treaty providing for the closing of the Dardanelles to vessels of war.

Whether this applies also to vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet, going out as did the St. Petersburg and Smolensk under the merchant flag, and with no arms apparent appears to be in doubt. This doubt soon will be dispelled, for, I am informed, three additional vessels of the volunteer fleet will soon attempt to pass into the Mediterranean. When they reach the eastern entrance to the Dardanelles, the test of the relative strength of Russia and England at Constantinople will come.

The best opinion here is that the vessels will be permitted to pass, Turkey taking the position that she has no right to go behind the ship's papers. If they are in regular shape and show on their face that the ships are merchant ships, Turkey is estopped from making further investigation and must permit them to pass.

MEXICAN OFFICIALS SHOOT TWO AMERICANS

Apparently Serious Affair Is Briefly Reported to the State Department.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Brief and unsatisfactory advices were received by the state department today telling of the shooting of two Americans by Mexican officials at Aguas Caliente. Louis Kaiser, the United States consul at Mazatlan, reported the occurrence, but neglected to give the names of the men. The department wired Mr. Kaiser to send names and further particulars immediately. Up to a late hour tonight nothing further had been heard.

The state department is much concerned over the matter since the few facts presented give it the appearance of an exceedingly serious affair. It is reported that the Mexican officials entered the offices of the two Americans and shot them down in their own apartments. There is no inkling as to what the cause of this summary action may have been and the department anxiously awaits further particulars.

Consul Kaiser said in his dispatch that he had wired the governor of the state demanding a prompt investigation.

It is said at the department that the offense of the Americans must be proven an unusually grave one to justify such action on the part of the Mexican officials, and it is feared that unpleasant developments may be forthcoming.

CAMP IS READY FOR THE GUARD

Soldier Boys Will Occupy Quarters at Gettysburg Today. Fast Work of Details.

TOWN IS SHORT OF FOOD

By JOHN P. COWAN.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Gettysburg, Pa., July 21.—Once again the historic field of Gettysburg is enlivened by martial scenes. Two thousand tents, which will shelter the soldiers of the National Guard of Pennsylvania in Camp Col. M. S. Quay, have been pitched by the fatigue details sent in advance and tonight everything is in readiness for the arrival of the troops tomorrow. The village of Gettysburg is crowded with visitors and the influx of strangers has been so sudden and so great that civilians are reduced to unusual straits to appease their appetites. In the commissary headquarters provisions have been stocked up with the most liberal hand and the soldiers will be the best fed sojourners in Gettysburg during the next fortnight.

The visitor can invest half a dollar and get two sets of souvenir postal cards, with a piece of wood from Devil's Den thrown in, but if he wants a good satisfactory meal he will have to go away off somewhere in the country to find it. Everybody is willing to point out Jennie Wade's house and tell all about old John Burns, but they are not so eloqunt in directing the hungry man to a good ham sandwich. Rates for everything have increased and will be advanced still higher by Sunday, when 15,000 visitors are expected to inspect the camp.

Great Rush Expected.

The people of Gettysburg are hospitable, but the rush this year will be the greatest the town has experienced at a national guard encampment. "The population of Gettysburg this week will be the greatest we have had since 1863," said an old resident of the town tonight. "On the 2d of July in that year we had about 150,000 guests, and they ate everything we had. It looks as if that experience would be repeated."

The advance details of the Second brigade beat their rivals of the east in pitching canvas. The workers of the Tenth, under Captains Richard Coulter and Blaine Aiken, finished their work before 1 o'clock this afternoon. The Filipino hunters brought a band along and were entertained with lively music after their labor. The detail of the Fourteenth got in at 7 o'clock this morning in command of Capt. Murray G. Livingston and completed their task early in the afternoon. An innovation in the Fourteenth's camp will be 10 canvas cook tents. The Eighteenth's tents are up and the boys of the Sixteenth had time to go out on promenade early in the afternoon, having completed their work with their usual dispatch. The Fifth's workers were late in arriving, but put up their tents by starlight.

General Wiley Pleased.

Gen. John A. Wiley of the Second brigade said he was pleased with the progress that had been made. The majority of the commands occupy relatively the same positions to which they were assigned two years ago, except that Battery B will go on Seminary Ridge, and the Fourteenth will get a better camp site near Sickles'

STATE GUARDS OFF FOR CAMP

Pittsburgh Soldiery Fill Downtown Streets with Khaki and National Airs.

BUSY DAY FOR THE OFFICERS

While the bands played martial airs and admiring friends and relatives on the streets cheered and waved, the soldier boys of Pittsburgh marched last evening from their armories to the railroad stations and entrained for the division encampment at Gettysburg.

The scenes that always mark the departure of the state guardsmen for their annual practice were repeated last evening. There were the same crowds in the street and the same scenes of sweethearts bidding goodby to Johnny who is marching away. The tears alone were lacking to indicate that real war had started. It did almost start at the Baltimore & Ohio station last evening, when three girls caught sight of one stalwart Eighteenth corporal and proceeded to give him an affectionate farewell, all at once. None of the girls seemed to know the other two, and hence the war. While they settled the dispute the company was ordered forward and the "non-com" went with his comrades. He was too busy to explain.

All through the afternoon the armories of the Eighteenth and Fourteenth regiments and Battery B had been crowded. In the street could be seen an occasional private or officer in uniform, reminding the passersby that the most interesting time of the year in guard circles had come again. At the armories knapsacks were packed, guns were cleaned, boxes that will help out the ration were packed, and preparations generally for the long ride and the life in camp were under way. Col. Frank I. Rutledge of the Eighteenth and Col. W. Emory Thompson of the Fourteenth, with the staff and line officers, were busily engaged in the arrangements, but when the time to form the commands in line and march had come all was ready, and a fine looking body of troops were sent out to represent this section. The new Nile green khaki showed up well and the improvement shown by the troops was much commented upon.

The Eighteenth regiment went over the Baltimore & Ohio in two special trains. The command was assembled at the armory, Craft avenue and Forbes street, and proceeded downtown. It reached Ross street about 8:45 p. m., and there rested until the trains at the station were ready, a few minutes after 9 o'clock. Then the command swung into column of fours and marched up Ross to Fifth avenue, down Fifth to Smithfield to the station.

The Fourteenth regiment formed at the armory over the market house, and after a short downtown march entered its train on the Pennsylvania tracks in Liberty avenue. The battery boarded the train at East Liberty.

Several companies of the Tenth regiment also went through Pittsburgh. The companies from Washington, New Brighton and some other towns came through this city and other companies joined them at Greensburg.

When the boys reach Gettysburg this morning they will find the camp ready for them. It is expected that the discipline this year will be stricter than ever before on account of the changes in the regulations bringing the state guards into uniformity with the regular United States army.

MIDVALE ARMOR WILL BE READY

Navy Department Satisfied That Contract Will Be Filled.

PROCESS IS A SECRET

The Philadelphia Steel Concern Gives Promise of Permanent Competition.

TO FACILITATE SHIP BUILDING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.

"I fully believe that after January 1, there will be three armor plate plants in the United States competent to furnish armor for American warships," said Rear Admiral Converse, chief of the bureau of ordnance, today. "We now have the Carnegie and Bethlehem plants and by that time the Midvale Steel company's plant will be installed."

From this statement it will be seen that the navy department is confident that the Midvale company will be able to carry out the contract entered into with the government to furnish 6,180 tons of armor for the battleships Idaho and Mississippi. Bids for armor for these two ships and three 16,000-ton battleships, the Vermont, Kansas and Minnesota, were opened on October 1 last and it was found that the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies, which had a monopoly of the armor plate business for years, had a competitor in the form of the Midvale Steel Company of Philadelphia.

The bid of the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies was the same, being $420 a ton for class A armor, $400 a ton for class B, and the same for class C, all exclusive of royalties. The Midvale company bid $398 for class A, $393 for class B and $388 for class C, making no mention of royalties, which made them responsible for any charges of that character.

Saving of $300,000.

In the aggregate the bid of the Midvale company was over $300,000 less than that of the other two companies, but as the Midvale company had no armor plant, and would be obliged to put in one before beginning the delivery of armor, there was hesitation on the part of the secretary of the navy about giving it the contract.

Finally it was decided to split the contract, dividing 10,620 tons between the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies and awarding Midvale 6,180 tons. The latter contract was signed on December 15 and provided that deliveries should begin in 20 months from that date. Thus the Midvale company has until August 15, 1905, in which to deliver the first plates.

While no particular process is named in the specifications of the government, yet so far as known there are only two processes by which armor plate can be made to stand the government tests. These are the Harvey and the Krupp processes, the former used for plates under five inches in thickness and the latter for thicker plates. As it was generally understood that both these processes are controlled in this country by the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies, there has been a great deal of curiosity as to the process by which the Midvale proposes to make armor that will be equal in quality to the Harvey and Krupp armor.

Department Is Convinced.

But after signing the contract with the government the Midvale company proceeded to install a plant, making some of the machinery in its own works and buying some abroad. Its progress has been watched carefully by the navy department, which is now convinced that the Midvale company will be able to complete its contract.

"Men from this bureau have visited the Midvale plant from time to time," said Rear Admiral Converse today, "and we are satisfied that the company will be able to begin deliveries in the time specified in the contract. Some of its machinery has already been installed and more is being put in day by day. What process it will use we do not know, and do not care. That is a matter that does not concern the navy department. What we are interested in is whether it will be able to furnish armor that will meet the requirements. Every group it submits must undergo the same tests as that furnished by the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies, and if it is successful we do not care by what process it is manufactured.

"The Midvale company has not submitted any test plates to the department and I do not know when it will be ready to submit one. But from the reports that come from representatives of this bureau, as well as those from the officials of the company, I am convinced that it will be able to begin deliveries on time. Whether they will stand the tests cannot be determined until the plates have been shot.

"There is really nothing remarkable in the Midvale company entering the armor plate business. You know there was a time but a few years ago when the Carnegie and Bethlehem works had not produced armor. They all have to make their start. We are pleased that another manufacturer of armor has entered the field, for the Carnegie and Bethlehem works are far behind in their deliveries and the production of armor is not keeping pace with the construction of the ships. From reports that we have from the shipbuilders, we are hopeful that the armor submitted by the Midvale company will be acceptable. We wish to avoid any delays that we can." L. W. STRAYER.

WAYSIDE INN IS DEDICATED

Over 30,000 Persons Attend Exercises of Odd Fellows Institution.

GROVE CITY'S BIG DAY

Heat and Accidents Keep the Emergency Hospital and Nurses Busy.

AN IMPRESSIVE DEDICATION

By J. J. NORDMAN.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Grove City, Pa., July 21.—Never did the trinity of firmly welded links, symbolic of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows more fully typify fraternal love and brotherly regard as when they glistened today under the noontide sun on the apex of "Wayside Inn," the new home for aged and infirm Pennsylvania members of the order, which was dedicated today in the presence of over 30,000 people.

With the break of dawn, the 22 special trains bearing delegations from all portions of the state began rolling in to the improvised station at Wayside Inn, five miles south of Grove City, and when the residents awoke and rubbed their eyes they beheld a newly-erected city of tents, which had arisen on that pretty eminence upon which the home stands and which embraced within its 105 acres a population creditable to a city of the second class.

An arrangement committee consisting of 300 men from Allegheny county had arrived on the grounds Wednesday. They camped during the night, awoke at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and erected a myraids of tents and booths from which necessities, both of pleasure and life, were dispensed during the day.

The dedicatory service which began shortly after 1 o'clock, was presided over by Samuel A. Steel of Pittsburgh, past grand master, and treasurer of the inn. He was assisted by the grand lodge officers of Pennsylvania. Gathering on the porch of the old home, a small, two-story, simple little frame structure, which stands several hundred feet in front of the new building, the grand lodge officers in their elaborate robes marched to the new building, escorted by Cantons 32 of Allegheny, and 32 of Pittsburgh, uniformed rank.

Opening Ode Was Sung.

Gaining the porch of the new building the "opening ode" of the ritual service was sung, after which the officers erected an altar of stone and mortar upon the porch, the pedestal blocks bearing the inscriptions of the lodge principles—charity, hope, faith, truth, love, friendship and purity.

Louis K. White, president of the home, and John Fielding, secretary, then stepped forward, introducing each other, and Mr. White, for the first time, made known the origin of the plan of the home. His father, an Odd Fellow, was killed in the Civil war when he was but a boy, and being called upon when still in tender years to support his mother, he sold newspapers on the streets of Pittsburgh. Members of the order, knowing his father's devotion to the lodge, assisted both mother and son. The mother's gratitude found expression in planning the co-operative system which her son has since developed. The first man from whom Mr. White received assistance is a resident of Allegheny, who subscribed $3,000 and who yesterday afternoon was engaged in doling out ham sandwiches from one of the refreshment stands.

Free of Debt.

Mr. White explained that no other institution in America was conducted along the same lines. Each lodge in the state is restricted to a single $1 bond for each member, and each member is to pay an annual assessment of 25 cents. With 1,115 lodges and 126,500 members in the state, the plan is most feasible. However, the ground was purchased and home erected at a cost of $80,000 and dedicated free of debt by 38 lodges confined to the western portion of the state.

Harry S. Lydick of Pittsburgh followed with the oration of the day, dwelling eloquently upon the noble cause and purposes of the order.

At the conclusion of the oration Wilson K. Moore of Allentown, Pa., presented to Past Grand Master Steel an elaborate gold medal ornamented with 13 large diamonds and several rubies. Mr. Steel, too deeply affected for a lengthy speech of accepance, called upon Grant A. McGlattery of Norristown, who responded.

One of the exciting events of the day occurred during the ritual service. A pickpocket, of which there were many, had been working among women congregated on the second story of the inn, and being detected, jumped out of a window directly into the huge crowd below. Gaining his feet, he ran with hundreds in pursuit. He was captured with the pocketbook in his possession and taken to the Grove City lockup.

Some of the Fun.

The picture presented about the grounds was highly typical of a monster country fair. Hundreds of rigs were driven in from all accessible points. Novelties of all kinds were offered and dozens of refreshment stands appeased hunger. All the proceeds were turned over to the institution, and upward of $6,000 was realized.

The Rebekah lodge, the woman's auxiliary of the order, was prominently identified with the work. Mercer county lodge held an ox roast in true barbecue style. Pike Run lodge of California, Pa., raffled the lodge goat and turned $125 over to the home. David E. Dale of Butler and George Miller of Allegheny exhibited a two-headed calf, made of wood, at 10 cents a peep. Stokes lodge of Pittsburgh realized $125 selling bonds. Butler lodge exhibited the "Butler bat" at 10 cents a look—a brickbat. An Allegheny lodge showed "The Great Bat

"from Ireland" for 10 cents an inspection—a baseball bat painted green. Many similar exhibitions were given, and everyone gave freely and good-naturedly.

Features of the New Home.

The new Wayside Inn is a handsome, commodious buff brick and stone structure, surrounding a knoll and affording an impressive view of the surrounding country. It is in marked contrast to the frame building which has been in use as a home since the property was acquired in 1901. To date, 11 inmates have been cared for. All the vegetables necessary for the institution are grown upon the spacious lands and much has been sold. All the flour used has been threshed from homegrown wheat and a large proportion sold. A herd of cattle is kept upon the premises, while some 500 chickens are a portion of the live stock. The inmates, who average 72 years, do what little work they can, while farm hands are engaged to assist. Many applications for entrance are now upon the books and will be taken up at once by the admission committee. All members of the lodges in the co-operative plan are eligible. A feature of the institute is that aged couples are not separated as caused in many similar institutions. One hundred can be accommodated in the new building.

At the conclusion of the exercises many donations were received. George C. Orth of Allegheny presented a lot in Bellevue valued at $800. Members of Allegheny county lodges donated from $25 to $125 each. Pickering of Pittsburgh, B. White of Allegheny and R. E. Stone of McKeesport furnished rooms, while clothing and other necessities were liberally given.

Many Hospital Cases.

It was a wise provision of the management that a hospital was established upon the grounds. A corps of trained nurses, assisted by Dr. E. M. McConnell of this city, attended 41 cases, none of which terminated fatally, due greatly to the skill of the attendants. With the arrival of the first train at 10 o'clock this morning, Robert Black of Pittsburgh was sunstruck and became violently deranged. Being hurried to the hospital he became unconscious and remained in that state until 6 o'clock this evening, when he revived sufficiently to be taken home.

Shortly after 4 o'clock Mrs. Birdie Altenberg, one of the nurses, found Mrs. Frank Gibson of Allegheny lying in the woods near the grounds suffering from violent convulsions. She had been suffering about an hour. Hurrying her to the hospital tent, the woman was seized with repeated attacks and was in a critical condition this evening.

Nurses Were Busy.

At 4:30 o'clock Mrs. Sarah Kerns, aged 70, of Butler, was knocked down and run over by a buggy and seriously injured about the head and limbs. After her injuries were dressed she was taken home in a carriage.

Of the other 30 odd cases none were of a serious nature, being confined largely to fainting spells, heat affections and stomach disorders. The nurses, all of whom are experienced, were Pittsburghers and consisted of Mrs. Martha Elton, Mrs. John Hillman, Mrs. Birdie Altenberg, Mrs. Mary Markley, Mrs. Maggie Eckert, Mrs. Tillie Trimble and Mrs. Thomas Trimble.

A rumor, creating anxiety, was spread that a boy had been thrown from the merry-go-round and instantly killed during the afternoon. Investigation proved that the accident occurred in Grove City.

WESTINGHOUSE SELLS $4,000,000 OF NOTES

Indorsed by Pittsburgh Company and Issued to Cover Recent Investments.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co. have bought $4,000,000 of Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company three-year 5 per cent notes, endorsed by the Security Investment Company of Pittsburgh. The notes were issued to cover recent investments made by the Westinghouse Company in the British Westinghouse Company and electric railroad companies in this country, together with the purchase of the Lackawanna & Wyoming Valley railroad, a third rail electric road running from Scranton to Wilkesbarre, Pa., which was built primarily to demonstrate the practicability of the third rail system for heavy traffic.

The transaction caused some considerable comment in Wall street, but it was generally thought that, as the amount was small, the company might be able to pay them off within the time mentioned and hence did not wish to issue bonds.

ARCHBISHOP WINS OVER RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

Shenandoah, Pa., Registrar Decides Ryan Entitled to a $56,000 Estate.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

POTTSVILLE, PA., July 21.—The Russian government today, through its vice consul, W. R. Tucker of Philadelphia, put in a claim to the estate of the late Rev. Joseph Lenarwicz of Shenandoah, valued at $56,000. Archbishop Ryan, of the Philadelphia diocese, also put in a counter claim to the estate. After hearing arguments on both sides, Registrar Thomas Herb decided in favor of Archbishop Ryan and granted James Fitzpatrick, the archbishop's representative, letters of administration.

William Wilhelm, counsel for the Russian government, contended that the dead priest was a Russian subject, never having renounced his allegiance to the czar. Affidavits were submitted showing that Father Lenarwicz was assessed as a voter and that he frequently exercised the right of suffrage while he lived in Shenandoah. It is alleged, though the fact was not brought out at the hearing, that Father Lenarwicz was expelled from Russia on account of his having been a member of a society that is obnoxious to the government.

FIFTY THOUSAND READY TO WORK

Packing House Doors Will Be Flung Wide Open Today.

STATEMENT FROM EMPLOYERS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—All the big meat packing establishments of the country, where nearly 50,000 workmen went out on strike 10 days ago, will be thrown open to the strikers at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, and as many of the former employes as can be taken care of will return to work. It will be several days before all of the strikers will be be given employment, as there is not enough live stock at some of the yards to require a full force of workmen. It is believed that by Saturday night nearly all of the strikers will have been taken care of.

In Chicago the non-union men engaged by the packers during the progress of the strike, and who caused the hitch in the negotiations for peace, because the packers insisted on retaining all who wished to remain at work, in preference to reinstating all of the old men, seem likely to settle the question themselves. When the news reached these men today that the old men were to return to work tomorrow, more than 500 of them quit work.

A statement relative to the strike settlement was issued today carrying the signatures of the packers who signed the peace memorandum. It is as follows:

"There seems to be some misunderstanding in the settlement upon which the public should be set right. The main point under discussion and upon which a point of settlement held for several days was the question of retaining the non-union men hired by the packers to take the places of those on strike. This point was insisted on by the packing companies and until conceded by Mr. Donnelly no settlement could have been made. In the agreement made last night the packers reserved the privilege of retaining in their employ all the employes that were hired while the strike lasted. This guaranteed to these the fair treatment they deserve, and gained for the packers one of the points for which they contended and for which they stood out so long.

"The privilege of arbitration within the time limit of 45 days covers the question of discrimination, and is in no way intended to guarantee to the striking employes that they will be taken back and given the places now filled by non-union help."

JAPAN DOESN'T CARE A HANG

Matter of Indifference What Rows England and France Get Into.

IS HOEING HER OWN ROW

TOKYO, July 21.—While the crisis in Europe is dividing popular attention here with the news from Manchuria, there is a feeling that can almost be ascribed as indifference as to whether the result of the controversy involves England and France in the war. To use an American colloquialism which pretty closely describes the feeling here, Japan is "hoeing her own row," and the progress she is making is satisfactory to her people from the mikado to the rickshaw man. The empire has not nearly reached the end of her resources either for money or men, and in the opinion of those in position to know, will not lack either, no matter how long the war lasts.

The war expenditures have up to this time been in the neighborhood of $400,000,000, while something like 300,000 men have been sent to the front. The war chest is in good shape, and fully as many more trained soldiers are available for service in the field. Others in the reserves who can be utilized for home defense now and for field service later, if needed, are being whipped into shape. It is no exaggeration to say that the entire able-bodied male population of Japan is not only willing but anxious to fight for Nippon and the mikado.

Little news has come from the front today. It is believed that Oku and Nodzu are only awaiting the completion of Kuroki's move to close in on the Russians on all sides and smash Kuropatkin beyond hope of repair. News of this movement is expected at any time.

No news has come of the Vladivostok squadron today. It is believed it is on its way either to the Red sea or the French port of Saigon. If it is given shelter there, Japan will enter a vigorous protest against it as a gross violation of neutrality. It is not believed an attempt will be made to join the Port Arthur squadron. There would be rejoicing among Japanese naval men if they should.

Falconio Sails for America.

NAPLES, July 21.—Monsignor Falconia, apostolic delegate to the United States, sailed for New York today on the Italian royal mail steamer Sardegna.

MAY OVERHAUL OUR VESSELS

Washington Is Keeping an Eye on the Vladivostok Squadron.

JAPAN GETS AMERICAN GOODS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.

A cable message from St. Petersburg says: "The Vladivostok squadron is now going to the Pacific, and will probably hold up some American and British vessels in the contraband trade with Japan."

Dispatches received today by the state department stating that the Russian Vladivostok squadron had sailed through the Tsugaru, or Sangar straits, to the Pacific ocean, destination unknown, has brought the United States face to face with the problem of becoming at any moment a participant in the far eastern complication.

It is not denied at the state department that this sudden and unexpected move means that American vessels sailing from the Pacific coast may soon be held up and searched in the same manner that British ships have been treated in the Red sea. The attitude of the United States in case such a situation should arise is not known. It was stated at the department today that the situation would be met when it arose.

It is regarded, however, as quite certain that the United States will not in any event assume the absurd position that has been taken by Great Britain. It is true that the United States has been somewhat active in trying to establish the fact that on the high seas a neutral flag is supposed to cover a neutral cargo, but nevertheless this government recognizes the right of any belligerent to seize and search any vessel which is bound to its enemy's port. This was done by the United States during the civil war, was done by England during the Boer war, and, in fact, has been done by almost every nation at war during the history of the world.

The state department declares that the United States would make no declaration concerning the seizure and searching of vessels on high seas unless she was forced to do so by having some of her own ships drawn into the matter. By a high naval official, whose authority upon questions of international law is readily recognized in navy and state department circles, it was pointed out today that under no circumstances could the passage of the Russian merchantman through the Dardanelles be regarded as a breach of international law.

"There is no international law involved," said this authority. "It is simply a matter of police regulations. The closing of the Dardanelles was effected by a treaty signed by a number of powers—a treaty in which the United States has never acquiesced. If Russia chooses to abrogate that treaty, and has the power to make good that abrogation, there is no question of international law involved."

Fears that American vessels may soon get into trouble in the Pacific with the Russian fleet is based on the well-known fact that great quantities of food supplies have been going to Japan from the Pacific coast of the United States. The Vladivostok squadron has by its sudden movement across the Japan sea and through the straits past Hakodate put itself right in hte path of the sea route which is traveled by the Pacific Mail steamers, from San Francisco, and the steamship line controlled by J. J. Hill sailing from Seattle. It is well known that the Japanese government had contracts in America for fully 7,000,000 pounds of beef, about 4,000,000 of which has already been delivered. This leaves a balance of 3,000,000 pounds yet to be taken to Japan, and it is believed that the movement of the Russian fleet reported today is for the purpose of intercepting these supplies.

There is also considerable grain being shipped to the far east regularly. If any of these steamers are held up by the Russians it will, of course, be hard for them to prove that the supplies were meant for the Japanese army and not regularly required by the people of Japan.

SEATTLE, WASH., July 21.—Local marine insurance agents today received cable instructions from London to accept no risks on ships or cargo destined for Japan without authority from London. This is considered suspension of the marine insurance business to the Oriental belligerent ports.

But one American steamship is now on the high seas from Puget Sound with a cargo for Japan. She is the Boston Steamship Company's vessel Shawmut, which sailed July 10 with 15,000 tons of cargo, including 500,000 pounds of canned beef from Chicago to Kobe. The local agent of the company declared today that he did not fear the seizure of the vessel, as the cargo was consigned to private individuals and not to the Japanese army.

ROOSEVELT IN TOUCH WITH EVENTS OF WAR

President Will Act Promptly if American Merchantmen Are Molested.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OYSTER BAY, July 21.—Every bit of news concerning the war crisis in Europe is promptly sent to the president at Oyster Bay and the president is paying as close attention to the developments in the Malacca case, the search and seizure of other ships in the Red sea and all the other interesting developments from Europe as he is to his campaign. He is in constant touch with the state department at Washington and should the interests of the United States become involved, the president would be prompt to act.

It is said that Mr. Roosevelt has given instructions to be informed without a moment's delay if any American merchantmen are held up or American commerce is in any way interfered with.

BELIEVE ROOT WILL BE NAMED FOR GOVERNOR

Odell Expected to Announce Candidacy of Former Secretary of War.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—That Gov. Odell within a few days will announce that Elihu Root has consented to become the Republican candidate for governor is the belief of many Republican leaders who are familiar with the events that have followed Mr. Root's visit to President Roosevelt in Oyster Bay on Tuesday.

Republicans who are in a position to know said today that Mr. Root's nomination would increase the contributions in the financial district to the state and national committee by at least $500,000, besides strengthening the national ticket immensely in New York state and in Connecticut and New Jersey. These men added that Mr. Root would hold practically all of the McKinley vote in the downtown district for President Roosevelt and the state ticket, and would capture a large percentage of the independent vote in uptown sections.

BONESTEEL, S. D., July 21.—Things have reached such a crisis here that a clash between police and tough element expected at any moment. Chief of Police O'Brien is calling for 200 volunteers and County Attorney Backus is swearing them in as soon as they can be secured.

Both sides at 7 o'clock were defying the others. Chief O'Brien arrested a grafter on the street this evening, accused of working a shell game. Word went forth immediately, and the gamblers' militia came to the rescue. Chief O'Brien fired a few shots in the air, then walked up the street, gun in his hand, and, taking a position in front of State's Attorney Backus' office, called for volunteers.

Trustee Parkinson has asked federal aid, and the request has been forwarded to Washington. Gov. Herreid has been notified.

MURDERER'S WIFE LEARNS HIS DOOM

Mrs. Glazner Was Kept in Ignorance of Her Husband's Sentence.

BROTHERS DIED VIOLENTLY

Nicholas Glazner was hanged yesterday in the Allegheny county jail yard for the murder of Margaret Hall. He went to his death stoically, and the saddest feature of the tragedy was the way in which his fate was learned by his invalid wife.

She suffered for years from paralysis. On Wednesday evening at her home on Herron Hill, the invalid wife, who supposed that her husband was imprisoned for some small felony, discovered the enormity of his crime, and that within a few hours the man whose arrival she was so fondly anticipating, would be hanged publicly for murder. The grief of the disillusioned woman was piteous.

Glazner is said always to have been good to his paralyzed wife, and did everything possible for her comfort, and she was passionately fond of him. Since his imprisonment in February, 1903, she has inquired constantly for her husband, but the truth has been carefully kept from her. Recently she was told that her husband would return to her Wednesday, and her relatives were sad witnesses of her preparations to greet her returning loved one.

Kept His Photograph Near Her.

She had his photograph brought to her and kept it constantly near her. She gave directions that everything might be arranged for his comfort, kept careful count of the time, and waited impatiently for his return.

Mrs. Glazner had no suspicion that anything was amiss until she overheard part of the conversation of some visitors at the house Tuesday evening, and saw her aged mother, who had also been supported by Glazner, weeping as she read the evening paper. Her mother's manner, when asked why she cried, served to further arouse the wife's suspicions, and when the older woman had left the room after having carefully placed the newspaper behind the stove, the invalid managed to drag herself from her chair and across the floor where the paper lay, and read for the first time of her husband's impending death. Attracted by the screams of the horror-stricken woman, her friends carried her to her room and summoned medical assistance, but it is feared that the shock will have serious effect. Glazner was born and reared in Etna borough, and yesterday his body was laid beside that of his father, John Glazner, in the St. Mary's cemetery. He was one of a large family, but is survived by only one brother and three sisters, all living in Etna.

Brothers Died Violent Deaths.

It is a singular instance that every death in the Glazner family has been a violent one. Of the four brothers who have died every one has met an unexpected and unnatural death.

During the flood of 1891, Miss Glazner was drowned in the cellar of his home on South Main street, Sharpsburg. Some thought it was a suicide, but the coroner decided the man had slipped and fallen while trying to ascertain the depth of the water.

A few years later Peter Glazner, while on his way to Europe, was washed from the wheel and drowned, and about three years ago Jacob Glazner, employed in a commission house in the city, was fatally bitten by a tarantula hidden in a bunch of bananas. Yesterday Nicholas Glazner met his death on the scaffold for murder. Glazner was about 50 years old and had spent the greater part of his life in Etna and Sharpsburg.

Glazner's last act was to bequeath $7 in money, which he had, to his wife and his gold watch to a sister, a Catholic nun, who had done her best to comfort him during his confinement.

Met His Fate Bravely.

Glazner slept rather restlessly on Wednesday night, but when awakened put on a new black suit provided for him and ate a hearty breakfast. He met his niece and also his minister about 9 o'clock, and the priest did not leave him until he reached the foot of the gallows. The warden, when he went with the deputies to put the first straps on him, told him to be game, and he said he would. He was, because there was no sign of weakness even on the scaffold. His wife is a paralytic and could not visit him, but his sisters did since his conviction.

Glazner was a motorman who had just recovered from an attack of typhoid fever. He was found in the rear yard of the house of J. M. Roberts, a jeweler living in Atwood street, last February with two scalp wounds, while beside him was a revolver and the dead body of Miss Margaret Hall. He was tried for murder and refused to have an attorney, pleading guilty. Even when the court appointed counsel for him the prisoner refused to communicate with him. This is the third hanging this month and there will be another one next week.

Among the persons who witnessed the execution was Sheriff J. P. Starver and County Commissioner S. R. Hamilton of Clearfield county. The Clearfield county officials have an execution for September 1. A colored man named Williams is to be hanged and it will be the first hanging in that county for 22 years. It was to see how an execution was conducted here that the Clearfield officials were present.

Fought in Lawyer's Office.

James Fleming, proprietor of the Hotel Fleming, 1 Frankstown avenue, East End, yesterday gave $1,000 bail for a hearing before Alderman Walker on a charge of assault and battery next Monday. John McDonald of Lehigh avenue alleges Fleming assaulted him, breaking his nose and otherwise hurting him, in the office of Attorney T. M. Brown several days ago during a dispute over the signing of deeds to the property occupied by Fleming, and which he wishes to buy.

SOUTH DAKOTA IS CHRISTENED

Launching of Big Battleship Takes Place at San Francisco.

POWERFUL ARMORED CRUISER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—The armored cruiser South Dakota was successfully launched from her cradle at the Union Iron works here today. The ceremony attending the launching was unusually simple. Bishop W. N. Nichols of the Episcopal diocese of California offered a short prayer, and then Miss Grace Herreid, daughter of the governor of South Dakota, pressed a button that released the hull of the youngest American cruiser. As the vessel began to move Miss Herreid swung a bottle of champagne against the boat and bestowed the designated name upon the cruiser.

Governor Herreid of South Dakota and party and a number of naval officers and distinguished citizens witnessed the launching.

The armored cruiser South Dakota is a sister ship of the California, which was launched three months ago at the yards of the Union Iron works. The two ships are the largest war vessels ever launched in a Pacific port. Each represents the latest type of efficiency, speed and power. The engines, which are expected to develop 23,000 horse power, will give high speed and great facility in maneuvering at sea. The coal capacity of the bunkers admits of a radius of operation considerably greater than that of any war vessel now in the navy.

The South Dakota is a type of six authorized by congress at the same time. Besides the California there are now being constructed in eastern shipyards the Colorado, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

The dimensions of the South Dakota are: Length at water line 502 feet; breadth 69 feet 6½ inches; draught 24 feet; displacement 13,600 tons; coal capacity of bunkers 2,000 tons; guaranteed speed 22 knots. Main armor belt extends around the hull and is 6 inches thick in the center, diminishing to 4 inches at extremities. Casement armor 5 inches thick; turrets 6 inches and 9 inches around the towers; armor to protect the 3-inch guns is 2 inches thick and for protected decks 4 inches in thickness.

The armament of the main battery comprises four 8-inch breech loading rifles for two turrets and 14 6-inch guns of the same pattern. The second battery consists of 18 3-inch, rapid-firing guns, 12 3-pounders, semi-automatic, four 1-pounder heavy automatic, four 1-pound rapid-firing, two 3-inch field pieces, two machine 0.30 caliber and six automatic 0.30 caliber, besides two sub-marine torpedo tubes.

The South Dakota will be fitted up as a flagship and will require a complement of officers and men numbering 829 in all. The cost of the vessel will be approximately $5,000,000, including her armament.

CHARLES F. SPANG DEAD.

Former Well-Known Pittsburgh Iron Manufacturer Passes Away at Nice, France.

NICE, July 21.—Charles Frederick Spang of Pittsburgh, Pa., is dead here after a long illness.

Charles Frederick Spang was a pioneer iron man in the Pittsburgh district, and the first manufacturer of iron tubing west of the Allegheny mountains. Mr. Spang was prominent in the business life of Pittsburgh till his removal to Nice, France, many years ago. He came to Pittsburgh with his father in his youth and was associated with him till his death in the business of H. S. Spang & Son, whose works were at Etna. On the death of his father Mr. Spang organized the firm of Spang & Co., having James McAuley for a partner.

In 1858 the present firm of Spang, Chalfant & Co. was formed, Charles F. Spang taking the place in the business formerly held by his father in the old firm. Mr. Spang then removed to Nice, making occasional trips to this city. Mr. Spang was one of the early directors of the Bank of Pittsburgh, one of the founders of the Western Pennsylvania hospital, a corporator of the Allegheny cemetery and a vestryman of Trinity Protestant Episcopal church in Sixth avenue.

questions involved when the decision to send out the vessels of the volunteer fleet and convert them into warships was reached, but this cannot be confirmed. The emperor's brother-in-law, Grand Duke Alexander Mikhailovich, who is a strong reactionary and who is said to have planned the cruise, seems to be chiefly responsible for the present entanglement.

Nothing is ascertainable here regarding the reported pour parlers of the powers on the general subject of neutral commerce, but that these are passing is not considered likely.

The Prinz Heinrich incident seems certain of satisfactory adjustment. There appears to be no desire on the part of Germany to crowd Russia, that country being convinced that any damage which may have been done will be righted and proper reparation will be made.

France is for Peace.

PARIS, July 21.—The French government has taken the initiative toward averting an Anglo-Russian crisis. Foreign Minister Delcasse is making friendly representations to Count Lamsdorff, the Russian foreign minister. This, from the ally on whom Russian chiefly depends, is expected to exert strong influence toward a pacific solution. The exact nature of M. Delcasse's representations is not disclosed, but they are understood to contemplate the release of the Malacca, and suitable redress. Russia's answer is expected tomorrow.

The Journal Des Debats tonight says: "The situation does not warrant the violent, passionate feeling the Berlin and London newspapers have shown during the last 48 hours."

British Warships on the Move.

ALEXANDRIA, July 21.—The British cruisers Furious and Venus have arrived here. The remainder of the fleet is expected to reach this port shortly.

TIEN-TSIN, July 21.—A letter was received here today from Niuchwang saying that the commander of a Russian torpedo boat had reported that while in the Gulf of Pechili he had accidentally torpedoed a British steamer. CONVICT SURROUNDED.

Fight Expected With Men Escaped from Moundsville, W. Va., Penitentiary.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA., July 21.—(Special.)—William Wade and William Green Walker, negro convicts serving short terms in the penitentiary, secreted themselves in bushes while working on the prison farm this afternoon and managed to elude the guards.

A big force was sent in pursuit and at 10 o'clock tonight a telephone message from Roberts Ridge, four miles south of the city, states that the men are surrounded and the guards are prepared to give battle. The negroes are regarded as desperate characters and a bloody battle is probable.

RAILROAD COMPANY IS THWARTED BY OFFICIALS

Borough Authorities Prevent Laying of Rails by Pennsylvania at Rochester, Pa.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ROCHESTER, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—Workmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company this morning began to lay rails on a portion of Island lane the company claims is not affected by the recent court injunction, but which the borough officials claim is included. Chief of Police Alexander McCort drove the men away by pointing a revolver at them. The chief tore down a barricade the workmen had built across a street.

The railroad contractors were ordered to remove their rails by 6 o'clock this evening and on failing to do so the borough officials, after stationing firemen on a hill nearby with hose ready to drench the workmen with water should they appear tore up the rails and threw them into the river. The firemen occupy the hill tonight, prepared to oppose any attempt to again lay rails.

PORT ARTHUR REPULSES ENEMY'S TORPEDO FLEET

Newspaper Published in Beleaguered Fortress Gives Belated Information.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

CHEFOO, July 21.—Copies of Novoe Krai, a newspaper published at Port Arthur, including the issue of July 11, reached here this afternoon. According to this paper, the Japanese fleet, composed of six cruisers, five gunboats and 20 torpedo boats, was seen early in the morning of July 10 to the southeast. At 8 o'clock in the morning part of the Russian fleet moved to the entrance to the harbor. The Japanese torpedo boats then approached, and at 10:30 o'clock they were fired upon by the gunboat Giliak and the cruiser Diana. The Japanese vessels retired. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon several torpedo boats again approached Port Arthur. The cruiser Novik, with an escort of torpedo boats, advanced, and the enemy retired the second time.

During the night of the 10th, 16 Japanese torpedo boats formed for an attack. They were, however, discovered by the searchlights and retired under a heavy fire from the forts. At a late hour that same night a single torpedo boat made for the entrance of the harbor, at full speed, but also retired under fire. Two Whitehead topedoes which had failed to reach the cruisers at which they had been discharged by the Japanese were found the next day at the entrance to the harbor.

On July 11 the Japanese fire from the sea stopped, and Japanese troops ascended Kinsan heights, from the summit of which rapid fire guns were used against the Russians. During the evening of the 11th the Russian batteries sent many shells from three positions against the Japanese on these heights. This fire was very effective. Later the Russian reserves, accompanied by bands of music, began a movement toward Ludsigdao.

RESPECT SHOWN TO MR. BIGELOW

Dead Leaders' Memory Is Honored by the Cessation of Municipal Business.

MAYOR HAYS ISSUES ORDER

"Out of respect to the memory of Thomas S. Bigelow, deceased, I would direct and request the closing of all public offices on the day of the funeral, Friday, July 22, 1904."

This official notice was sent yesterday by Mayor Hays to the heads of the city departments, and in compliance with the mayor's wishes all the offices will be closed, only the most necessary public business being transacted by the public safety department. It has been customary in Pittsburgh to pay this respect to the memory of political leaders, so that the closing of the municipal offices because of Mr. Bigelow's death is in accordance with usage.

City councils will meet to adopt resolutions on the passing away of Mr. Bigelow, but the meeting will probably not be held until next week. The flags on Pittsburgh and Allegheny city halls were at half-mast yesterday and the headquarters of the Citizens' party in Third avenue were draped with black last night. The city committee of the organization will meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow and adopt resolutions. Mr. Bigelow was chairman of this body.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. today at Mr. Bigelow's residence in North Highland avenue. He will be buried in Homewood cemetery. The Rev. Dr. Frank W. Sneed, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, of which Mr. Bigelow was a member, will conduct the services. Because of the absence from the city of some members of the church choir, the choir of the Christ Methodist Episcopal church will have charge of the music.

The pallbearers were selected yesterday afternoon. They are William Montgomery, T. Hart Given, Murry A. Verner, Alexander Dempster, Richard R. Quay, John P. Elkin, Judge J. J. Miller and Judge Robert S. Frazer. Mr. Bigelow was one of the pallbearers at the funeral of Senator M. S. Quay, Richard R. Quay's father. The request of Mr. Bigelow's family that the funeral be as unostentatious as possible, in keeping with the modest character of Mr. Bigelow, will be faithfully observed.

Few visitors called at the Bigelow residence yesterday morning, but in the afternoon and evening there was a steady stream of friends and associates of the late political leader. Many telegrams of condolence were received at the house.

Mayor Hays, in speaking of Mr. Bigelow yesterday, said:

"His death came as a great shock to me, and I feel that I have lost one of my best friends. No person could be intimately associated with him without coming to like and respect him. He was a great leader and absolutely loyal to his friends. It will be a long time before we find another man like him. In all my dealings with him I found him fair and honest, and he was always ready to carry out his promises if it was possible for him to do so. His was generous and resourceful and made every person who met him his friend."

"The death of Mr. Bigelow," said Controller Larkin, "is a loss to the city. Although in the administration of city affairs there were many points on which we differed, this did not interfere in any way with our personal friendship. I have known him for more than 30 years, and in all that time, through political contests in which we were on different sides, we have always been good friends. I want to say that I consider Mr. Bigelow one of the most courageous leaders that I have ever known in politics and there was much about him that would not fail to win admiration and respect."

BIGELOW BELIEVED IN OLD FRIENDS AS BEST

His Last Remark to Attorney A. S. Miller Was a Most Significant One.

Attorney Andrew S. Miller, who was a friend of Thomas S. Bigelow for years, but not of the same politics, tells a story of their meeting on Wednesday which is significant.

When Bigelow was city attorney Mr. Miller and he were friends, but they had no business dealings. Then Bigelow became busy as a business man and Mr. Miller would only see him but once a year or so, and there would be nothing but the greeting that friends pass on the street. On Wednesday forenoon Mr. Miller was coming down Fourth avenue as "Tom" was going up, and they spoke.

"Instinctively," says Mr. Miller, "I stopped and looked back and so did Mr. Bigelow. He came forward, shook hands and said:

"'Well, after all, old friends are the best friends,' and then he went to his office and I went on my way. I was shocked to learn of his death that same afternoon."

M'ILVAIN IS SILENT.

Will Not Say What Answer He Would Have Given Thomas S. Bigelow.

Sitting in his office yesterday afternoon where he was to have given his answer to Thomas S. Bigelow on an important political question, Director Edward J. McIlvain of Allegheny asserted that he had no desire to be a candidate for any county office and intimated that had the engagement with Mr. Bigelow not been prevented by the latter's death the answer to the proposal would have been in the negative.

In recent conferences between the Citizens leaders, McIlvain was chosen to make the race in the Republican primaries next June for the office of clerk of courts or register, most likely the latter. Some time was given to the director to consider what should be his plans and he was to have met Mr. Bigelow yesterday morning in the Allegheny public works office. He declined to say what answer he would have given.

"Will you be a candidate for any county office?" was asked.

"It is not likely. At no time have I desired to hold such a position. When I was first spoken of as a possible candidate I consulted my friends in Allegheny. For several reasons they were opposed to the idea. They desire that I shall remain in my present position. I am entirely in the hands of my friends. If there is a change I may consent to be a candidate for a certain county position; if not, I am content to remain where I am."

Director McIlvain, in the absence of Mayor Wyman, who is confined to his home, yesterday ordered the flags on all public buildings lowered to half-mast. The flagstaff at city hall was put in mourning. The Allegheny officials have ordered as a floral piece for the Bigelow funeral a ship with a broken mast.

THIEVES ADOPT A NOVEL SCHEME

Furniture Removed from Residence of Henry Oliver in Allegheny.

PROBABLY DONE DURING DAY

What appears to be one of the boldest robberies on record in Allegheny was reported to the police last night by Special Officer James H. Ray, detailed to keep watch on vacant houses in the fashionable residence district of the North Side. While making his rounds last evening Ray discovered that a door in the residence of Henry Oliver, at 823 Lincoln avenue, was standing open. Investigation revealed the fact that some persons had been in the house and had evidently gone through every room searching for valuables.

Detectives Johnson and Einstein were sent to the house and with Ray looked through every part of it. To Superintendent M. H. Campbell they reported that most of the furniture was gone. Only the carpets and rugs, tied up in rolls, and the beds with the mattresses, were remaining, they said. These, with some smaller articles and a large number of letters that were strewn over the floors, was all that remained in the house.

The Oliver family is spending the summer at their country residence in Shields, in the Sewickley valley, and were informed by telephone of what had been discovered by the police. Mr. Oliver said the house and its furniture had been left exactly as it had been all winter while the family lived there, and that if conditions were as reported thieves had certainly entered the place and carried off most of the furniture.

If this be true the robbery will run into thousands of dollars, as much valuable bric-a-brac, besides rare old furniture, were left in the house. About all that was not within sight of any thieves that might enter was the silverware that was in storage or at the Shields residence.

In the vicinity in which the robbery occurred thieves would be in little danger of interference. Not a house nearby is at present occupied, as the residents of the street are either traveling or living in their country homes. In only a few of them is a lone servant remaining to guard the house. It would be possible in daylight to back a moving van up to the house and carry off the furniture without hindrance from anyone. According to Superintendent Campbell it would be impossible to do the job after dark, as Officer Ray patrols the district until 5 o'clock each morning.

Mr. Oliver said last night that he would be at Central station early in the morning and would visit his residence with the detectives to make an investigation. Until this is done he said it would be impossible to place any estimate on his loss.

MORTGAGED PROPERTY NOT TO BE EXONERATED

Allegheny Common Council Turns Down a Novel Proposition.

Allegheny common council last night indefinitely postponed action on a resolution that had for its object the exoneration from all city taxes for the year 1903 of those whose properties were mortgaged. This bill, introduced by John R. Henricks at the last meeting, caused some amusement. When it went into the public safety committee that body considered it in mock seriousness, and without a smile returned it to councils with a negative recommendation. It is not likely that further action on this measure will be asked by the sponsor.

An ordinance providing for the construction of a stable at No. 12 engine house passed finally, as did a measure providing for the expense of installing a juvenile library department in Carnegie library.

At the recommendation of the surveys committee an ordinance was passed finally that changes the grade of McClure avenue to conform with the new track elevation of the Fort Wayne road. The measure establishes the grade of the sidewalks several feet higher than the level of the street, so that the lowering of the business houses along the street will not be made necessary.

The bond issue of $40,000 for rebuilding the city light plant was passed finally, as were measures for the payment of back salary to Librarian Eggers and Organist Koch. The ordinance creating the position of assistant clerk and stenographer in the department of public safety was passed finally. A committee, composed of Messrs. McHenry, Henderson and Meyer, was appointed to inquire into the agreement with the city by which the Pennsylvania railroad uses part of Church avenue for track and freight yard purposes. The resolution passed by select council, prohibiting the creation of any new offices during the remainder of the year, was defeated after John R. Henricks had attacked it.

McCollough Goes Free.

George McCullough, a former employe of the United Presbyterian Board of Publication in Ninth street, who disappeared some weeks ago with $150 of the board's funds, returned to his home, 1305 Poplar street, Allegheny. He was accompanied by a friend, who secured McCollough's release in Philadelphia, where the latter was arrested on his own confession of embezzlement. Dr. J. D. Sands last night stated that the board will not prosecute McCollough and that friends made good the board's loss.

Road Is to Be Fixed.

It was officially announced yesterday by the Pittsburgh Railways Company that the river road from the city line at McKees Rocks to Esplen will be repaired. The roadbed will be rebuilt, new tracks laid and provision made for the protection of wagons and pedestrians on the lower side. The work, it is stated, will be completed within a year.

Fire Underwriters Hold Meeting.

The regular meeting of the board of fire underwriters of this city was held last evening. It was stated that nothing concerning the "pink slip" came up, that matter having been settled finally.

Drilling for Gas in Lawrenceville.

Workmen are drilling a gas well on the grounds of the McConway & Torley Company at Forty-eighth street, and if gas is found it will be used for fuel in the entire plant.

SUFFOCATED IN THEATER TANK

Employe of Nixon Rescued Too Late—An Electrical Shock Causes Fatal Fall.

VIOLENCE IN SEVEN DEATHS

William Cox, a negro porter at the Nixon theater, died from suffocation while cleaning a water tank under the stage floor of the theater yesterday afternoon. Electrician John Barnhart, Engineer John N. Davis and Cox started to clean the tank out yesterday. Cox was working on the inside of the tank while Barnhart and Davis assisted him from the outside. Not having any experience in working in close compartments, Cox remained at work too long, consuming all the oxygen in the tank. Barnhart and Davis called to him when they heard him stop working and getting no reply they realized he was suffocating. Neither Davis nor Barnhart would enter the tank to rescue the dying man. Word was sent to the central police station for aid and Sergeant Weber, Lieut. Merit and Policeman Eckert responded. Merit and Weber were too large to crawl into the tank. Eckert managed to squeeze his body through the opening and get the man out, but he was dead. Cox was 30 years old and lived in Thirty-first street.

Benjamin Franklin, aged 25, of 8 Charles street, Allegheny, was killed by being thrown by an electric shock down an elevator shaft in the building of the Harris Pump and Supply Company at 320 Second avenue yesterday afternoon. Franklin was a clerk for the company and went to the freight elevator shaft on the first floor to go to the upper floors. The elevator cage was on the fifth floor and Franklin took hold of the steel cable to lower it. The cable was lying on an electric wire in the basement and was charged. As Franklin touched it he was shocked and fell from the first floor to the basement 20 feet below, fracturing his skull. He died while being taken to the Homeopathic hospital. He was a Spanish-American war veteran and was well known in Allegheny.

Edward McNearney, aged 23, a stable boss employed by the Columbia Contracting Company at 6742 Frankstown avenue, committed suicide in the company's office yesterday morning by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He was found with a revolver in his right hand. McNearney had been drinking heavily and it is believed he was despondent.

Frank Kaznarski, aged 8, of 192 Thirty-fourth street, had his head cut off by street car No. 3164 at Penn avenue and Thirty-second street yesterday morning. The boy was walking across the street and did not observe the car, which ran him down.

Martin Kelly, aged 53, a miner at Moon run, died at the South Side hospital yesterday from injuries received by a fall of slate.

Martin Verner, aged 35, a coal miner, yesterday was killed in the Idlewood mines by a fall of slate.

The body of an unknown white man was found in the Ohio river at the foot of Mulberry street, Allegheny, yesterday morning. The body had been in the water for some time.

ABSTINENCE LEAGUE WINS PRIESTS' FAVOR

Only Late Mailing of Notices Prevented a Big Attendance at Meeting.

Because of a late sending out of notices the meeting yesterday of the Priests' Total Abstinence league in the Lyceum hall was not largely attended, although a majority of the priests of the Pittsburgh Roman Catholic diocese are members of the league. The meeting was intended for the discussion of means to increase the membership of the society, and to make preparation to participate in the meeting of the national union, which will be held in the fall.

The Priests' Total Abstinence league is growing fast, although it is a comparatively new association. It grew out of the interest taken in the total abstinence question by the spiritual directors of the Father Matthew societies and of councils of the Catholic Total Abstinence union. They argued that it was not sufficient for priests merely to set an example to lay Catholics by abstaining from spiritous liquors, but that the temperance movement among Catholics would be furthered if the priests formed a total abstinence society on the lines recommended for the laity. The bishops all over the country approved the idea and the branch in the Pittsburgh diocese was one of the first to be formed.

Whether or not to abstain entirely from the use of malt and spirituous liquor is a matter that is left in the Catholic church, as in most other churches to the individual conscience, but priests and bishops encourage the organization of total abstinence societies. The late Bishop Watterson of Columbus, a brother of Attorney A. V. D. Watterson of Pittsburgh, was one of the most consistent temperance advocates in the church. He created a sensation nearly 20 years ago when he issued an order that saloonkeepers should not be elected to official position in societies that were Catholic, and as Catholic organizations were supposed to represent the Catholic laity and enjoy the special favor of the church.

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT ECONOMY CITY:

It takes the continual planting of new industries or the expansion of old ones to make a community grow and permit real estate investors to become rich or prosperous from their investments.

At Economy City a mile of the world's finest bridge and structural-iron works have been built, in addition to other industries that will soon break ground.

The bridge works in their partially completed condition, employ nearly 2,000 workmen. When entirely completed they will employ 7,000 to 10,000 workmen.

There won't be stores and houses enough to supply one-tenth of these men and their families by the time the additional force of men are needed.

That shows to builders and others what rents they would command by getting in and putting up buildings.

It shows to investors what money they would earn from inevitable increase of value on any Economy City real estate they may purchase.

Here's great news for parents—in more ways than one. These Rough-Rider Suits are just what the boys have been hankering after, they are very cheap, they save a lot of washing.

We Sell Them for 50c a Suit.

NOTE TO THE PARENT—This suit has been on the market for only a short period and we have had such a time getting enough to supply the demand that we have said nothing in print about it. A big lot has just arrived. Some houses sell them for $1.00, others have them for 70c reduced from $1.00. They were made to sell for 50c and that's all they're worth. Mentioned to show how some cheap goods often become very dear.

NOTE TO THE BOY—These are regular Rough-Rider Suits. Just the same style that Broncho Pete and Buckskin Bill wear. Long breeches, of course, and they have the fringe on them. The material is khai-kai, same as President Roosevelt's regiment wore in the Spanish war. They are built for business, not looks. You can wear a suit all Summer and never have to dress-up on a week day.

Sizes run from 3 to 12 years.

To Men: 85c.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 12 of this issue.

Admiral Converse is a believer in the Midvale Steel Company's proposal to furnish armor plate at a reduced price, despite the fact that the two known processes for producing plate of the quality required are controlled by the Bethlehem and Carnegie companies. It is not impossible that American ingenuity may have discovered another process "just as good," and it is on this account that public interest is aroused in the matter. If the Midvale company has a new process the saving of royalties may account for its lower bid. In any event it will be the duty of the ordnance bureau to give the plates the most thorough ballistic tests, as the American navy must be constructed of the best material only. The strength of a cruiser, like that of a bridge, is that of its weakest spot.

There are occasional discussions of the increasing strength of the Russian army in Manchuria, accompanied by predictions that the Japanese have delayed until their task is hopeless. All such comments leave out of consideration the one controlling factor. Russia's sole means of communication with Manchuria is the Siberian railroad, over 4,000 miles from St. Petersburg to Harbin—nearly 5,000 to Liao-Yang. The utmost capacity of that road cannot maintain more than 250,000 men of all arms. The constant forwarding of troops, of which we hear so much, is no more than making good losses in battle and by disease. As the fighting grows heavier the railroad cannot supply the losses. Japan, on the other hand, has a transport by water equal to more than 10,000 men daily, together with ample supplies. Russia has probably reached its maximum strength at the front, while Japan is adding to its total force.

News comes that Canada has authorized a contract for another ammunition factory at Winnipeg, in addition to the one recently authorized at Ottawa. In connection with the statement of fact is the significant explanation that in the event of war with the United States the Dominion's ammunition supply from Great Britain would be cut off. This, taken in connection with Premier Laurier's recent discussion of the Canadian militia might create an impression that Canada really apprehends war with this country. We do not believe it does, for its population is not equal to that of Pennsylvania. But the talk of the premier and the discussion of ammunition factories for defense, if continued, may create unfriendly sentiment. Such a sentiment might operate against trade between the two countries and that is probably what is aimed at. At the same time it may react against the growth of Canada, because capital and immigration are never attracted where there is a prospect of destruction. If the foolish talk is made to look serious enough to arouse Canadian sentiment against the United States it is more likely to frighten persons less familiar with Canadian conditions and intentions.

The correspondence between Minister Leishman and the state department, just published, shows the difficulty with which negotiations with the sublime porte are carried on. It required the most persistent effort on the part of the minister for several weeks to secure a personal interview with the sultan, and even then no results were obtainable. The porte seems imbued with the idea that the United States is strictly a nation of peace, and that an act of congress is necessary before anything can be done to protect the interests of Americans abroad. The presence of our fleet at Beirut had a slightly accelerating influence, but even that was not properly appreciated by the sultan, because it did not become necessary to clear for action. There seems to be a woeful lack of discretion among the advisers of the sultan, and the time must finally come when they are taught that they must respect the demands of the United States. Meanwhile Mr. Leishman, who had one of the most difficult posts in our diplomatic service, has obtained the concession of access to the sultan in person and agreements as to the standing of American citizens in the future.

The nomination of Joseph W. Folk for governor of Missouri will cause a quake of fear in the hearts of a good many St. Louis Democrats. The Democratic nomination in Missouri is equivalent to an election, and particularly so this year, when a host of Republicans are likely to vote for Mr. Folk as a short cut to honesty in state and municipal affairs. Therefore Mr. Folk's victory against the state Democratic machine is practically accomplished. His position as governor will give him a very strong hand in the municipal affairs of St. Louis, as under the Missouri law the governor has the appointment of the board of police commissioners of the city. With the detective force to help him, Mr. Folk will be stronger as governor than he has been as district attorney of St. Louis, with the police department in the hands of the friends of the boodlers. He has met opposition at every turn in his fight for reform, but he has at last convinced the honest people of the state that he is fighting their battles. Mr. Folk has had a hard contest, but the victory he has won has proven it worth the effort.

Kuroki's Clever Ruse.

Gen. Kuroki has broken through between the forces of Gens. Keller and Rennenkampf and is pushing forward toward the railroad and Mukden. This is the tenor of news from Russian sources at Liao-Yang. There had been previous reports of a repulse of the Japanese by Rennenkampf's division, on the Saimatzo-Mukden road, in which they suffered the loss of 10 guns, and of a defeat of the Russians, with heavy losses at Matourinsky pass. Apparently the retirement of the fifth column of Kuroki's army on the extreme right was a maneuver to entice Rennenkampf away from the front of the intended advance of the fourth column, which overwhelmed Count Keller's troops in that section when Rennenkampf could give them no support.

A few days ago Gen. Kuroki's right was reported making a movement to the south in such haste that food supplies were sold to the natives to relieve the transport. This now appears to have been a feint to induce Count Keller to mass his forces south toward Motien-Ling pass and weaken the position where Kuroki's fourth column has broken through. The Japanese strategy is thus seen to be equal to their fighting quality, Kuroki's objective having been secured with probably less than half the loss that would have been entailed by forcing a passage without first diverting the enemy.

By this movement Gen. Kuroki has outflanked Gen. Kuropatkin, and probably cut off his retreat, if he is forced backward by Gens. Oku and Nodzu, who were reported to be advancing again yesterday. In this case Gen. Kuropatkin has no choice but to fight where he is and make his stand between Taschichiao and Liao-Yang. There is every reason to believe the Japanese outnumber his forces by 50,000 men and that they are stronger in artillery by at least 300 guns. Under these circumstances the result can hardly be in doubt.

Investigating the Beef Trust.

Although the strikes among the employes of the beef packers have been arrested by an arbitration agreement, the conduct of the business is likely to remain under public consideration for some time to come. Special agents of the department of justice and of the department of commerce and labor are investigating the affairs of the so-called beef trust and eventually their discoveries will be laid before the public.

As long ago as last March President Roosevelt directed the attorney general to ascertain whether there was a combination among the beef packers in violation of the anti-trust law and Mr. Knox put special agents to work gathering information, with the result that several suits were brought and are now pending. In addition to the work being done by the department of justice the department of commerce and labor is making an extensive investigation of the whole business, from the time of shipment of cattle by owners until it is bought by packers, killed, dressed and put upon the market. To support this investigation with all needed authority President Roosevelt procured from congress passage of a joint resolution directing this investigation to be made and specifying its scope in detail. The object is to analyze the various elements of cost and to authoritatively set forth whether it is true, as claimed, that there is a combination which arbitrarily fixes the prices for the live cattle and the dressed meat. There is a popular impression that there is a beef trust which keeps the price of live cattle down to the lowest possible point at which supply can be obtained and fixes the price of dressed meat as high as the market will bear. When the agents of the department get through their work the entire situation is likely to be illuminated.

The policy of the government in these matters is characteristic of President Roosevelt. Little has appeared in regard to the matter, as it means business, and is not done for political effect. The results of the investigation may not come out until after the presidential campaign is over, but eventually the whole situation will be laid bare and public interests will be protected either by proceedings instituted by the department of justice, if existing laws cover the case, or if additional legislation is necessary congress will be asked to supply it.

Making a Slow Start.

Although the presidential campaign is supposed to date from the meeting of the national conventions much preliminary work still remains to be done before the campaign can be said to have begun. The Republican canvass is more advanced than the Democratic, as the chairman of the Democratic national committee is yet to be selected, but even on the Republican side many important matters are yet to be attended to before the campaign takes shape. Both parties have yet to nominate their state tickets in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island, and Democratic nominations are yet to be made in Indiana, Wisconsin and West Virginia. Many congressional nominations are also yet to be made, but these are of less importance than the state tickets, which will have an important bearing upon general results, especially in New York. The character of the state ticket in that state will be so important that ex-Secretary Root may yet be compelled to accept the Republican nomination.

The presidential campaign is complicated in a number of states by the prominence of taxation issues. Such issues have made a dangerous split in the Republican party of Wisconsin, seriously affecting Republican prospects in what on national issues alone could be counted as a sure state. Similar issues are distracting the party in Nebraska, West Virginia and Washington, although not specially dangerous. In fact, the Democratic party may suffer from them most, particularly in Nebraska, where there is a prospect of another fusion movement between the Democrats and Populists. While such a combination may suit Mr. Bryan's plans of party control, it will not be strong at the polls. The Nebraska farmers are enjoying too much prosperity to pay much attention to calamity howlers.

The prospect is that the noisy work of the campaign will be rather late starting, but meanwhile there will be an immense amount of active work quietly done. Records are being searched, campaign material is being collected, field surveys are being made and the data are being arranged upon which the campaign strategists will base their plans. The campaign will certainly be a hot one when it really starts.

Good Management.

In our news columns is a summary of the annual report of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for the fiscal year ended June 30. It is a statement that reflects infinite credit upon the management of that property. Despite the depression of more than six months past, the road earned more than $65,000,000 during the year, an increase of more than $1,000,000 over the preceding year. Its net earnings were over $12,305,000 and when $11,400,000 have been deducted for dividends and other charges there remains a surplus of almost $5,000,000.

This financial showing is the more significant when it is known that the company has been constantly improving the physical condition of its property and clearing away accounts that have become encumbrances. At the beginning of its new year the Baltimore & Ohio has a clear sheet and a fine balance in its treasury, while its earning capacity is fully 20 per cent greater than a year ago. The long and severe winter just past, increased the difficulties and expense of operation enormously and it is not at all probable there will be another like it this year or for some years to come.

It has been the policy of the Baltimore & Ohio during late years to build up its territory by favoring its patrons in every way possible. Its success in this direction is finely illustrated in West Virginia, where Pittsburgh business men were touring last week. Nowhere in the United States has there been a more remarkable development of wealth and resources than that of the past 15 years in that portion of West Virginia occupied by the network of Baltimore & Ohio lines. No mean part of that development may be credited to the policy of fair railroading exemplified by the Baltimore & Ohio throughout its territory.

The Democrats are trying to force either Gorman or Sheehan to take the chairmanship, believing that they would be better than Taggart at getting campaign contributions. They evidently believe that money will make the donkey go.

Democratic statisticians are now calling West Virginia a normally Democratic state and are putting up a wonderful argument to prove it. But the figures in November will show them where they are wrong.

Butler has a baseball team composed entirely of Chinamen. That settles it. When they begin to monopolize the national game we vote for exclusion every day.

No one will doubt the wisdom of Judge Parker if he decides to withhold his resignation from the bench until after the November election. He will need the job.

Farmer Davis had a real pleasant time with Farmer Parker and says he's a nice man. But the woods are full of nice men who will never be president.

New York Democrats threaten to send Augustus Thomas to congress. That would be a mistake. Playwrights are harder to find than congressmen.

The Prohibition party managers have raised $20,000 for a campaign fund. Must have gotten their tip on the price of drinking water from Father Pitt.

A Russian vessel torpedoed a British merchantman in the gulf of Pechili, and Russia promptly arises to announce that it was an accident.

Candidate Davis is said to have increased the Democratic campaign fund by a million dollars. Pretty high price for the honor of defeat.

President Roosevelt has congratulated a Pawtucket man on the birth of his twelfth child. He may prefer condolences.

Great joy was exhibited in the packing house district of Chicago over the settlement of the strike. Same here.

Mr. Folk succeeded in showing the Missouri Democratic bosses, but it was a fight worth going far to see.

Russian warships are better adapted to attack merchant ships than vessels in their own class.

"All these bolts," says Judge Parker, "And Bryan still in the party? Is there to be no relief?"

End of strike and cut in beef prices are not coincident. Must get even on losses, first.

Russia's plans to invade India depend largely on escaping alive from Manchuria.

The Cleveland literary bureau is almost as busy as the Bryan megaphone.

Taggart is waiting impatiently to hear Judge Parker shout, "Tag, you're it!"

Wednesday we wanted rain; Thursday we got it. Are we happy? Not yet.

Judge Parker is kept busy these days dodging political bolts.

The populace can now resume its daily beef stew.

Talked of in Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—"Let the clothes be loose and the baths many." Some philanthropist is mailing cards with this inscription to the thousands upon thousands of tenement dwellers here, the most simple prescription for comfort in the sweltering heat that now holds this city in its grasp. Truly it is old-fashioned enough, but then this is an old-fashioned summer. The statistical gentlemen of the weather bureau would have all believe that one year is much the same as any other in matters of heat and cold. But old New Yorkers know better. They can easily read the meaning of the wireless message that thrills them through the humid atmosphere and gives warning of many days of heat.

A little thought for others is undoubtedly also a better prescription than many cold drinks and the man who is sending out his hot weather hints to those who feel the heat's oppressiveness more than their more fortunate brethren of the Riverside drive has found a wise way to forget his own discomfort. Self pity and profanity are never more criminal than when used in combination to bring about wilted collars and congested temples, and you do not need to go to the East Side to see the limpid linen, or hear sulphuric epithets either. Broadway is full of it.

No Water Plank for Her.

On the inspection staff of Dr. Darlington, health commissioner, is a young lady whose disposition never knows a shadow just as her gown never shows a touch of grime in all her tourings in the tenements. An enthusiast for water, both internally and externally, she makes the uses of water the leading plank in her platform. At the Hoffman House Dr. Darlington said that this afternoon she was lecturing a small girl of the East Side upon the importance of bathing.

"My child, you should bathe at least once a week. It makes one good tempered. Look at me."

"Oh," replied the youngster glancing up naively, "perhaps you need it."

The Town That is Always There.

The "whiz" of the mechanical butterfly upon the soft sea breezes at Coney island spells Pittsburgh, for the contract for supplying these little metal advertising devices is held by a Steel City concern. William C. Rae, the secretary of the company that manufactures them, is registered at the Hotel Imperial. Tonight he said that 400,000 of the "flies" had been used by the island business concerns during the first month of the season and that the demand is constantly increasing.

City Merchants Booming Things.

It seems hardly worth while recording the fact that one can buy linen suits and silk shirt waist suits for a song these days. The shops do not seem to care what becomes of their profits as long as someone will come and take away the stock. One big store is selling linen suits for $4 and another is selling skirts for $2. Another shop is offering shirtwaists of Persian lawn with yokes of Mexican embroidery, hemstitching and lace insertion for the absurd price of 69 cents each. Cool and pretty gloves that do not look "cottony," like the ones the policemen wear, are to be had in one Broadway store for 29 cents a pair. They had been 60.

More Norge Survivors Arrive.

Forty-eight of those who were passengers on the steamship Norge when she sank recently off Rockall, Scotland, arrived in New York this morning on the Cunard liner Aurania. These passengers landed at Stornoway in two of the ship's open boats after having suffered untold hardships. All looked well, however, when they came ashore this morning. There were also aboard the Aurania 70 members of the Salvation Army returning from the congress held at London recently.

Push Carts Being Banished.

With a keno box that had been captured in a police raid ages ago, Commissioner Woodbury today permitted 800 peddlers to draw lots for spaces in the new push cart market under the Williamsburg bridge. The opening of this market inaugurates the crusade to abolish the push cart evil in greater New York. Three thousand men and women now hold licenses to peddle with carts upon the streets, and in the East Side the nuisance has become so great that the authorities were finally forced to take drastic steps to stamp out the nomadic merchants.

The drawing today almost resulted in a riot. Women shrieked and men cursed and pushed each other to get a chance to draw the little white ball from the shuffle of the keno, but finally all the 800 spaces were disposed of. Other markets are soon to be opened. Stands are to take the place of push carts and each stand will be inspected daily by the health board in order to insure cleanliness.

McAdoo to Have Motor Cycles.

Automobile scorching has become such a dangerous fad with the rich New Yorker and the effort of the police so ineffectual to stamp it out owing to the inability of McAdoo's "cops" to even catch a glimpse of the license number of the fleeing whiz wagons, that the board of aldermen has decided to adopt high speed motor cycles for the bicycle police corps. These will be capable of making 53 miles an hour. The trial machine was given to Policeman Ennis and in the few days that he operated it he made a record of 87 arrests and convictions for violating the speed limit. Ennis before he was mounted on the power machine was recognized as one of the speediest bicycle riders on the force. Commissioner McAdoo says the days of the reckless auto driver are numbered.

Pittsburgher Gone to Europe.

Dr. Lewis F. Cole of Pittsburgh, was a passenger on the Cunard liner Slavonia today, which called for Naples, Trieste and Fiume. A committee of the marine labor unions has presented a protest with the federal commission here, against the sailing of the steamship St. Louis, which reached port several days ago in a disabled condition. They make the plea that the vessel is unseaworthy, but it is said their real object is to prevent the vessel being repaired in some foreign port. The officials of the American line which owns the steamship in question, say the vessel is perfectly seaworthy and that she can make a trip to Ireland, where it is intended to have her repaired, without the least hazard.

Sun Man Is Certainly an Artist.

The New York Sun, in a scathing editorial article, refers to Bryan and Hill as "a couple of sea lawyers," as "Jonahs hurled overboard" from "the good ship Democracy" and as "scapegoats bearing into the wilderness the load of blunders and of folly they had heaped upon the Democratic party." That's "a picture no artist could paint."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"More rain, more rest."

This was the way the boy sized up brickle harvest weather.

Yesterday was a typical rainy day in harvest, and while it didn't suit the farmer-man it was just to the liking of the farmer boy.

After two or three fine, hot harvest days a boy feels sort o' tuckered out, and needs a rest. But he doesn't always get it, even if it does rain, for there is more or less clearing up around the barn, together with odd jobs here and there.

Of course no boy would think of working out of doors yesterday, for he might get pneumonia, or ear ache, or something awful; but just for paddling around in mud and wet grass it was first class. And between showers it would have been all right for going swimming. And as for fishing it would have been all right, too, for sunfish or catfish, but for chubs and perch it wasn't just tha' thing.

Taking all in all, the boy gets a pretty fair show in harvest times, unless the weather happens to be continuously fair and warm.

* * * * *

As a rule, however, the boy is not as much given to faultfinding as the man, and when he does take a grumbling spell it isn't for long, and his troubles are soon forgotten.

Men understand that it is the making of a boy to keep him well employed, but you can't get that sort of philosophy through a boy's hair, so to speak. He goes by his feelings rather than by reason and judgment, so that if he feels that he isn't getting a fair show it is just the same to him as if he knew it and could demonstrate it mathematically.

It is all right to make a boy feel comfortable; and yet it is most important that he be made to feel that he must do whatsoever comes to his hand, even if he doesn't feel anxious or willing to do it.

A balky boy is quite apt to grow up to be a balky man; and a balky man, like a balky horse, isn't of much use.

And then there is the balky woman—

But let her pass for the present, there not being room enough left here to treat her fairly, much less to do her justice. When she balks—well, she balks, and that is all there is about it.

* * * * *

With such fine harvests, good markets, and plenty of everything that a reasonable man could ask for, you hear a lot of grumbling and growling, with many references to the good old times.

Wonder if these fellows know anything about the times of which they speak? The chances are that they wouldn't recognize them were they to come marching along on a return trip.

It was in reply to just such grumblers that an old-timer turned in and wrote a letter which has been widely circulated. To the farmer and laborer he says: "Stop your kicking, for you are both better off now than 40 years ago."

And he has a perfect right to be heard, because he is four-score, and most of those years he spent on the farm and among laborers. His name is J. W. Cooper, and his present address is Santa Barbara, Cal. He used to live in the states, and is well booked on the farming business.

A few excerpts from Mr. Cooper's circular letter will do no harm, and maybe a lot of good.

* * * * *

"Why is there so much discontent and grumbling among the people of this country today?" he asks. "For the life of me I can see no good and sufficient reason for it. We are constantly hearing it said, but never more than half proved, that 'the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer;' that the capitalist is robbing the wagearner; and 40 other calamity howls of the same sort. I hold that the condition of the poor as well as of the rich has been steadily growing better, and I am going to state facts to prove it. The proposition that the rich are all dishonest and the poor all righteous, I deny. The rich man can afford to be honest, while in too many cases the poor man don't think he can; but I say that no man is so poor that he can afford to be dishonest.

"There are several causes, but little excuse, for all the complaining we hear. The first is that the Americans are a badly spoiled people, spoiled by a prosperity that has made them the envy of all other nations of people on earth. Prosperity has led to extravagance and idleness, and from that to failure and envy. They say, 'look how millionaires have increased in the last 40 years.' I admit it; but the same increase holds good with the three-quarter millionaire, the half-millionaire, the hundred-thousand-dollar man, and so on down to the well-to-do laborer and farmer. The advance in wealth takes in all classes except the idle, the dissolute, and in rare cases the unfortunate.

"You can see this if you compare the wages and prices of today with those of 40 years ago. You could hire a good common laborer then for 15 to 20 cents a day. I have known good farm hands to hire by the year for $60 and board. At that time every parent had to pay for his children's schooling, and you could hire a teacher—the best they had then—for $15 a month and board him around among his patrons. Now, any kind of a teacher gets $50 to $60, and any kind of a hired hand $15 and board. That is all right. I like to see the laborer get good pay, and I don't believe there is any man living who has more sympathy for the poor laboring man than I, for no man ever started in life poorer than I did.

"I began without a dime in my pocket. My first job was harvesting and threshing out grain with horses for 20 cents a day and boarded myself, except that my employer gave me a lunch. There was no farm machinery then and grain had to be tramped out with horses.

"How is it now? The harvest hand gets from $1.50 to $2.50 per day, and owing to the rapid work of the reaping and threshing machines the farmer gets more out of it than he did then. Both the farmer and his hand educate their children, if they have any, at the public expense.

"I deny that the men who prosper in this world are more dishonest as a class than those who fail or remain poor. While some acquire wealth by disreputable means, they are not as numerous as those who fail through extravagance or reckless management. The general tide of prosperity that has deluged this country since I was a boy and worked for 20 cents a day, has spoilt thousands of people and created a desire to live beyond their means.

"We are all getting more extravagant and reckless. We want to get money to spend and make a show with, and we do it with a vengeance; and then we get swamped and go to abusing the banker or capitalist who loaned us the money and had to foreclose on our homes to save himself from loss.

"Another cause that is responsible for this state of things is the abuse of the credit system. Forty or 50 years ago a man with a home and land worth $5,000 would not think of going in debt for more than $250, and then he would be uneasy until it was paid off.

"How is it now? A man worth the same amount will not hesitate to mortgage it for any sum from $2,000 to its full value. Then the next thing you know, both principal and interest are overdue, the property is foreclosed on, and the debtor joins the calamity howlers and puts in his time denouncing his more cautious and thrifty neighbor who has kept his home out of the clutch of the money-lenders.

"But to show that times are not harder with the laborer or the farmer than they were 40 and 50 years ago, let me quote a few prices. A suit of men's clothes that you get now for $15 or $20 would then have cost you $40. The common wooden bucket that you buy for 25 cents, then cost you a dollar. Any kind of tinware then cost from three to four times as much as it does now. Guns, shot, lead, rope, everything that was made abroad or imported, cost from two to four times what they do now. Common brown sugar was worth from 12 to 18 cents a pound, tea twice what it is now, and coffee so dear that I have many a time browned barley or wheat and mixed it, two-thirds barley or wheat and one-third coffee. Tea, coffee and sugar were then considered luxuries, now they are considered necessaries. Nails, I remember, were 10 cents a pound. You could not get any kind of calico for less than 14 cents a yard. These are only a few samples. The same fall in prices will hold true of everything the people have to buy except farm produce."

Tobie Goes Abroad

THE STROLLER.

The aggressive manner in which Pittsburgh is building up its trade is well illustrated in the stogie or "tobie" business. In Pittsburgh Wheeling and the iron district generally, nearly all of the stogie production of the United States is to be found, and for a long time the use of the favorite low-priced smoke was restricted to almost as narrow a belt.

It has been a common complaint of the Pittsburgher away from home that he could not find his nicotine in the stogie form to which he was accustomed when on his native heath. It is different now. One can find the Pittsburgh and Wheeling stogie in nearly all of the railroad station tobacco stands and in the leading cigar stores everywhere in the United States. The prices, however, are higher. There is a popular Wheeling brand which retails at two for five cents. It's three for 10 at these stands, but the pleasure of finding the accustomed smoke compensates for the extra cost over that of the article as sold at home.

A Pittsburgher who has recently returned from a tour through the Yellowstone park tells of even bigger prices. He had just bought six five-cent cigars for a quarter when he saw in a corner of the stand the box that holds his favorite stogis. On his request they were produced and proved to be the real article.

"Here take these cigars. I'll take stogies instead," said the traveler. "What do they sell at?"

"Three for a quarter," said the cigar man.

But the stogies were taken nevertheless.

The Man That Looks Like You.

Standing in a local drug store the other day the Stroller saw the entrance of a gentleman whose face was strangely familiar. For the moment he could not place him, but for fear of making a mistake bowed pleasantly. Suddenly he saw his error, and going up to the stranger said:

"I beg your pardon, but I spoke to you through error. Do you know that you are a dead ringer for Lawrence D'Orsay?"

"I'm forced to admit it," replied the stranger. I've been greeted a score of times as D'Orsay, and have even been called 'The Earl.' It has come to be rather a nuisance to look like some one else, and I've threatened several times to doff my mustache."

The gentleman who looks like D'Orsay is a drug salesman, and the only discrepancy in his resemblance to the actor is his size. D'Orsay is a six footer and the drug man is several inches below that figure. Otherwise they are as like as two peas, barring the English accent and mannerisms. D'Orsay has them all, while the drug man has lived in America long enough to have lost some of them.

A Midnight Marauder.

Standing on Fifth avenue about midnight recently, I saw several men running across the street toward a certain jewelry store. Jumping to the conclusion that a robbery was being committed I followed the crowd, and at the door saw a perspiring policeman mopping his brow. Inside the store was a gentleman who seemed perfectly at home, and the policeman was explaining to the gathered crowd that there was no cause for excitement. As the crowd cleared away I joined the officer in his walk along his beat.

"That fellow will be the death of me yet," declared the policeman. "He drops into his store for some reason or other at all hours of the night, and usually I get a glimpse of him when I am about a square away. I dare not take chances, and I always make a run for the door to see that it really is the proprietor. If I were slow and he were to get behind some obstruction in the store I would not be sure but that a burglar was operating in the place.

"And he is only one of many business men who do that sort of thing. It puts Mr. Copper up against a pretty hard game, for if he takes a chance and the wrong man is in the store he is called down for not attending to business. I have told this particular man a dozen times about this, but he only laughs at me. Some morning he is liable to come down to his place of business and find that the laugh is on him. Especially so, if some one enters the store when I am on some other section of my beat."

How would you like to get a letter addressed that way? A big commission house here had the pleasure of receiving one with the above "inscription" this week. The firm's name was not on the envelope, although everything else but the name of the firm was copied from the top of a bill which had been sent to the man who wrote the letter.

The writer enclosed a money order for $31 and had it not been for the street number on the envelope the letter could not have been delivered. Apparently the customer had some grave suspicion that postoffice employes were untrustworthy. Besides guarding against putting the name of the well-known firm on the envelope, the writer furnished himself with what he thought still more protection by placing the stamp on the back of the envelope in a way that made the letter hard to open.

The firm has not yet solved the mystery and is undecided as to whether the letter was prompted by some suspicious feeling about United States mail or by no other motive aside from that of extraordinary business diligence. At all events, the epistle is considered a curiosity, and has been stored away as such.

FABLES FROM THE NEWS.

A Large Party was sitting on the banks of the Bay silently watching his Cork, when his thoughts were interrupted by a large Fish pulling strongly on the line. In an instant Everything else was Forgotten in the struggle with the Game.

"That's the Way it goes," said the Large Party to Himself after he had landed the Fish. "Just as I am thinking up some Bright Thoughts to save the Nation, someone Butts in. If it doesn't happen to be a Loud Voice from the West, it's sure to be the necessity of attending to the Fishing. If it were not for those Two Things, I am sure I could elect My Candidate."

But the Large Party calmly baited his Hook and resumed his Fishing, apparently believing it Wise to do those Things one can do Best.

BRYAN READY TO REFORM PARTY

Unloads His Stock of Redemptive Measures Upon Waiting Public.

BUT HE SHOUTS FOR PARKER

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LINCOLN, NEB., July 21.—W. J. Bryan today gave publicity to his plans for reforming the Democratic party. Having temporarily been eased of the burden of championing the cause of free silver, he intimates he is now at liberty to accept engagements for assuming the role of reformer himself. His announcement includes a number of radical suggestions in the reformatory line, but he insists that by electing Judge Parker for president a good beginning will be made. He declares for state ownership of railroads, government control of telegraphs, the abolishment of private monopoly, the institution of an income tax and election of federal judges by the people. Mr. Bryan says in part:

"My selection as standard-bearer of the Democratic party in 1896, and again in 1900, made me the nominal leader of that party, and as such I did not feel at liberty to engraft new doctrines upon the party creed. I contented myself with the defense of those principles and policies which were embodied in the platform. Now that the leadership devolves upon another, and I bear only the responsibility that each citizen must bear, namely, the responsibility for my own opinions, my utterances and my conduct, I am free to undertake a work which until now I have avoided, namely, the work of organizing the radical and progressive element in the Democratic party.

Can't Forsake His Ideal.

"The money question for the present is in abeyance. The production has lessened the strain upon the dollar, and while bimetalism is as sound in theory as it ever was, the necessity for it is not so apparent. But while the people cannot be brought at this time to consider the various phases of the money question, they can be brought to consider certain other questions with which the Democratic party must deal.

"I have heretofore refused to take a position upon the question of government ownership of railroads, first, because I had not until recently studied the subject, and second, because the question had not been reached. Recent events have convinced me that the time is now ripe for the presentation of this question. Consolidation after consolidation has taken place until a few men now control the railroad traffic of the nation. I invite the Democrats, therefore, to consider the plan for government ownership and operation of the railroads.

Favors State Ownership.

"The plan usually suggested is for the purchase of these roads by the federal government. This plan, it seems to me, is more objectionable than a plan which involves the ownership and operation of these roads by the several states. To put the railroad in the hands of the federal government would mean an enormous centralization of power. It would give to the federal government a largely increased influence over the citizen and the citizen's affairs, and such centralization is not at all necessary.

"The several states can own and operate the railroads within their borders just as effectively as it can be done by the federal government, and if it is done by the states, the objection based upon the fear of centralization is entirely answered. A board composed of representatives from the various states could deal with the joint traffic of the various lines. If the federal government had the railroads to build there would be a constant warring between different sections to secure a fair share of the new building and development, but where this is left to the state, the people in each state can decide what railroads they desire to build up or to buy.

On Municipal Franchises.

"While the Democratic party in the nation is advocating the government ownership of railroads, the Democratic party in the cities should upon the same theory espouse the cause of municipal ownership of municipal franchises. We have also reached a time when the postoffice department should embrace a telegraph system as well as a mail system. The telegraph lines do not reach as many people as the railroads do, and while the abuses to private ownership have not been so open and notorious, yet there is no reason why this nation should not do what other nations are doing in this respect. The private monopoly must be destroyed.

Wants Income Tax.

"The Democratic party has in two campaigns stood for an income tax. The plank was omitted this year because the men in control of the party thought it would jeopardize success in the eastern states. The objection may weigh when the appeal is made to a particular section and to the wealthy men of that section, but it cannot have weight when the party goes forth, as it must ultimately do, to appeal to the masses.

"The contest above outlined must be made whether the party wins in November or not. A single election is but an incident in the life of a party. For more than a century the Democratic party has stood forth as the representative of certain great ideas. Jefferson founded it, Jackson defended it and even Cleveland could not destroy it. If Mr. Parker is elected, his administration will rid us of imperialism and of the threat of a race issue, and give us greater freedom in the taking up of economic questions."

MUDDLED OVER CHAIRMANSHIP

Kern Refuses to Permit Taggart to Be Crowded Out by an Eastern Man.

STILL SOME HOPE FOR GORMAN

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, July 21.

Both William F. Sheehan and State Committeeman Norman E. Mack of Buffalo, said today that the question of the Democratic national chairmanship was still just where it was several days ago. Nothing has been settled positively. The eastern Democrats and former Senator Davis have not given up hope that Senator Gorman might yet be prevailed upon to take the chairmanship. Thomas Taggart of Indiana, is still an active candidate for the place, and it is not improbable that he will be elected if Senator Gorman persists in his refusal.

Taggart today had a consultation with John W. Kern. He still refuses to discuss the subject of national chairman, but nothing has yet occurred to alter his determination to stand for the place if the committee is of the same mind next Tuesday that it was when it assembled in St. Louis the day after the convention adjourned. Mr. Kern is just as determined as ever to insist upon Taggart being selected, and is still talking about the importance of the west in connection with the campaign. He asserts that Taggart knows the conditions in that section better than any other man suggested for the place, and says that if it is desirable to have men connected with the committee who are in close touch with the financial interests an executive committee may be chosen to have the management of the campaign in the three eastern states which are considered necessary for Democratic success. He expresses confidence that the indorsement which was given Taggart at St. Louis will not be reversed, and says that so far nothing has occurred to show why that action should not be indorsed by choosing Taggart for chairman.

Mr. Taggart is not going to Esopus, although it has been suggested to him that he should visit Judge Parker. A special invitation from Judge Parker would alter his determination, but that is not looked for.

August Belmont settled all talk about himself in connection with the national chairmanship today by telling his friends that he would not be considered for the place. It is understood that Mr. Belmont favors Taggart for chairman.

Unless Taggart should voluntarily withdraw it is not believed that Senator Gorman would allow his name to be used and perhaps not even in that contingency.

BUT ONE VISITOR AT PARKER'S HOME

Quietest Day at Rosemount Since the Judge Was Nominated for President.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 21.—This has been the quietest day at Rosemount since Judge Parker's nomination. The only guest was Henry Loomis Nelson of Williams college, who remained a short time.

William F. Sheehan's promised visit has been deferred until tomorrow, although after his arrival from New York this evening on the same train with Mrs. Parker and her sister, Miss Schoonmaker, he found time for a 15-minute talk with Judge Parker. But little could be learned from Mr. Sheehan in relation to the Democratic conferences in New York about the Tammany hall situation or the chairmanship of the national committee. He said, however, that no result is likely to be reached in the chairmanship contest before the meeting of the national committee in New York next Tuesday. He did not know, he said, what would be the final decision of Senator Gorman should pressure be put upon him to accept the chairmanship.

With regard to the frequently made statement that an invitation to visit Rosemount had been received and ignored by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, it is learned that the report was based upon a remark made by Bourke Cockran during his recent call upon Judge Parker. Mr. Cockran is said to have suggested such a visit by the Tammany leader, and Judge Parker said he would be very glad to welcome Mr. Murphy to Rosemount whenever Mr. Murphy could find it convenient to come.

It is said that W. R. Hearst has been invited to Rosemount, but no date has been fixed for his call.

TOOK FRIENDS' JEWELRY.

E. J. Flann Spent Baseball Players' Money and Pawned Their Watches.

Detective Cole arrested E. J. Flann of Penn avenue last night for taking $50 and three watches which he was given to hold by three friends last week while they were playing baseball in the Bedford avenue basin. The men were members of the National Transit Company baseball team and gave Flann their valuables to hold. During the excitement of the game Flann disappeared.

The matter was reported to the detective bureau when Flann could not be found. Detective Cole found Flann had pledged two watches at a pawn shop at Eleventh street and Penn avenue and learned he had been spending considerable money in a saloon at Thirty-first street and Penn avenue. The officer went to the saloon last night and found Flann there drinking. The third watch was found on him, but the $50 had been spent.

GERMANS TO DEDICATE HALL AT NORTH BRADDOCK

The new hall of District No. 63, German Beneficial union of North Braddock, will be dedicated this evening. The hall is in Brinton avenue and cost about $7,000. The large old frame structure has been made a part of the new building. There will be a parade of the members of the union, with a delegation of several hundred from the Braddock borough union. The three hose companies of the North Braddock volunteer fire department will turn out in a body.

Foreigner Robbed in a Tunnel.

Stephen Fulurlski, a Pole, was walking through the Undercliff tunnel on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad early yesterday morning with two foreigners. When they got in the middle of the tunnel his companions turned on him, robbed him of $14, a watch and several small articles, and then took his shoes so that he could not follow them. He says he can identify the robbers.

MISSOURI DEMOCRATS COOLED OFF AT FINISH

Nominated State Ticket Headed by Folk and Declared Against Boodling.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., July 21.—The Democratic state convention adjourned late this afternoon after nominating the following ticket: Governor, Joseph W. Folk, St. Louis; lieutenant governor, Thomas L. Rubey, La Platta; secretary of state, Samuel B. Cook, Mexico; auditor of state, Albert O. Allen, New Madrid; treasurer of state, Judge James Cowgill, Kansas City; attorney general, Elliott W. Major, Bowling Green; railroad and warehouse commissioner, H. Rubey Oglesby, Warrensburg.

Before the convention had assembled for its opening session the atmosphere was full of rumors of discord and probable bolts, and a bitter fight on the floor of the convention. While there was little uncertainty as to the nominee for governor, there was much talk about an attempt that would likely be made to defeat Samuel B. Cook for renomination for secretary of state on the ground that he could not be upheld by the platform that was to be adopted. Secret meetings of delegates who were instructed for him, but were antagonistic to him and desired to withdraw from his support, were held and plans were laid to accomplish his defeat, but when the test of strength came Cook was nominated on the first ballot.

A determined fight against bribery and the corruption of officials throughout the state was the keynote of the convention and the platform adopted stands for the stamping out of boodling and the prosecution of corruptionists.

State Senator Thomas L. Rubey was nominated by acclamation for lieutenant governor. All the other nominations, except that of railroad and warehouse commissioner were made on the first ballot. That of secretary of state was made unanimous after the announcement of the result of the ballot. The contest for railroad and warehouse commissioner was spirited and required three ballots before the nomination was decided.

Judge W. N. Evans of Howell county was elected chairman of the state central committee and Judge Robert H. Kern of Macon and Col. Moses C. Wetmore of St. Louis were chosen for presidential electors.

BEAVERS MAKES FIGHT TO STAY IN NEW YORK

Former Postoffice Department Official Protests Against Trial at Washington.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—The fight to prevent the removal to Washington of George W. Beavers, the former head of the division of salaries and allowances of the postoffice department, was renewed today before Judge Thomas in the United States district court, Brooklyn, when application was made to the court for a formal order to remove Beavers. Lawyers William L. Seabury and Max D. Steuer, who represented Beavers, were on hand early, prepared to oppose the granting of the order. They sought to forestall the peremptory removal of Beavers by obtaining from Judge Thomas a writ of habeas corpus.

The writ which was directed to the United States marshal, was made returnable at the hearing this morning. It alleged that the marshal was illegally holding Beavers. Lawyer Steuer, who argued in favor of the writ and against the removal order, contended that Beavers having been taken from the southern district to the eastern district, on order of removal, could not be removed again, on a second order to another district.

Judge Thomas reserved his decision and directed the lawyers to hand up briefs by August 1. Lawyer Steuer informed the court that in his brief he would attack the validity of the Washington indictment and point out the defects that appear upon the face of it.

MINERS ARE PLEASED WITH THE PRESIDENT

Reception at Oyster Bay Proved Mistake Made in Reports of Previous Visit.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 21.—Thoroughly satisfied with their visit to President Roosevelt and his reception of the committee representing the 225,000 workers of this district, the members have returned home and will report to the central labor union next Sunday. Hon. M. T. Burke, the chairman of the committee, said:

"President Roosevelt appeared delighted to receive us, and was quite indignant over the conduct of the clerk, not Secretary Loeb, who received our credentials on our first visit, but failed to report our presence to the president, who was in conference. Had this blunder not occurred we could have seen Mr. Roosevelt on our first visit. The president alluded to the fact that he was an honorary member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and that it would be a strange thing if a hearing was denied to any labor organization's representative.

"We were assured by President Roosevelt that he would make a careful investigation and would leave nothing undone to acquaint himself with the conditions in Colorado. He emphasized the fact that his course was hedged about by the law, but that he would adopt methods of his own that would bring about the facts, independently of the investigation in process by the department of commerce and labor."

During the half-hour meeting President Roosevelt indicated that he was actuated in the coal strike by public sentiment and that he had already been visited by citizens from Colorado and by a well known resident of this section, who was conspicuous in the negotiations for the anthracite coal strike settlement.

JOSEPH LEITER CHARGED WITH BLOCKADING MAILS

Government Will Investigate Alleged Barricade Around an Illinois Postoffice.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Acting on complaints received today from Zeigler, Ill., Acting Postmaster General Wynne directed an investigation to be made into the alleged barricading of the postoffice there by Joseph Leiter.

The complaints received were to the effect that the postal service has been practically suspended at Zeigler because the postoffice is situated on the property of Joseph Leiter, and no one is allowed inside the stockade he has built about it. This state of affairs is the result of a strike among the miners employed in the Leiter mines, and Mr. Leiter is said to have erected the stockade and adopted the precautions referred to so as to protect his property.

It is said at the department that if it develops that Mr. Leiter is interfering with the proper passage of the United States mails he will have to suffer the consequences, but if it is simply found that the postoffice is on his property and access to it is denied for good and sufficient reason the postoffice will either be discontinued or moved to a more convenient locality.

It is the belief of the officials in charge that the latter course will be adopted, but nothing will be done until a thorough investigation of the matter has been made.

PITTSBURGHERS TO CONNECT CARNEGIE AND CANONSBURG

WASHINGTON, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—The possibility of Wheeling being connected with Pittsburgh by trolley is growing brighter. Attorney H. M. Young women may avoid much sickness and pain, says Miss Alma Pratt, if they will only have faith in the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I feel it my duty to tell all young women how much Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was completely run down, unable to attend school, and did not care for any kind of society, but now I feel like a new person, and have gained seven pounds of flesh in three months.

"I recommend it to all young women who suffer from female weakness."—Miss Alma Pratt, Holly, Mich.

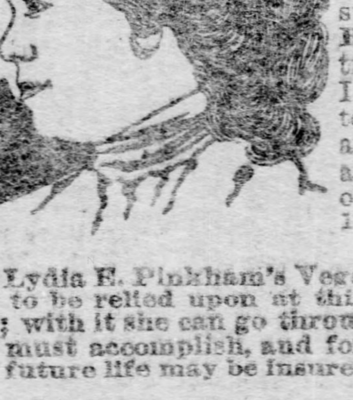
FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO YOUNG GIRLS.

All young girls at this period of life are earnestly invited to write Mrs. Pinkham for advice; she has guided in a motherly way hundreds of young women; her advice is freely and cheerfully given, and her address is Lynn, Mass.

Judging from the letters she is receiving from so many young girls Mrs. Pinkham believes that our girls are often pushed altogether too near the limit of their endurance nowadays in our public schools and seminaries.

Nothing is allowed to interfere with studies, the girl must be pushed to the front and graduated with honor; often physical collapse follows, and it takes years to recover the lost vitality,—often it is never recovered.

A Young Chicago Girl Saved from Despair.



"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish to thank you for the help and benefit I have received through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. When I was about seventeen years old I suddenly seemed to lose my usual good health and vitality. Father said I studied too hard, but the doctor thought different and prescribed tonics, which I took by the quart without relief. Reading one day in the paper of Mrs. Pinkham's great cures, and finding the symptoms described answered mine, I decided I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. I did not say a word to the doctor; I bought it myself, and took it according to directions regularly for two months, and I found that I gradually improved, and that all pains left me, and I was my old self once more.—Lillie E. Sinclair, 17 E. 22d St., Chicago Ill."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one sure remedy to be relied upon at this important period in a young girl's life; with it she can go through with courage and safety the work she must accomplish, and fortify her physical well being so that her future life may be insured against sickness and suffering.

GLASS WORKERS WILL HOLD OFF

Postpone Work for a Month in Order to Help Manufacturers.

NAME WAGE COMMITTEE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., July 21.—The most important convention of glass workers held in recent years closed tonight. The glass workers have settled their factional differences and their future is very bright. Just before adjournment President Phillips was presented with a handsome Masonic charm set in rubies and diamonds.

As Cleveland has been selected as the permanent headquarters of the Amalgamated Window Glass Workers of America the conventions of the organization will be held in June. At today's sessions the following were elected members of the cutters' committee:

A. G. Van Cook of Morgantown, W. Va., and F. C. Westcoat of Eaton, Ind. The following were elected from the different organizations to serve on the wage committee:

Cutters, B. C. Hoying of Arcadia, Ind., and H. Hudson of Millville, N. J.; flatteners, Conrad Hines of Mt. Jewett, Pa., and Charles Dunn of Cleveland; blowers, John Fees of Kane, Pa., and W. H. Iteitz of Barnesville, O.; gatherers, W. Jones of Morgantown, W. Va., and W. Garrigan of Pittsburgh. This wage committee is one of the most important committees of the convention and will have the power to execute the new wage contract for the men. It will meet a committee from the manufacturers in August and fix the new wage scale for the ensuing year. The wage committee will probably ask for an advance in wages all along the line.

In the future all of the money which comes into the local treasuries will be turned over to the national body. This will result in the national body having a large sum on hand to carry on the new organization and assist the affiliated organizations in time of strike or lockout.

As a result of a resolution adopted today the men will not go to work this year until October 1 instead of September 1, as has been the custom heretofore. It is expected that no new glass will be produced before October 15. The purpose is to give the manufacturers an opportunity to dispose of all old stock on hand and incidentally to stiffen prices. It is understood that this action was taken with the sanction of the window glass manufacturers who are now in session at Put-in-Bay.

MARIETTA, O., July 21.—The tenth day of the American Flint Glass Workers' convention did little but receive reports from committee. Tonight a joint meeting of glass workers and the Marietta board of trade was held with a view of rebuilding the large press ware factory which burned last December in this city.

READING VOTING TRUST IS TO BE DISSOLVED

Payment of Dividend in September Marks the Completion of Its Work.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—The early dissolution of the voting trusteeship of the Reading company, following the payment of the semi-annual dividend on the first preferred stock on September 10, is an assured fact. The payment of that dividend marks the fulfillment of the conditions under which the voting trust can be dissolved, namely: The payment for two consecutive years of the full 4 per cent dividend on the first preferred stock. While no official information concerning the dissolution has been forthcoming, preparations to that end are now being made.

The present trusteeship was created in 1896. The voting trustees comprise J. P. Morgan and F. P. Olcott, of New York, and C. W. S. Packard of this city. Under the agreement creating the voting trust it was provided that the stock should be under the control of the trustees for voting purposes for a period of five years, or until a dividend of 4 per cent has been paid upon the first preferred stock for two consecutive years.

Dr. George I. McLeod and Cadwalader Biddle of Philadelphia, members of the state board of charities, arrived in Pittsburgh last evening and stopped at the Hotel Schenley. They are on an annual inspection trip of hospitals, penitentiaries and such institutions, and will be here about 10 days. They will visit Dixmont today. Francis J. Torrance and Dr. C. B. King of Allegheny will join the visitors and the four will make inspections together in this district.

"The tragic fate of Kent Loomis is still a sad topic among the people of Parkersburg," said John Algeo of that place last night. He spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business, and before leaving made the above remark and continued: "The interest felt in him by the people of our community was not of the ordinary sort, for the reason that he was known by everybody and was universally popular. He had a way of making himself liked in all circles, and the news of his mysterious death came as a shock to hundreds. It may be said, moreover, in this connection, that few of the people of Parkersburg take much stock in the theory that he met death by accident. There are circumstances connected with the case that naturally give rise to suspicion, and although the mystery may never be solved, enough is known to warrant the belief that this bright and promising young man was a victim of foul play."

"There is not much of a negro problem in our state," remarked Peter J. Connolly of North Carolina last night, when seen at the Union station on his way to Washington. "It is a matter that scarcely admits argument that this fortunate racial condition has come about largely through the elimination of the negro as a political factor. Coincident with the disappearance of the colored voters has been the cessation of a class of outrages that provoked resort to lynch law. It may not be a case of cause and effect, and yet people of a philosophical turn of mind will trace a connection that is more than accidental."

William T. Lechlider, assistant general superintendent of transportation of the B. & O., left last night for his headquarters in Baltimore after spending yesterday in Pittsburgh looking after matters pertaining to the company.

W. M. Osborne, vice president of the Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad and Ohio Coal Company and president of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company, returned home last night from a business trip to Cleveland.

Henry Long, the Pittsburgh broker, left last night for Atlantic City.

E. B. Taylor, assistant to President Joseph Ramsey of the Wabash railroad, spent yesterday in Pittsburgh on business.

B. W. Duer, superintendent of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio, returned last evening from an inspection of the trackage under his jurisdiction.

BIG CONTRACT FOR ALLIS-CHALMERS

Award Made by Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Edison Companies.

INVOLVES IMMENSE EQUIPMENT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, July 21.

The Allis-Chalmers company, which concern has been making preparations for some time past to enter the electrical field on an extensive scale in opposition to the Westinghouse and General Electric interests, and has enlisted the services of a former Westinghouse vice president, chief engineer, superintendent of shops and manager of sales, has just secured the largest contract ever awarded for turbo-generating sets. Nearly 100,000 horse power of equipment is involved in the contract, which will represent an expenditure exceeding $2,000,000.

There will be six turbines of 5,500 kilowatt capacity each directly connected to 25 cycle, 750 r. p. m., three-phase alternating generators of similar size. The latter machine will be wound to give either 6,600 or 11,000 volts.

The contract was awarded by Thomas E. Murray, who acts as consulting engineer of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, the New York Edison Company and other companies in which Anthony N. Brady is a dominant factor.

One of the sets will be installed in a new power station which the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company is building at Kent and Division avenues, Brooklyn. This plant will have an ultimate capacity of almost 100,000 horse power. A 5,500 kilowatt Westinghouse-Parsons turbo-generator was recently ordered for the same station. Eventually 10 turbines will be put in.

The largest turbine contract hitherto placed was lately secured by the Westinghouse Company. It calls for three 5,500 kilowatt units which will serve as equipment for the new Long Island City power station of the Pennsylvania railroad. The next biggest contract was taken by the General Electric Company for three Curtis turbines of 5,000 kilowatt capacity for the Commonwealth Electric Company's plant at South Chicago.

ELKS HAVE ABOLISHED THEIR GRIP AND SIGN

Grievance Against Norristown Lodge Comes Up for the Third Time.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 21.—The members of the grand lodge were in session all day and again tonight. The recommendation of Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning abolishing the grip and sign was adopted. The committee on ritual was directed to prepare a new edition for exemplification at the Buffalo lodge next July.

Capt. Champ S. Andrews, exalted ruler of New York, was appointed by Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning as a member of the board of governors of the Elks' national home, near Richmond, Va., to serve the two years of the unexpired term of the late M. D. Detwiler. Grand Exalted Ruler O'Brien will have the appointing of a member of the same board for a full term.

No result was reached on the question of smaller dues for the towns than for the cities. The grievance committee reported 26 cases, among them being the well-known charges against Norristown, Pa., for alleged violation of the law. The Norristown case has been continued for three successive years and is still unsettled.

The feature today was the session of sorrow in memory of Past Grand Exalted Ruler Meade D. Detwiler, who was at the time of his death chairman of the board of governors of the national home for Elks, near Richmond, Va. Mr. Detwiler's favorite hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Lead, Kindly Light," were sung by Thomas F. McNulty. Among those who delivered addresses were Past Grand Exalted Rulers Fanning and Rickett, Judge Fisher of New York and Judge Melvin of California, after which resolutions were adopted.

At a mid-day barbecue at Oakley race track over 20,000 pounds of beef was served and burgoo was made in several kettles holding 800 gallons each.

The date for the meeting of the grand lodge next year at Buffalo was fixed for July 10, when a new system of voting for officers will be proposed, so as not to protract the election through two days as was the case here this week.

Twenty-five Elks from various lodges were expelled.

STEAM-FITTERS' UNION REFUSED AFFILIATION

Iron City Central Trades' Council Turns Down Credentials of New Organization.

E. A. Maginn, business agent of the local union No. 218, International Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters, gained a victory for his union last night when he succeeded in inducing the Iron City Central Trades council to refuse to recognize the dual organization which is affiliated with the United Association of Plumbers. This action means the new organization cannot affiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

The steam fitters of Pittsburgh have been at variance ever since the plumbers' strike last fall. The steamfitters refused to take part in the controversy and continued work, fulfilling their agreement with the contractors. Because they refused to strike, a dual organization was formed as a branch of the local plumbers' organization. The parent organization left the United Association of Plumbers and affiliated with the International Association of Steam and Hot Water Fitters and Helpers of the United States and Canada.

The plumbers' organization, being affiliated with the A. F. of L., gained a seat in the Iron City, and last night the new organization made an attempt to present its credentials. As there was one steam fitters union in the council and it is against the constitution to permit a dual union, the credentials were turned down.

WANTED EASY MONEY.

Two Persons Arrested on South Side as Suspicious Persons.

Two prisoners sent to the Twenty-eighth ward police station yesterday as suspicious persons are alleged to have attempted to make money without much work. Jacob Muskovitz, a peddler, of 21 Stevenson street, was arrested for an alleged attempt to "short-change" Mrs. Mary Walerska of 39 Enon alley. She bought some vegetables, and in returning the change Muskovitz is said to have been very short. A policeman settled the matter by arresting him.

Owen Davis, 12 years old, of South Tenth street, was picked up at the store of John Wachter, 919 Carson street. He purchased some goods and is alleged to have paid for them with a counterfeit half dollar.

URGES REBATES TO BUILD UP MARINE

Milwaukee Expert Is Heard on Shipping by Joint Congressional Commission.

OTHERS STATE THEIR VIEWS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

MILWAUKEE, July 21.—The joint congressional commission on merchant marine opened its Milwaukee hearing today in the United States court room. The commission is represented by United States Senator Gallinger and Congressmen Miner and Spicht.

Julius Bleyer, associate editor of the Evening Wisconsin, who has given much study to the subject of marine, read a lengthy paper on the development of lake shipping. On the question of merchant marine engaged in foreign trade, he indorsed the views of Thomas Clyde, of the Clyde line of steamers, given before the hearing in New York city. Continuing, he said in part that the extra cost of the American ship would not deter investment in shipping for the foreign trade if the cost of operating the American ship were not higher than the cost of operating foreign ships. This is probably true; but a subsidy plan might be made to comprehend an interest return for a fixed period—an annual rebate large enough to pay a nominal rate of interest on the extra investment, plus a percentage for depreciation.

Rebates That Are Needed.

Roughly a rebate representing a four per cent rate of interest on the extra capital and a five per cent rate on the same extra capital to cover depreciation, ought to put an American investor on an even footing with the foreigner as far as the ship is concerned. If a rebate of this kind were provided, it could be limited to a fixed term of years, as it is possible that with a revival there would be established gradually a systematic standardization of hulls like that which has obtained in the shipbuilding trade of Great Britain, and in consequence ships might eventually be built as cheaply on this side of the Atlantic as in foreign yards. This element of the proposition is within the scope of the protective tariff idea—that of building up struggling industries.

He said: The problem of extra cost of operation is what will probably resist ultimate solution. It cannot be solved unless American wages decline to the level of European wages, or foreign wages increase to the level of American wages. As neither of these changes are within the bounds of rational expectation, the disadvantage in the matter of operation must be regarded as permanent. As the aim of protection to American industries is to provide a barrier against the foreign competitor equal to the difference between European and American wages, a rebate is suggested in the case of shipping based upon a closed estimate of the percentage of increased cost of operation.

Another Rebate Suggested.

"For instance, after a vessel owner had presented his statement as to cost and received his annual rebate in interest upon the extra capital invested, plus an allowance for depreciation he could be allowed a rebate based upon his expense account for the year or a rebate per head, based on his showing as to the number of men employed during the year, and the number of days of employment. This would keep the subsidy or rebate down to actual losses, and obviate payment by the government for the time during which ships are lying idle. The mail service bounty could be extended on the principle upon which compensation for mail train service is based. Speed is costly and in order to insure it a liberal price should be paid the mail service."

F. G. Bigelow, president of the American Bankers' association, being interrogated by Senator Gallinger, said if legislation could be enacted with fairness that something should be done to help the merchant marine interests. He thought American capital would invest in lake as well as in foreign shipping with improved legislation.

Capt. David Vance, a prominent vessel owner of Milwaukee, thought marine interests should be encouraged, and that subsidies would be advantageous, though they should not be saddled upon the government except for a limited period, say 10 years.

Considerable Chance for Improvement.

Edward T. Wheelock of the Milwaukee Sentinel read a paper on marine at home and abroad. He suggested that there was considerable chance for improvement in lake and ocean merchant marine. He reviewed the lake shipping and its growth since the civil war. He believed that it would take a long time for congress to solve the problem of subsidies.

A. E. Snuggs, general agent of the Pere Marquette Railway Company, explained the province of car ferry system, stating that the car ferry shortens the time in delivery of freight to eastern points. A model of a car ferry was used to demonstrate the workings.

Capt. F. H. Madeburg of the Milwaukee board of trade made a statement of comparisons bearing upon the condition of the ocean marine before the civil war and now. He said that congress would have a very serious problem to regulate this deplorable state of affairs.

The members of the commission left tonight for St. Paul en route to Seattle and Pacific coast points.

PORTLAND MINE IS CLOSED DOWN AGAIN

Military Authorities Demand That Its Workmen Give Up Their Union.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

DENVER, July 21.—The Portland mine is closed again in consequence of the action of the military authorities. The mine was giving employment to about 500 men. Squads of soldiers have arrested 40 of these, including the entire mechanical force at the three working shafts. The men thus summarily removed from their labors are accused of no crime, the only accusation being that they refused to sacrifice their membership in the Western Federation of Miners and take out Mine Owners' association working cards.

Six of the 40 men arrested were declared to be "all right" by the military board and were released. Twelve others were released on their own recognizance. Each of the remaining 22 when questioned admitted that he had intended to quit work on the Portland, but denied knowledge of the others' plans. It is alleged that the union men in the mechanical department were to walk out in a body. There are said to have been about 100 union miners still at work in the Portland who have not taken out Mine Owners' association cards, and they will now be required to take out such cards or leave the district.

EAST MOLINE, ILL., July 21.—The state bank of East Moline was entered early today by robbers, who blew open the vault and escaped. A posse is in pursuit. The entire front of the building was wrecked by the explosion, but officers of the bank say no money was obtained by the robbers. A watchman at the malleable iron works saw two men dash into a buggy and drive away. Half an hour later four shots were heard east of town.

MUST MAKE CHANGE IN TRANSFER AGENT

Blow at Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey by New York Stock Exchange.

LARGE COMPANIES AFFECTED

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, July 21.

There was some excitement today in the local offices of the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey and of the companies whose securities are listed on the New York stock exchange and transferred or registered through the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey. The agitation was due to the action of the stock exchange in bringing pressure to bear upon some of the companies whose securities are listed on the exchange to change their transfer agent in New York city or else undergo the indignity of having their securities stricken from the exchange list.

Among the larger companies whose securities are dealt in on the exchange and which utilize the Corporation Trust Company as a transfer agent is the American Hide and Leather, the Rubber Goods, the Virginia-Carolina Chemical, the American Steel Foundries, the American Beet Sugar and the Distillers securities.

Of these companies the American Steel Foundries has very recently had its securities reinstated on the stock exchange. They were stricken from the list several months ago on account of a discrepancy between reports submitted to the exchange of the company's financial condition. After changes had been made in the company's management the securities were relisted.

Officials of the stock exchange were unwilling to make any official statement today in the absence of H. K. Pomeroy, president of the exchange, in regard to the action which had been taken against companies transferring securities through the Corporation Trust Company. It was stated, however, that the authority for the action which had been taken was found in article 33 of the stock exchange bylaws, which provides that corporations whose shares are admitted to dealings upon the exchange will be required to maintain a transfer agency and a registry in the city of New York.

It was intimated today that the fact that the Corporation Trust Company was a New Jersey corporation had something to do with the action of the stock exchange. If this were the only reason and the rule were generally applied, several other prominent transfer companies would be effected.

The Corporation Trust Company came before the public conspicuously about a year ago on account of its connection with the formation of the United States Shipbuilding Company. Employes of the Corporation Trust Company acted as "dummy directors" when the shipbuilding company was brought out. A law was passed in Albany last winter which also struck at this company.

At the offices of the Corporation Trust Company, in this city, it was said today that the president of the corporation would not be at his office until Saturday, and that in his absence no one could discuss the action of the stock exchange.

PANIC ON STEAMER IN NEW YORK HARBOR

Sister Ship of the Ill-Fated Gen. Slocum in Collision With 500 Passengers Aboard.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—A collision threatened the sinking of one of the finest of the steam yacht fleet at the Battery this afternoon. The Grand Republic, sister ship of the ill-fated Slocum, with 500 passengers on board, swung in the flood tide to make the landing at the Battery pier.

Lying near awaiting the coming of her owner, Francis S. Smithers, the yacht Kismet, with steam up, was headed downstream. The strong tide brought the two vessels together, the bowsprit of the Kismet raking the forward cabin of the Grand Republic.

There was a panic among the passengers as the crash of breaking glass and woodwork sounded, and many rushed for life preservers. From the Battery wall the deck hands on the big steamboat could be seen running about to quell the fright of those on board.

On the Kismet orders were given for full speed astern, and they were obeyed so quickly that the yacht fouled Hall's bath house before she was stopped. Beyond slight scratches on the Kismet's bowsprit and stern post, she was uninjured. On the Grand Republic six windows on the port side forward were broken out and the woodwork raked.

THE GIANTS' LUCK STICKS TO THEM AT CHICAGO

BROOKLYN TEAM BROUGHT RAIN

Ned Hanlon and His Club Live Up to Rainmaking Reputation. Clarke Escapes the Fever.

CASE SELECTED TO PITCH

No sooner do Ned Hanlon and his band of Brooklyn players show their faces within the confines of Western Pennsylvania than the weather man gets down to work with a rainstorm that puts an end to all thought of a ball game.

The players on the local team and the rooters were tired after that strenuous series with the Giants and the day off was a welcome one. It did not bother Hanlon much, as it gave him a chance to go up on the hill and take a peep at his property on Wylie avenue. Captain Tommy Leach said his men were glad of the rain, as some of them are stiff and sore and the day's rest would be beneficial.

Another attempt will be made today to start the series. Brooklyn is in the second division, but has been playing a fast game and its record of three victories out of the six games played with Pittsburgh to date convinces Acting Manager Leach that there is some hard work ahead. He will probably try Pitcher Case in the game today. Manager Donnelly of the Springfield team wrote a letter to Fred Clarke assuring him that Case would be more successful if worked regularly than if pitched out of turn.

Manager Hanlon assigned Poole to pitch yesterday and will allow this selection to stand today. Poole has been effective twice against the champions this season. Hanlon says that his team has lost eight games by one run in the west this trip.

"This is not altogether bad luck; if we had done our share of the playing we would have won several times, but it is a fact that fortune has not been with us," said he. "Garvin was threatened with typhoid fever, and although he escaped he was out for 10 days and then came back very weak. That handicapped us, but we are in good shape now and expect to make a better showing. Out west the patrons of the game were all rooting for Pittsburgh to win from New York. There was considerable enthusiasm at Cincinnati yesterday and the day before when the results of the games here were posted. The Reds think they have a chance to win the flag. The attendance in Cincinnati is remarkably good. I see that the figures telegraphed out last night were 600. The correct attendance was 6,000. The Elks turned out in large numbers.

"I am glad to see Chief Zimmer here to do the umpiring. I believe he is going to make one of the best umpires on President Pulliam's staff. We had him at St. Louis and I agreed with Nichols of the St. Louis club that his work was fine. Good umpiring helps the game."

Wagner, who was badly spiked by Dahlen in the ninth inning of Wednesday's game, did not report at the park yesterday afternoon, but Patsy Flaherty, his fellow townsman, said that Wagner will be able to play against Brooklyn today. Wagner has a horse with a mark of 2:19 and was on the Carnegie speedway before the rain yesterday.

New England is still congratulating Mike Lynch upon his victory over New York. Another telegram and a dozen letters came yesterday. The college men of the east are keeping a close watch upon the work of the Brown university man. Sam Leever's arm is improving steadily and the schoolmaster says he is able to take his turn.

The doctors who are attending Fred Clarke reported last night that their patient will probably escape an attack of typhoid fever. He slept well and had less fever yesterday than at any other time this week. They hope to have him out in a week or so.

Even Split at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, July 21.—Cincinnati and Boston split even today in a double-header. A wild throw by Delehanty, together with two hits, gave the locals a victory over Willis in the first game. Fisher was hit harder than Hahn in the second game, but was lucky in holding his opponents at critical stages. Two errors by Woodruff were responsible for Boston's two runs in the eighth, only one hit coming in the inning. Attendance, 4,741. Scores:

Giants Still Have the Luck.

CHICAGO, July 21.—Chicago gave the leaders today's game by stupid baserunning, three of the locals being caught when it seemed that they had almost a certainty of scoring. McGinnity was pounded hard and gave way to Mathewson in the sixth. Only one hit was made off the latter, a scratch home run by Chance. New York scored three in the third, after two outs, on a gift, two doubles and a single. This was the only inning in which they were able to hit Weimer. Attendance, 11,000. Score:

Disposes of Kane Aggregation 5 to 1 in a Slow Game.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 1.—(Special.)—Brownlee's Independents had little trouble in disposing of the Kane bunch here this evening 5 to 1, the game being called at the end of the seventh inning on account of darkness. The grounds were wet, which prevented fast playing. Hollis of the New England league appeared in the box for the first time for the locals and was a puzzle to the visitors. Hazleton, for Kane, was hit at will. Moorhead, recently released by Waynesburg, played a star game for Kane. He hit the ball hard and scored the only run for the visitors. Washington will go to Morgantown today for two games. The score:

MONONGAHELA RACES ARE POSTPONED BY RAIN

Largest Crowd of Meeting in Attendance—Part of Program Carried Out.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MONONGAHELA CITY, PA., July 21.—Heavy rain coming down after four heats had been concluded in the events of the great racing meet in progress here caused a postponement of the unfinished races until tomorrow, and sent away the biggest crowd ever seen at the park. Intense interest had been created throughout the Monongahela valley by the splendid sport of the meeting and Pittsburghers are here in numbers. The judges announced that not only would the unfinished events be concluded but the events scheduled for tomorrow as well would be finished tomorrow.

The first race, a 2:16 pace, had everybody guessing and many rumors were afloat. Black Bird had sold favorite in the pool selling last night, but Sundown, who changed hands yesterday, was backed as if it was all over. Wisdom King, a Canadian horse, was touted freely and there was a strong play on Crystal Belle for the place. Black Bird was laid up the first heat, Sundown coming from far back at the stretch turn, won, with Crystal Belle second, Wisdom King was absolutely lost.

A mysterious flutter concerned Black Bird for the second heat and the black gelding came in for strong support, but Sundown receded little in the betting, reigning favorite at odds-on at postime. Black Bird was a different horse in the second heat, Sundown winning from him by a nose, with Billie J. third. The judges did not like the effort made by Wisdom King, who finished fourth, and ordered all bets off. Two heats were finished in this event. The judges are alert and scrutinize everything closely.

A 2:21 pace was called for the second race, and began with five starters. The first heat was conceded to Joe Russell by odds-on favorite. Wood Girl, a matinee performer at Brunot Island, is considered a dangerous factor and is being heavily played to win. Paul Kruger, although he finished second, is not as heavily backed as on yesterday. The second heat was called but was stopped on account of rain. The third event today was a 2:22 pace for which eight horses were carded, Itoe alone declining the issue, leaving seven to go.

The Braddock horse, Nicotine, was installed favorite at odds-on, but was supplanted by Ruddy Kip, a Charleroi favorite. Nicotine started out in a manner which foreshadowed a victory for himself, seemingly to have the race at his mercy, but went into a bad break at the three-quarter pole. Ruddy Kip, who was in striking distance, went on and won on the hit, while Nicotine finished last. Only one heat of this race was concluded.

COLE OF YALE BEATS THE SYRACUSE CHAMPION

Lewis Goes Down Before Collegian in Straight Heats. Bell Is Victorious.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SYRACUSE, July 21.—The feature match at the state tennis tournament today proved to be that between Leroy of New York and the Californian, Bell, in the semi-final round of the open singles. The Columbia crack won the first set after the westerner had gained a lead of four games on him. He assumed the lead in the second set and seemed to have the set well in hand, but tired rapidly from his previous exertions, and Bell won five straight games and the set. The third set went to the latter easily.

Cole, Yale, defeated Lewis, the Syracuse city champion, in the semi-final round in straight sets and will meet Bell tomorrow in the finals. Summaries:

JOHNSTOWN GETS ONE GAME AT M'KEESPORT

Brookmiller Has One Bad Inning—Good Pitches for the Winners.

Johnstown took the third of the series at McKeesport from the Steel Works nine yesterday afternoon on a muddy ground, 4 to 1. McKeesport's bad inning came at the start of the game, when Johnstown scored three times.

Brookmiller, who pitched for Steel Works, was nervous in the first, and in addition to allowing one safe hit he passed one man on balls and hit another. After that he settled down and pitched a steady game. Good, for Johnstown, gave an excellent exhibition on the rubber, and received professional support in spite of the unsafe grounds.

In the last inning McKeesport rallied and had two men on bases, both of them passed by Good. It looked like another score when Sellars came up, but he chopped the air three times and the game was over. Score:

R.H.E.
McKeesport S. W. ..0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 4 3
Johnstown ....3 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—4 4 0

Sacrifice hit—Vought. Stolen bases—Stoyer, Owens 2, Good. Hit by pitcher—Vought, F. Shultz. Bases on balls—Off Brookmiller, 6; off Good, 4. Struck out—By Brookmiller, 6; by Good, 11. Wild pitch—Good. Passed ball—Murphy. Umpire—Gibbons. Time—1:40. Attendance—400.

Rumored That Jim Corbett and "Young Corbett" Were "Dead Ones."

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—James J. Corbett and "Young Corbett" were both set down as "dead ones" in a wild rumor that flitted up and down Broadway this afternoon. According to the rumor it was not certain which one was down and out for all time, but the story went that one of them had been shot. When George Considine, manager of the Metropole, was asked over the telephone if he had heard the rumor, he said:

"Yes, I have. A man rushed in here a few minutes ago and said he had heard that I had shot 'Young Corbett.' Of course, it's a 'pipe.' 'Young Corbett' is now upstairs, and he is not shot, either."

The police have no record that either of the Corbetts has figured in any shooting affray, and the rumor was laughed at in the Criterion hotel, where James J. Corbett is a frequent visitor.

'TWIXT EQUINES AND CHERUBS

Atlantic City Sojourners Have Plenty to Distract Their Attention.

40,000 AT THE HORSE SHOW

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Young's Ocean Pier.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 21.

A large number of beautiful cherubs were on exhibition on Young's pier this morning. Eight thousand people viewed the sight and thronged the vast dancing hall in which the display of infantile loveliness was arranged, during the time they were on exhibition, from 10 to 12 o'clock. The babies were entered in a contest for prizes, and the visitors were the judges, the questions to be decided being which one was the cutest, the prettiest and the fattest. The means to effect these decisions was by popular vote.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Hayward and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Murphy are stopping at the Oxford house. Miss M. Murphy and Miss N. Garrity are guests at the Hotel Deville on Kentucky avenue.

Ray B. Haines and Samuel S. Emery of New Castle are spending their vacation at a cottage on Florida avenue.

Mrs. James Wilson of McKeesport and her daughter, Luelle, are at the Elberon.

Daniel H. Ripley of the United States Glass Company is registered at Haddon Hall.

Mrs. J. P. Thompson and Mrs. D. C. Allen of Beaver Falls are at the Osborne.

Mrs. W. M. Gormley and Miss Sara Gormley are at the Dennis.

H. A. Piper of Pittsburgh and W. G. Piper of Tyrone are guests at the St. Charles.

Frederick Lechner is among the late arrivals at the Gladstone.

F. C. MacConnell and Mrs. MacConnell were guests at The Gazette bureau today.

Jean McClester of Jucunda street and Nellie A. Shaw of Glaring avenue arrived at the Hotel Belmont today. They will remain at the shore until Wednesday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dronsfield, Miss Rachel Corbly and Miss Ella Corbly are new arrivals at the Newfield.

William Hamilton and William Campbell of the Allegheny Valley railroad forces will spend the next two weeks at the Lashell, in South Carolina avenue.

Good fortune is showering its favors on the horse show. Brilliant weather was drawn again today and the attendance increased to 40,000. The social elements from the cottages and hotels featured the grounds with pretty costumes. More color was noticed in the gowns.

No incident was more pleasing than the appearance of a small seal brown pony, 12 hands high, appearing in a class by himself. The event was not on the program. The animal went through his pace and did it prettily. The judges gathered about him and, after a critical examination, pinned the blue ribbon to the head stall. Then came the explanation. The pony was Hump II., from the west. Its owner declined to have him driven by a child, as called for in the conditions in the only class in which he could be entered. Courtesy ruled, the class was created, and a groom drove the exhibition.

Baron Jacques de St. Marie of France expected to be joined in the horse show today by Baron Mayor des Planches, the Italian ambassador to the United States, who is now a cottager in the resort. Secretary Wister Evans of the association had made arrangements for the entertainment of the distinguished visitor, but he did not arrive. The baron and baroness entertained a number of visitors in his box. No one attracted more attention than did Miss Sellers of Philadelphia, who is a handsome girl of the blonde type and was dressed with perfect taste in white.

The French flag flies from a staff near the grandstand and the British flag tops the club house. These are the only emblems employed in the decorations besides the national banner. The directors mean to raise the flag of King Emmanuel when the Italian ambassador appears.

NURSE DISAPPEARED WITH INCUBATOR BABY

Woman Became Attached to Mite and the Police Are Looking for Them.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 21.—A nurse employed in the baby incubator establishment of Dreamland, Coney Island, became so fond of one of her little charges that she has taken the baby for a companion. Where the pair have gone is the question that the police are trying to solve at present.

On April 18, Mrs. Agnes McCauley brought to the incubator a little mite of a girl, which weighed only two pounds. The child was put in charge of a nurse who had been there some time and immediately became her pet charge.

Last Tuesday the child reached the robust weight of nearly 12 pounds, and was declared a graduate of the institution. It was given to the nurse to take home, and she started, as it was supposed, to deliver the child to its mother. Since then nothing has been heard of the girl or the baby. The nurse had no object in taking the child, except her fondness for it. The parents are poor. Dr. Cody, who has charge of the incubators, asked the police this morning to look for the pair.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES HAVE TALK WITH ELKINS

Coming Session of West Virginia Legislature Discussed—Hope of the Democrats.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ELKINS, W. VA., July 21.—W. M. O. Dawson and C. W. Swisher, Republican nominees for governor and secretary of state, respectively, are here in conference with Senator Stephen B. Elkins. The special session of the legislature called by Gov. White for July 26 is under consideration. The session was called to enact legislation touching the tax question, which furnished the issue that gave rise to the fight during the campaign preceding the late state convention. It is understood that at the conference at the home of Senator Elkins the whole question was gone over, but the proceedings were kept secret. Candidate Dawson expresses confidence in the success of the entire Republican ticket in the state next fall.

Nearly every one of the 14 counties in the Second congressional district has from one to three candidates for the Democratic nomination for congress to succeed Congressman A. G. Dayton. The Democrats think that the residence of the Democratic vice presidential candidate being in this district insures the election of a Democrat. Stewart W. Walker of Martinsburg is in the lead and the field is against him. The fight is becoming warm. The convention will be held at Grafton, August 2.

DISPUTE DECIDED MAY YET CAUSE STRIKES

Majority of 77,000 Men in Anthracite District No 1 Likely to Go Out.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SCRANTON, PA., July 21.—The dispute over the method of paying checkweighmen and check-docking bosses is making trouble in the Wyoming and Lackawanna valleys, and it will not be surprising if before another month strikes will result involving the greatest portion of 77,000 mine workers in District No. 1.

District President Nicholls, who is also secretary of the board of conciliation, declared today at headquarters here that Umpire Wright has finally decided this matter, and that the board cannot reopen it. He says the district executive board has protested against the action of the Scranton Coal Company, asking for reconsideration, and the miners' representatives will further protest against it at the meeting in Wilkesbarre next Tuesday. Further President Nicholls said: "The operators are entirely too technical. They have been standing upon one technicality after another, and now after one-third of the time of the strike commission's award has expired, they are still trying to prevent the miners from enjoying the full benefit of the award."

PITTSBURGHER DROWNS.

Machinist Jacob Simons Seized With Cramps While Swimming at Sharon, Pa.

SHARON, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—Jacob Simons of Pittsburgh, a machinist, was drowned this afternoon in the Shenango river. Simons, with Lewis Williams, went bathing. Williams swam to the other shore. Simons reached the middle pier of the bridge and then started to swim again. He was seized with cramps and sank. Williams was too far away to give assistance, but Fred Dahringer sprang into the water, and after a struggle got Simons to the shore. Simons showed signs of life and two doctors were summoned, but they could not resuscitate him.

Simons was 21 years old. He had been employed in the Carnegie steel works here for about a month. His mother lives in the South Side, Pittsburgh. The body will be sent to Pittsburgh tomorrow.

M'NEES IS NOMINATED.

Chosen as Republican Candidate for State Senator from Forty-First District.

BUTLER, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—Hon. George W. McNees of Kittanning was this afternoon nominated as the Republican candidate for state senator from the Forty-first senatorial district, composed of Butler and Armstrong counties. His conferees and those of Senator Andrew G. Williams were in session two hours. Capt. Williams has represented the district for the last two terms and acquiesced in and directed the final action of his conferees in voting for Mr. McNees. The latter has twice represented Armstrong county in the state legislature. He is a native of Butler county.

The conferees were ex-State Treasurer Samuel H. Jackson, J. O. Crum and J. H. Painter for McNees, and Porter W. Lowry, Warren McCreery and William Watson for Capt. Williams.

INFIRMARY DESTROYED.

Harrison County, O., Institution Burns—Superintendent Has Narrow Escape.

CADIZ, O., July 21.—The Harrison county infirmary, two miles west of this city, was burned to the ground today. It was erected 20 years ago at a cost of $40,000, and, together with its contents, was valued at $75,000. The loss is only partially covered by insurance.

The flames originated in a mysterious manner in the tower, and spread rapidly, causing consternation among the 50 inmates, some of whom were in bed helpless. Supt. Welch Rogers, who worked heroically to save the inmates, had a narrow escape from burning to death.

Manbecke Is Nominated.

MIFFLINTOWN, PA., July 21.—The Republican conference of the Thirty-first senatorial district, comprising the counties of Mifflin, Juniata and Perry, met here today and on the tenth ballot nominated William Henry Manbecke of Juniata county for senator, the conferees of Mifflin county voting with those of Juniata. The nomination was made unanimous. A. M. Thompson was Mifflin county's candidate, while ex-Representative J. Harper Sediel was Perry county's choice.

Candidate Davis to Speak.

ELKINS, W. VA., July 21.—(Special.)—August 6 has been fixed as the date for the laying of the corner stone of the new Methodist Episcopal church. The Masonic grand lodge will conduct the ceremony. ACCUSED BY JEANNETTE WOMAN ON DEATHBED

Dr. Miller Faces Another Charge. Butcher Bauer Is Also Arrested.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., July 21.—Mrs. Julia Gemery of Jeannette died at the Westmoreland hospital today. Before death she charged her condition to malpractice by Dr. J. C. Miller of Jeannette. Dr. Miller was arrested last night on information made before Justice of the Peace Blair W. Caldwell by Mrs. Gemery's sister, Mrs. Mary Lauder, and gave bail in the sum of $2,000 for a hearing. Louis Bauer, a well known butcher of Jeannette, was also arrested, charged with being a party to the offense. Bauer's bail was fixed at $2,500. The hearing will take place before Justice Caldwell tomorrow evening. Mrs. Gemery told her sister, Mrs. Lauder, that she felt positive that Dr. Miller was the physician involved with Bauer, in whose family she had been employed as a domestic. Mrs. Gemery's former husband is living, but a divorce was recently granted.

The arrest of Dr. Miller and Bauer created a sensation. Bauer conducts a meat market at Sixth street. Recently Dr. Miller was held for court by Justice J. Frank Beatty of Greensburg on a charge of having been responsible for the death of Miss Dollie Tyger of Gipsy, Indiana county, at Barnesboro, Cambria county. He will be tried at the August term of criminal court on the first charge.

SON AND DAUGHTER WILL CONTEST WILL OF DEWEY

Charge Wheeling Millionaire Was Not in Condition to Make Last Testament.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WHEELING, W. VA., July 21.—The will of the late Charles F. Dewey, who died in this city about a month ago, disposing of an estate in Chicago and elsewhere valued at approximately $1,000,000, will probably be contested by his daughter by a former wife, and his son Chauncey, who was recently acquitted of charges of murder growing out of the ranch feud with the Berrys in Kansas. Chauncey Dewey and his sister have just returned from abroad, and they will be present in Chicago next week when the will is offered for probate. After substantial bequests to his nieces, Mrs. B. W. Peterson and Mrs. Hullihen Quarrier of this city, and Miss Alberta Hogg of Washington, D. C., Mr. Dewey's will gives $5,000 to his daughter, and provides that the remainder of the estate be divided equally between his son Chauncey and his private secretary, Charles P. Killen of Chicago.

The will was executed a few days prior to death, and Mr. Dewey's secretary assisted in drawing it up. The witnesses were the attending physicians. Two of them are now in Chicago to give testimony, and two Wheeling attorneys have been retained on opposite sides of the case. The contest will be made on the ground that Mr. Dewey was in no condition at the time to make a will.

CORONER INVESTIGATES.

Italian Will Be Arrested, Accused of Practicing Without License.

WASHINGTON, PA., July 21.—(Special.)—Coroner W. H. Sipe was in Charleroi today investigating the death of Harry Cantanio, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cantanio. When the child became ill Drs. Barth and Davis were called, but the family was not satisfied, and they called an Italian named Peter Geacchelli. Undertaker Reeves could not get a certificate of death because Geacchelli was not a registered physician.

Coroner Sipe empaneled a jury and censured the Italian for practicing without a license, and recommended that the district attorney take up the case. The Italian claims he was graduated from an academy of medicine in Italy. He will be arrested.

AUTHORIZES MILITARY HONORS FOR KRUGER

LONDON, July 21.—The government has informed Lord Milner, British high commissioner for South Africa, that any military honors he may consider proper to arrange in conjunction with the interment of the remains of former President Kruger at Pretoria, will have the full sanction of the imperial government.

THE HAGUE, July 21.—The family of the late Paul Kruger has arranged for a public funeral here on July 26, when the body will be taken to the chapel of the Eikenguinen cemetery, where it will remain for two months, pending arrangements for transportation to South Africa.

SHIP DESTROYED BY EXPLOSION OF NAPTHA

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—The vessel which was seen on fire yesterday afternoon and last night off the Long Island coast was the Creedmoor of St. John, N. B., which cleared from this port on July 18, loaded with naphtha, benzine and gasolene. The Creedmoor was chartered by the Standard Oil Company, and was bound for Liverpool. The cargo was valued at $43,460. Capt. Humphreys said there was an explosion of naphtha on board and that the crew had a narrow escape.

SOLDIER'S WIDOW'S QUEST.

Ask Mayor for Address of a Home Veteran Stranded in Buffalo.

Mrs. Adaline Crissoeel, aged 61, of Helena, Mont., yesterday wrote Mayor Hays asking for the address of a home for soldiers' widows. She says she is the widow of a soldier who enlisted in a Pennsylvania regiment during the civil war at Kittanning. The letter was sent to the home at Hawkins station.

The relief committee of the G. A. R. is hunting relatives of John Henry Leiten, formerly of Company K, Eighty-fourth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, who is stranded in Buffalo and wishes to reach this city. Relatives are requested to write Capt. Samuel Scott, department of public safety.

Veteran Actor Dead.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—Charles M. Collins, a veteran actor, died at his home in New Rochelle today from Bright's disease. His financial resources were exhausted when some of the managers arranged a benefit for him for next Tuesday night. Mr. Collins' death will make no change in the program, so far as the benefit is concerned, as he leaves a wife and four children to be provided for. Mr. Collins played for several seasons with Booth and Barrett. Last season he played Sheik Ilderim, the Arab chief, in Ben Hur.

Special Election Called.

Mayor Hays yesterday issued a proclamation naming August 5 as the day for holding a special election to fill the vacancy in select council from the Ninth ward, caused by the death of Thomas Geary. The mayor decided upon a date after a talk with James A. Clark, chairman of the Democratic city committee. The mayor says no candidate has been slated by the administration. The Democrats will probably hold a meeting to suggest candidates to go before the Democratic primaries.

Allegheny Officers Dropped.

Lieut. Jacob Snyder and Roundsman Benjamin Ehrhardt, whose resignations from the police bureau were demanded by Director Scandrett of Allegheny, were dropped yesterday from the rolls. A special meeting of the police trial board was held to give the men a hearing if they desired it. Neither appeared to answer the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer.

TEXAS TEACHER SNUBS PENNSYLVANIA SWAIN

Even Refuses to Marry Him When His Father Offers Her a Farm.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., July 21.—Delia Ashley, the Texas school teacher who came here in answer to a matrimonial agency's advertisement, followed by letters from Andrew Martwick of Aldenville, Wayne county, and refused to marry him when she saw him and met his people, has been offered a farm if she will become his wife. The boy's father, Fred Martwick, yesterday went to Honesdale, where the girl has secured work, and said if she marries the boy he will deed his farm to her and do all he can to make her happy. The boy is deeply in love, he says, and is breaking his heart for her.

Miss Ashley refused, and said as soon as she earned enough money she would return home.

Machinist, With Family in Pittsburgh, Lies in Front of a Locomotive.

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 21.—(Special.)—James Flanigan, a machinist at Mingo junction, committed suicide tonight by stepping in front of a Panhandle yard engine. He was instantly killed, his body being horribly mangled. He was an expert machinist. He has a wife and two sons living near Penn avenue and Twenty-eighth street, Pittsburgh. He was about 38 years old. He had been drinking and was suffering from delirium tremens.

Before the accident the town marshal of Mingo junction ordered him to go to his room in the McDevitt hotel, but Flanigan replied: "Go in or you will go up in smoke." Flanigan then went down to the Panhandle tracks below the underground crossing and deliberately laid down in front of an approaching engine. His body was taken in charge by the coroner and brought to the morgue here.

They expect to travel about 800 miles into the interior on horseback after big game. Both young men are expert shots with rifle and shotgun.

SOCIETY

THE Yankanuck club will leave for its camp in Canada on Wednesday, August 13. There will be a large party going north this season and the clubhouse will be filled. A little over three years ago several Pittsburgh men purchased from the Canadian government an island in Georgian bay, and upon it was erected a clubhouse which will accommodate more than 50 people, the number which is expected this season. Each summer this camping ground has become more popular, and the members of the club take with them for August a great many of their friends who will spend the month in fishing, rowing, canoeing and photographing the picturesque scenery of the Dominion.

The members of the club who will leave on August 8 this year include Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Overholt, Dr. and Mrs. J. Guy McCandless, Guy P. McCandless, Wilson McCandless and Dr. Walter McCandless of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Holland, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dowler, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown, Edward Brown and Miss Brown of Braddock; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gerwig, Talbutt C. Graham, Lesley Graham, Miss Elizabeth Graham and John Stone of Allegheny; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kepp of Sewickley; Clyde Overholt of Scottdale and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shelton of Washington, D. C.

Their guests this year will be Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Law, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Chalfant, Mrs. Thomas, Joseph Thomas, Miss Ray Thomas, Miss Alice Thomas, George Lehner, John L. High, Dr. O. G. A. Barker, George R. Chalfant, Arthur Over, William Miller, W. A. Taylor, J. A. Black and William Secrist of Pittsburgh; Harry Graham of Bellevue; Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Marsh and E. G. Smith of Greensburg; T. W. Pomeroy of Tarentum; Harry Evans, Miss Remington, George Watt and Miss Watt of Braddock; Miss Gladys Doty of Chicora, Pa.; Miss Irene Husband of Mt. Pleasant; B. F. Theobald of Philadelphia; Miss Blanche Wood of Morgantown, W. Va.; Miss Bowen, Freeman, W. Va.; Miss Alice Overholt, Colorado Springs, Col.; Mr. and Mrs. Lackey and Harry Lewis of Washington, D. C., and C. C. Chalfant of Etna.

Big Reunion Planned.

Reports received by the general committee indicate a record-breaking crowd at the eleventh annual reunion of the A. O. U. W. on Thursday, August 4, at Olympia park. All sub-committees make encouraging reports for a splendid day's outing and all lodges are lending hearty support. The Uniontown special is expected to bring about 1,000 people. Allegheny county will turn out several thousand more. The athletic committee has a big contract with all the varied amusements suggested. A baseball match between teams represented by Center Avenue Lodge No. 124 and Pride of the West Lodge No. 37 will be one of the afternoon features.

No admission tickets will be sold. A railroad ticket is all the expense, and these can be secured as early as August 2. The next meeting of the general committee will be held at Triumph Lodge No. 68, Moorhead hall, Grant street and Second avenue, Thursday, July 30, at 8:30 p. m. This will be the last meeting prior to the reunion. All sub-committees are expected to make final reports.

Coming Home from Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Price are in St. Louis at the Buckingham club, where they will remain until Sunday. They are expected to arrive in Pittsburgh on Monday morning after a month's travel through the west, having left immediately after their marriage. They will make their home for the remainder of the season with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nicholson in Fifth avenue, Mrs. Prices' father and mother. Later they will go to their own home.

Miss Myrtle Price returned a few days ago from Indiana, where she had been visiting Miss Downey. The young women were roommates at the National Park seminary a couple of years ago and exchange frequent visits. The first of August Mrs. Price and her daughter are going to the mountains to remain until September.

Moore-Poole.

In the Church of the Epiphany, Bellevue, which had been beautifully decorated with palms, lilies and carnations, the wedding of Miss Pettes Louise Moore and Eugene Malcolm Poole took place last evening at 8 o'clock at Bellevue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. A. M. Dyess, rector of the church. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white silk mulle, over white Liberty satin, trimmed with duchess point lace. She carried a shower of bride's roses. The maid of honor was Miss Lucy Moore, a sister. The bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Barrett and Miss Catherine Patterson, of Bellevue, and Miss Ethel Poole, a sister of the groom, of the East End. Elbert Catlin of Claysville was best man. The ushers were Fred Pettes Moore, Jr., and Arthur Barrett, of Bellevue, and Arnold Kresse of Kansas City, Mo. Following a western wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Poole will be at home in James street, Bellevue, after October 1. Mr. Poole, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Poole of the East End, has just returned from Mexico, where he was engaged as a civil engineer in railroad construction work.

Visiting Golf Team In Allegheny.

The Brighton Country club of Allegheny will entertain the members of the golf team of the Wheeling Golf club today. The visiting team will be accompanied by a number of the girls of the Wheeling club and mixed foursome matches will be played in the morning with the members of the Brighton club. In the afternoon will be played the regular team match between the two clubs, and there will be an informal dance in the evening for the visitors. One of the members of the Wheeling team is Julius Pollock, Jr., who recently won the E. M. Byer's cup at the open tournament of the Allegheny Country club.

Church Festival at Haysville.

A festival was held last evening in the Presbyterian church at Haysville for the joint benefit of the church and the Haysville baseball team. Many people from Glenfield, Coraopolis, Sewickley and other towns attended.

Musicians on an Eastern Trip.

C. Norman Hassler, baritone; Mrs. Pearl Sleeth-Hassler, organist; Miss Florence Haupt, contralto, and John C. Dickson, director of the W. U. P. Glee club, left yesterday for an eastern trip. They will visit several of the larger cities and conclude their summer outing under the instruction of the Topping-Browns at Milford, Pa.

Reception for a Pastor.

The women of the First Presbyterian church of Sheraden last night held a reception in the church for the Rev. S. A. Hunter, who was installed a month ago as pastor, and his family. A musical program was rendered and a luncheon served.

Off for Europe.

Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, Miss Edith Bailey and Miss Alice Garland, with Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, sailed yesterday for Europe, where they will spend a couple of months in travel.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 21.—(Special.)—This morning at the Women's club interesting reports were read on the different clubs and on other philanthropic work. Miss Hester Always spoke on the "Union Missionary Training Institute" and Mrs. Emily Martin spoke on "The Elevation of the Standards of Journalism." At 3 o'clock Mrs. Susanna Fry conducted a parliamentary drill. Dr. Hulley gave his fourth lecture of the series on "Strife, or the Mastery of Self."

At 11 o'clock Col. G. W. Bain lectured on "The Twentieth Century Searchlight" to a large audience. It was rather unusual to see so many men interspersed through the audience and was a token of the popularity of Col. Bain. This summer he is devoting exclusively to Chautauqua service and is to deliver 46 lectures in the various Chautauquas throughout the country.

At the civic conference held in the grove E. G. Routzahn spoke on "Civics in the Schools." This was Mr. Routzahn's first public appearance this season and he was warmly greeted. Prof. S. H. Clark gave an interpretative recital on "Julius Caesar" to a delighted audience. At 5 o'clock Dr. Boone spoke in the amphitheater on "Current Agencies in Education." Dr. Carl Duff gave a vocal recital in Higgins hall this afternoon. The audience was the largest which has been present at any artist's recital this season.

The assembly of New York state teachers was held in Higgins hall and was well attended. This body of educators is combining work and play and appear to enjoy both equally well. The open air band concert was given at the Men's club house and attracted the usual large number of people. The club house is at the water's edge and many young people preferred to enjoy the music by rowing slowly around.

The comedy, "The Sad Shepherd," which was to have been presented this evening, has been postponed until Monday evening. The annual prize pronunciation match was held this evening in the amphitheater after the stereopticon prelude on "Korea."

Entertains American Officers.

TRIESTE, July 21.—The mayor of Trieste gave a garden party tonight in honor of the officers of the American battleship and European squadrons. The condition of the officers who are ill with typhoid fever continues to improve. Lieut. Commander Willits has left the hospital and returned to the Kearsarge.

CAMP MEETINGS ARE IN SEASON

At Sewickley There Will Only Be Services in the Evening for Those Attending.

TARENTUM TO HAVE SPEAKERS

The opening service of the Mt. Sewickley Campmeeting association occurs this evening. The men who secured the charter were prominent in the intellectual and business life of the city. Among them might be mentioned the late D. N. White, at one time editor of The Pittsburgh Gazette; the late Judge J. W. F. White, Joseph Walton and the Hon. James T. Graham. Capt. John F. Dravo still holds his membership in the association and takes a lively interest in all its doings.

During the services about to begin there will be no sunrise prayer meetings to torment the conscience of the drowsy sinner, no "experience" meetings, nor those many other auxiliary meetings that constituted so important a feature in those earlier days. There will be but one service a day, and that in the evening. The Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, pastor of the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, will be in charge, and he has taken every care to secure the ablest speakers for the meetings. The program is as follows:

Friday evening, July 22, E. L. Eaton, Allegheny; Saturday evening, E. C. Lindsey, Pacific avenue; Sunday morning, J. B. Starkey, Pittsburgh; Sunday afternoon, E. L. Eaton, Allegheny; Sunday evening, Latshaw McGuire, Pittsburgh; Monday evening, W. W. Youngson, Crafton; Tuesday evening, G. W. Terbush, presiding elder; Wednesday evening, G. G. Grannis, Donora; Thursday evening, M. H. Lichliter, Verona; Friday evening, W. B. Slutz, Lincoln avenue; Saturday evening, J. W. Hoffman, California avenue; Sunday morning, July 31, Charles A. Tushingham; Sunday afternoon, W. W. Hall, Arch street, Allegheny; Sunday evening, J. J. Hill, Sewickley.

Prof. R. A. Jennings will look after the music and some good singing is expected. There will be also an Epworth league day, under the auspices of the league of the Allegheny county district. The committee on arrangements has done everything to provide for the comfort of the many visitors expected, the railroad has offered special rates, and carriages will meet the trains. About 30 cottages are opened.

The fifty-fourth session of the Tarentum campmeeting will begin on July 28 and last until August 7. On Tuesday, August 2, it will be old folks' day; Thursday, August 4, children's day, and August 5, Epworth league day. There will be many well-known speakers from this district and services will be held forenoon, afternoon and evening.

Pennsylvania Railroad's Next Date for Sea-Shore Excursions Is Thursday, August 4th.

Rate, $10 in coaches, or $12 in parlor car or sleeping cars. Special train leaves Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8:55 a. m. Evening trains at 4:50, 9 and 10 p. m.

STOCK MARKET IRREGULAR, CLOSING NEAR THE LOWEST

Reading a Strong Feature, Advancing to a New High Point—Westinghouse Electric Borrows $4,000,000 on Its Notes.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market was active and irregular yesterday. The bull interests which have been in control evidently extended support at the opening for the purpose of offsetting the effects of the foreign situation. English consols were 5-16 lower, foreigners were again sellers of American securities, and cabled reports from London spoke of the prevalence of a jingo spirit not witnessed for years. The reported seizure by Russia of another vessel flying the British flag was responsible for the big jump of four cents in the wheat market at Chicago. Altogether the situation looked threatening. Still, the stock market on this side did not display any unusual signs of nervousness, and after the foreign selling ceased, which was not so extensive as looked for, the market rallied. The heavy buying of Reading became a feature early in the day, and it continued the leader throughout the session. It was one of the few stocks that closed at a net gain. The buying was by the large professional traders who have been conspicuously identified with the bull movement in the general market. The movement was accompanied by rumors of the early declaration of a dividend on the stock, and also of the readjustment of the company's capital. Everybody seemed to have the tip that the stock was a purchase for a turn and few traders cared to investigate dividend rumors so long as the stock was responsive to the buying. There was a sympathetic movement in the stocks of other coal roads, including Norfolk & Western, Ontario & Western and the Eries. Pennsylvania was also strong and higher, advancing to 121⅝.

Union Pacific and Southern Pacific were heavy almost from the start, and both closed at practically the lowest prices of the day. The grangers were also quieter than usual of late, although Atchison and St. Paul both made a fair rally during the early part of the day. The recovery which took place in the foreign markets on reports of a more pacific outlook in the situation between Russia and England was accompanied by some buying by foreigners, but the tone of the general market was reactionary and but for the movement in Reading the decline would have gone farther.

United States Steel common opened lower at 12¼, and declined to 11⅞. The preferred held comparatively steady during the early dealings, but subsequently sold off to 61½ and closed at 61⅝. A break in Amalgamated Copper from 53½ to 51½ occurred shortly before the announcement that the directors had declared the usual quarterly dividend of ½ of 1 per cent. The stock recovered only a small part of the loss. Tennessee Coal and Iron was one of the strongest stocks on the list among the industrials, and advanced to 41. American Ice preferred was also more active than for a long time past and advanced from 27½ to 30. The whole list sold off in the late dealings and closed rather heavy at the decline.

There was very little domestic news having an influence upon values. The weather continues favorable for winter wheat harvesting and for the growth of corn and cotton, and the advance which occurred in wheat was due almost entirely to foreign news in connection with the friction betwen Russia and England. Wall street is inclined to be skeptical about the real basis for the advance in iron and steel stocks, and all the recognized authorities in the trade continue to report business as being discouraging.

Call loan rates remained easy and unchanged at 1 to 1½ per cent. The weekly statements of foreign government banks did not reveal any very important changes, except that loans in the Bank of France decreased $9,135,000 for the week. There was a very slight increase in the loans of the Bank of England, and the proportion of the bank's reserve to liabilities increased about 1 per cent, now standing at 50.70 per cent.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange the only active stocks were the steels. Crucible common held firm, advancing to and closing at 5⅝ bid. The preferred declined from 36⅞ to 36½ and closed offered at 36¾, the decline based apparently upon the reaction in United States Steel common and preferred, which closely followed the market in New York. The announcement that the Westinghouse Electric Company had borrowed $4,000,000 at 5 per cent for three years on its notes came late in the afternoon and had a depressing effect upon the stock, which declined to 80½ and at one time was offered at that price. Just before the close a buying order for 500 shares appeared and the price recovered to 81 bid, the stock closing firm. A block of 500 shares Philadelphia Company preferred changed hands at 45¼ and it closed at 45 bid. Manufacturers Light and Heat was firm at 31¼. There was nothing doing in the coal stocks, which closed barely steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Shortly before the close of the market the announcement came from New York, where all the financing of the company is handled, that the Westinghouse Electric Company had sold to Kuhn, Loeb & Co. $4,000,000 of its notes, running three years and bearing 5 per cent interest. The proceeds of the loan were to cover recent investments of the company in the British Westinghouse Company and also electric railroad enterprises in this country. Last December the company borrowed $2,000,000 at 6 per cent for similar purposes, but these notes were subject to payment after six months. It is surmised that a portion of the loan just made will be used to liquidate the loan made late last year, and the company will save 1 per cent by the transaction. The new notes are indorsed by the Security Investment Company of Pittsburgh, through which some of the Westinghouse financing is done, and it is inferred that they are secured by Westinghouse Electric stock as collateral. The announcement of the new borrowing had a slightly depressing effect upon the stock on the local exchange, where it declined to 80½, but just before the close the price recovered to 81 and that was the closing bid for 500 shares.

John D. Bailey sold at auction for account of whom it may concern 1,104 shares American Window Glass Machine common at 7¼ and 1,104 shares of the preferred at 26. The prices realized were higher than expected. A. E. Masten & Co. were purchasers of both lots.

The decrease of $247,000 in the net income of Philadelphia Company for the half year is accounted for by the bad weather during the early part of the period, which reduced earnings of the traction lines, although the prolonged cold weather must have increased earnings of the natural gas companies in the system. A block of 500 shares of the preferred stock changed hands yesterday at 45¼, the largest single transaction in the stock this year.

Cambria Steel Company directors have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 1½ per cent, payable August 15, as registered July 30.

The Pullman company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of $2, payable August 15, to stock of record July 30.

The H. B. Claflin company has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on the first preferred stock and 3½ per cent on the second preferred stock, payable August 1.

The short interest in Pennsylvania and United States Steel preferred is believed to be still very large and the stocks are very stubborn in resisting attacks.

Considering the efforts and ammunition of the bears, the New York stock market held very steady.

Jacob Field, who is now the leader of Wall street professional traders, yesterday bought 10,000 shares Reading in one block.

Predictions are made that at the next dividend meeting of Canadian Pacific an extra dividend will be declared.

A private telegram received by a local brokerage house yesterday afternoon from Cleveland emphatically denied reports of cuts in the price of structural steel.

While no official information can be secured, indications point to an early dissolution of the Reading voting trust. Preparations are in progress for the establishment of a stock transfer office in the treasury department of the company in Philadelphia, and orders for the engraving of the stock certificates and their printing are said to have been placed.

The Union Storage Company has declared a dividend of $1 a share, payable July 28 to stock of record July 20.

Charles G. Gates says: "I consider the reaction which took place on Wednesday as the best thing that could occur, as the advance had been very sharp. I strongly advise buying Union Pacific, St. Paul, Atchison, Pennsylvania and Reading, as conditions are still good and the reaction was only a natural one and overdue."

Strength in Tennessee Coal and Iron and Sloss-Sheffield issues was based on the hardening of pig iron prices in the Birmingham market, and there is some reason to believe that the movement was made on the stock exchange because easier of accomplishment than in the larger volume of stocks of the United States Steel Corporation, while the advance might have nearly as much effect as indicating an improvement in the iron trade.

The auction sale of American Window Glass Machine stock served to revive discussion of the company's affairs. It is said that the new management is putting in more than common laborers' hours in the effort to get the manufacturing end of the business on a profitable basis, and that an able committee is taking care of the finances of the company. Insiders are quoted as expressing entire confidence in the final outcome of the property, but the process of recuperation may not be rapid.

The Bond Buyer says: "The original sales of municipal bonds in July down to July 14, as officially reported to us, aggregate over $33,600,000. We are now printing further offers for July of over $5,800,000, and $1,000,000 more will yet be offered this month. The average for the month will exceed $38,000,000, the largest average sale for any one month on record. The grand total of sales for the seven months of 1904 will exceed $260,000,000, which will be over $40,000,000 more than were sold during any previous 12 months. We anticipate total sales in 1904 of not less than $350,000,000."

Two Pittsburgh houses, members of the New York stock exchange, yesterday reported that there had been a very decided increase in commission business this week. The public is getting into the market, but traders run quickly and are satisfied with small profits.

The nominal reason for the advance in Reading was the repetition of long prevalent rumors that the dissolution of the voting trust was inducing an accumulation by present dominant holders and that the retirement of the second preferred stock in exchange for common and first preferred was in contemplation.

There was an attempt by Wall street bulls to read into the action of Northern Securities directors in opening the books for transfers an intimation that a dividend distribution was to be arranged in some way which would not conflict with the judicial injunction upon the company. Union Pacific would especially benefit from such an arrangement owing to its large holdings of Northern Securities through the medium of the Oregon Short Line.

A fall of 1½ in Amalgamated Copper measured the disappointment of those who had expected an increase over the regular dividend declaration.

Some comment is made these days on the comparatively high prices at which current issues of municipal bonds are being placed. It should be remembered that the New York city government had the courage to risk an issue of $37,000,000 at a time when the bond market was depressed, and that there was serious question at the time of the advisability of giving the market so severe a test. The comptroller had reason to believe that there was a market for high-grade bonds in spite of all the doubt to the contrary, and the sale proved that he was right in his belief. The city of New York lifted the bond market out of the slough of despond and made it possible for other municipalities to market their bonds at advancing prices.

The Wall Street Journal says: "A well defined impression exists in certain well-informed quarters that the strength of the market mainly comes from the operations of certain large capitalists, commonly called the 'Standard Oil contingent.' These people were known to be accumulating stocks immediately after the Northern Securities decision. It is known that Judge Parker will be supported very substantially in his campaign by these interests, because of their hostility to President Roosevelt. This has led to the belief that the rise in stocks has been brought about mainly with the object of securing a profit on stocks bought earlier this year before the campaign opens. The success of Judge Parker would admittedly not be a bull point on stocks, and it is assumed that, realizing this, it is the desire of his 'Standard Oil' backers to be out of the market in the fall when the campaign is nearing its close."

Call money was offered with great freedom in New York at 1 per cent. An advance in sterling exchange was accompanied by the news of the shipment of $1,000,000 in gold from Australia for San Francisco.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Camp Shaffer, in the Mad creek mining district, is now the center of much excitement caused by recent discoveries, some of which have turned out to be phenomenally rich in gold, silver and copper. Interest in the district is growing, and a rush of prospectors and intending investors is met daily going to the camp. The place is accessible at all seasons of the year, and is reached by a good wagon road, being about 12 miles from the Colorado & Southern railroad, and about five miles from the Moffat road when completed. There are some producing mines in the district now, the most notable being the Puzzle group and the Helen Harold, claims from which ore is shipped averaging over $250 a ton.

The first mica to be mined in in the Grand Encampment section of Wyoming has been brought down from Elkhead mountain by burro train. The shipment consists of 1,500 pounds and was handled by nine burros. The mica mine is reached at an altitude of almost 13,000 feet, and is owned by Robert Deal, Joseph Rankin, Byron Tilton and J. D. Tilton. The deposit is said to be not only the most extensive in the Rocky mountains, but of the finest quality yet discovered in the United States.

Operations have been resumed by the Cripple Creek Enterprise Gold Mining Company, which holds a franchise to operate under the streets and alleys of the city. This franchise is for a period of 20 years, and, being city property, is devoid of taxes, which gives the company a better run than other companies operating in the camp so far as that expense is concerned. The work of unwatering the shaft and levels has begun and it will be finished within a very short time. As soon as it is finished the shaft will be sunk an additional 300 feet, which will give the company a depth of 510 feet. Three shifts will be used to further the work of development, which will be pushed along just as rapidly as possible by the management. They believe that it will not be long before a shipping proposition will be developed.

The American Smelting and Refining Company is making preparations to erect two new smelters in Mexico.

The Minnie Moore mine near Hailey, Idaho, in which Charles M. Schwab owns a controling interest, is said to be clearing $100,000 a month.

The directors of the Copper Mountain Mining and Milling Company at Salt Lake have decided to redeem its Beaver county property.

General Manager C. C. Nepple of the New York Mining Company, whose mines are located at Greenhorn, Ore., reports that the directors have decided to put in an additional battery of five stamps.

The sale of the mines and personal property of the Superior company at Lordaburg, N. M., is advertised to take place at the mine on August 2.

The Elkton Consolidated Mining and Milling Company of Cripple Creek is likely to resume the payment of dividends before the end of the current year.

W. B. Hough of Spokane has been given the contract for building the smelter buildings for the Panhandle Smelting and Refining Company at Sandpoint, Idaho.

The Taylor & Brunton Sampling Company of Salt Lake, which has mills scattered over Colorado, Utah and Montana, has decided to compete with the Western Ore Purchasing Company at Reno for Tonopah business.

Americans are planning to inaugurate another big era of gravel mining in southeast Kootenay, Canada, according to advices received from Canton, S. D.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, July 21.—Owing, it is reported, to very light reserve stocks and an output hardly sufficient to supply current equipments, tin has recently ruled firm and today scored advances both at London and locally. Trading in the English market was said to be heavy at the higher prices, and the market there closed at £128 for both spot and futures. Locally, the spot quotation was advanced to $27 00@27 50. Copper was lower in the London market and spot closed at £57 5s and futures at £57 2s 6d. Locally, the market also showed an easier tone with Lake Superior quoted at $12 62½@12 87½; casting at $12 37½@12 50. Lead was steady and unchanged at $4 30@4 35 in the local markets and at £11 13s 9d in London. Spelter was quiet at $4 85@4 95 in the New York market and also ruled unchanged in London, where it is quoted at £22 2s 6d. Iron closed at 51s 9d in Glasgow, and at 42s 9d in Middlesboro. Locally iron was steadier. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $14 50@15 00; No. 2 foundry northern at $14 00@14 50; No. 1 foundry northern and No. 1 foundry southern, soft, at $13 50@14 00.

WALL STREET MARKET WAS DISCONNECTED

Realizing Sales and Short Selling Apparently Got the Upper Hand.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says:

Stocks were reactionary yesterday in a desultory and disconnected way. The same manipulative agencies which have been at work for an advance were still in evidence, but the realizing sales and short selling apparently got the upper hand. As a result the market was a most irregular one. At times it showed strength, which repeatedly gave way to weakness. Operations suggested the same lack of attention to events bearing on general questions of business, foreign money markets, international complications, state of crops and prices of grain. All were ignored as similar events have been ignored in the last week. Cheap money and the general belief in the outcome of the good crops seems to be the influencing factors. On the theory that nothing has occurred to interfere with these factors the market continues in a haphazard style to discount expected improvement which may result if the crop and money conditions continue.

The market opened hesitating under the lower London quotations and considerable foreign offerings of American stocks. The usual tactics were adopted in waiting until the liquidation was completed. Then the same processes of selecting special stocks for advancement were begun afresh. When the news from London and elsewhere suggested that an end to the inflamed relations between England and Russia might be arrived at by the release of the Malacca, prices hardened a trifle, but again weakened. The firmness of Reading was a stimulating factor, but the profit taking and short selling throughout the general list gave the market a most irregular appearance. After recovering part of the early loss in the afternoon, the market developed fresh weakness and closed at practically the low points for variable losses.

BALTIMORE & OHIO EARNS LARGE SUM OVER DIVIDENDS

Despite Unfavorable Weather Almost Five Millions Are Added to the Surplus.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, July 21.—The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company's fiscal year ended on June 30 and a financial statement has been issued which shows that the year's work was profitable, although not quite equal to the preceding year, which was the best the company ever had. It has been the practice of the company to issue monthly statements of "earnings from traffic," but it also has a large "other income" account, which is seldom made public until the end of the year.

The past winter, with its floods, extremely low temperature and heavy snows made operation slow and expensive and the decrease in business during the past few months caused some apprehension as to the financial result of the year. The management kept an exceedingly close watch on the situation and was able to clean up a large number of old matters, charging out many things that have been pending for a long time and in other ways cleaned house for the new year. Despite these expenses the statement shows a good, healthy condition. The road has earned its fixed charges, taxes, dividends, etc., and has nearly, if not quite, $5,000,000 surplus for the year.

The earnings for 1904 were $65,071,683, an increase of $1,600,305, but the expenses increased $4,044,296, leaving a decrease in net earnings from operation of $2,443,991. The gross income, June being estimated, was $23,951,675, a decrease of $1,544,383. The deductions from income were $11,646,057, leaving $12,305,618 as net income applicable to dividends which amount to $7,400,000 for the year.

The company enters upon this fiscal year with clean books and the operating expenses very well in hand. The decrease in business has been met with a reasonable decrease in working force, and it is expected with a revival of good traffic conditions the results will be quite gratifying.

Germany Sends Expert Balloonist.

BERLIN, July 21.—Capt. Gross, an instructor of the German army balloon corps, has left Berlin for St. Louis, where he will observe the dirigible balloon contests in behalf of the war office.

THE MONEY MARKET

The local market is fairly easy at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, July 21.—Consols for money, 88 7-16; consols for account, 88½; money, 2@2½ per cent; the rate of discount for short bills is 2⅝@2¾ per cent; the rate of discount for three months' bills is 2 13-16@2⅞ per cent. Money was in fair demand in the market today, considerable sums being due for repayment to the Bank of England. Discounts were disposed to harden in view of the treasury bills to be paid for tomorrow. Prices on the stock exchange were irregular and the tone was undecided. Though the market had somewhat recovered from the Malacca fright the present political situation prevents substantial improvement. Consols opened weak on renewed sales, rallied measureably, reacted and closed flat at 88⅝ for money and 88 7-16 for the account. Americans opened weak and mostly below parity, improved somewhat, became irregular and nervous, hardened later and closed firm. Foreigners were heavy, Russians and Turks receding. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 95⅝. The amount of bullion taken into the Bank of England and balance today was £137,000. The rate of discount of the Bank of England was unchanged today at 3 per cent.

PARIS, July 21.—Prices on the bourse today opened unsettled and became firm on the expected adjustment of the difficulties arising from the Russian Red sea seizures. Russian imperial 4s closed at 92.75 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 505.

BERLIN, July 21.—Prices on the bourse stiffened today because of the more peaceful aspect of the relations between Great Britain and Russia. Exchange on London, 20 marks 44½ pfgs. for checks. Discount rates, short bills, 2 per cent; three months' bills, 2½ per cent.

INJUNCTION A BARRIER.

Northern Pacific Stockholders Are Tied Up by Harriman's Suit, and Adjourn.

NEW YORK, July 21.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, which has adjourned from time to time since October, 1903, was today adjourned indefinitely. In explanation Daniel S. Lamont, the vice president of the company, issued a statement in which he said the continuation of the injunction granted on the appointment of Messrs. Harriman and Pierce, trustees, which prohibits the distribution of stock owned by the Northern Securities Company, makes it impossible to meet the requirements of the charter of the Northern Pacific company which prohibits the transaction of any business at stockholders' meetings unless a majority of the outstanding stock is present and voting. Much more than a majority of stock is owned by and registered in the name of the Northern Securities Company.

As long as the recent injunction prevails there can be no distribution to its shareholders by the Northern Securities Company, and no valid meeting of the Northern Pacific stockholders can be held. In the meantime the board of directors chosen at the last annual meeting will, by the terms of the company's charter, continue in office.

MEAT WILL DROP.

Strike Settlement Means Lower Retail Prices and More Eating Here.

News of settlement of the packers' strike was received joyfully in Pittsburgh by both buyers and sellers of meat. The arbitration means plenty of meat of all kinds for this district by the middle of next week, that butchers will go back to the old scale of retail prices and that much more meat will be consumed. Wholesale prices will decline and the retail prices will come down accordingly.

Not in many years has there been so little meat consumed in the two cities as during the past 10 days. Butchers show by their books that never was so little bought from packers. The only change wrought by the strike locally is that local packers reaped advantage by increasing trade, which, if they can hold, will mean a loss to western houses. The strike demonstrated that the capacity of local provision companies is sufficient to take care of this district in a pinch.

LOCK SOON READY.

No. 4 lock in the Monongahela river will be repaired and probably ready for use by September 1. Until yesterday it was a matter of speculation as to whether the lock could be pumped out or not and the repair work continued without rebuilding the river wall. The water has been pumped out of the lock and close examination has shown that the repairing can go on and be rushed to completion. Piling is now being driven and the concrete bottom will be constructed soon.

Col. T. P. Roberts of the United States engineer's office, was at the lock this week and discovered that the rush of water through the lock, following the Edgar Cherry accident, undermined its substructure for a distance of about nine feet. The wooden timbers were torn and twisted as though a cannon ball had gone through.

This debris has been removed. The local engineers are gratified over the fact that the wall was not damaged so as to delay work that is not so well under way. Barring high water the repairs may be finished inside of 30 days and the two locks there will be in use the same as before. Although this lock at No. 4 dam has had three bad accidents, the new foundation work will make impossible similar damage hereafter.

Departures.

I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.

Local River Notes.

The stage of water in the Ohio river according to the gauges at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night, was 3.8 feet and stationary.

The Virginia is to be the Cincinnati packet tomorrow.

The Columbia will be the Morgantown packet today. The Woodward had a good trip out yesterday.

The Big Kanawha arrived yesterday afternoon from Parkersburg after being tied up at various places down-river on account of low water. She had a heavy trip of freight.

The steamer Lorena and the Greenwood will reach Rochester this morning on the way to Pittsburgh. The Greenland is due from St. Louis today and will leave tomorrow, according to her schedule, for another world's fair trip.

The rains yesterday inspired some confidence among rivermen and a slight rise is looked for during the next few days. Higher water will mean much to Ohio river packet lines. A few inches more water will not only help the packets, but allow various towboats to arrive.

Light Producers Are the Rule in Recent Development

Light producers were the general rule in the lower southwest fields. The Berea grit development on Yellow creek, Calhoun county, W. Va., furnished the best producer. It is in the older part of the field and is Upham, Ralston & Co.'s No. 12 on the Robert R. Ferrell farm. The well produced 150 barrels the first 24 hours after it was drilled into the pay. In the extension, one fourth of a mile east of the producer on the Gardner farm, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the A. H. Jackson farm through the Maxon sand and found it barren. It is now drilling to the Berea grit. This is an important test touching an eastern extension to the development.

In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company's No. 4 on the J. K. Anderson farm produced 150 barrels the first 24 hours. The same company's No. 1 on the Sarah Anderson farm produced 160 barrels as shown by the last 24 hours' gauge. In the Smithfield district, the Philadelphia Company has drilled its No. 6 on the Hoge-Robinson farm through the Gordon and has a duster. In the Pine Grove extension, the South Penn company has drilled its test on the J. C. Horner farm 28 feet into the stray sand and the well is spraying some oil.

In the Folsom district, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the J. N. Coffman farm 25 feet into the stray and has encountered no oil or gas. In the same locality, the same company's No. 2 on the S. M. Parish farm is drilling in the top of the stray. In the Salem district, in Harrison county, the South Penn company has shot its test on the Daniel Morris farm and increased its production to 50 barrels a day. In the same district, the South Penn has drilled its test on the S. J. Flannagan farm into the top of the Gordon and has a light showing of oil.

Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has drilled its test on the W. S. Hutson farm into the Gordon and has a good gasser. In Meade district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its second test on the James McIlvaine farm into the Gordon and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper in that formation.

In the Bonds Creek district, in Ritchie county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the Douglass reserve and will not have better than a 5-barrel pumper in the Keener. The South Penn has drilled No. 4 on the Theo. Butcher farm through the Keener and will not have better than a 2-barrel pumper. In the Wick district, Tyler county, Duff Bros. & Bower have completed their No. 10 on the Charles Ankrom farm and will have a 10-barrel pumper in the Big Injun sand. In the same district the Pennsboro Oil and Gas Company has completed a second test on the Wesley Knox farm and will have a 4 or 5-barrel pumper in the Big Injun. Porter, Livingston & Co. have completed their No. 7 on the W. F. McKnight farm and have a gasser in the Cow Run sand. The last gauge reported showed the Carter Oil Company's No. 6 on the J. W. Ankrom farm to have a production of 800 barrels a day. In the same locality the Melrose Oil and Gas Company gave its No. 4 on the T. H. Ewell farm another shot and brought its production up to 200 barrels a day. In the Hebron district, the Carter Oil Company has completed its test on the Eli Davis farm and has a duster in the Cow Run sand. It will be drilled to the lower formation. In the same district, the American Oil Development Company and the South Penn Oil Company has completed their No. 18 on the J. W. Morgan farm and have a show for a 25-barrel producer in the Maxon sand.

In the shallow sand territory in Wood county, Charles S. Reed has completed No. 9 on his own farm and has a 15-barrel producer in the Cow Run at a depth of 800 feet. In the same district, J. M. Henri & Co. have completed their No. 6 on the Pugh heirs' farm and have a show for a 30-barrel producer in the same formation. In the McFarlan district, Ritchie county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the A. Wright farm and has a very light pumper in the salt sand.

In the Milton district, in Cabel county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. M. Connor farm through the Big Lime and has a duster. This test is located southwest of the pool. The Harshbarger Oil and Gas Company have given their test on the Kilgore heirs' farm a shot, but failed to increase its production above 30 barrels a day. The 11 wells in the district are now producing 416 barrels a day. Near Georgetown, Beaver county, Pa., Snyder & Kirk have completed their test on the J. L. Allison farm and have a duster.

On the Ohio side in the Wolf Creek district, in Washington county, operators have found another little rich spot in the shallow sand territory. E. H. Jennings & Bros. & F. M. Selby have drilled in their No. 7 on the Olive Work heirs' farm and have a show for a 200-barrel producer. No. 6 on the same farm has been completed and it good for 100 barrels a day. In the same district, A. Girard & Co.'s No. 1 on the Otis Cody farm, drilled in last week, is holding up at 240 barrels a day. In the Macksburg field, in the same county, L. Stephens has completed his No. 7 on the Joseph Dixon farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Buell Run sand. In the same district, Patterson Wooster have completed No. 4 on the N. W. Chandler farm and have a duster in the 500-foot sand. Wickens & Augustine have completed their No. 17 on the Wickens farm and have a light pumper in the Buells Run sand.

On Rays run, the American Oil Company & Gaffney have completed No. 9 on the Semler heirs' farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the Big Injun. Mildren & Co. have completed a second test on the Levi Thomas farm and have a show for a 40-barrel producer in the same formation. One mile northeast of Bell church, Henning & Ewing have made the location for a test on the E. Miller farm.

In the Scio district, Harrison county, the McCabe Oil Company has drilled its test on the M. Flaherty farm through the Berea grit and has a duster. Near Dillonvale, on Limestone run, Jefferson county, the Jefferson County Oil Company has completed a second test on the M. B. Cole farm and the well is producing 120 barrels a day. This is the fifth well that has been completed in that district since the Jefferson County company completed its test on the William Stringer farm. The five wells have a combined production of a little more than 300 barrels a day.

...L CONTRACT HOLDS ATTENTION

Ten Prominent Firms Are Bidding on Work Which Will Cost $400,000.

MT. LEBANON SALE OF $20,000

No building project announced for months with the exception of the Carnegie institute addition is attracting the attention of builders as much as the addition to the Allegheny county jail. Bidders are busy with the plans in the office of Architect Fred J. Osterling, and the estimates are likely to run very close. Speculation as to who will receive the contract is heard on every side owing to the importance of the work, which will cost about $400,000, and the number and popularity of the bidders. Bids will be submitted to the architect by noon tomorrow and the contract will probably be awarded the first of the week. The following 10 firms are entered in the competition: The Henry Shenk Company, James Stewart & Co., the William Miller & Sons Company, William Kerr's Sons, Kerr & Fox, the A. and S. Wilson Company, George A. Cochrane, Rose & Fisher, the William F. Trimble & Sons Company and H. L. Kreusler. It is to be noted that no outside firms are bidding on the work. All the bidders are well known.

Mt. Lebanon Farm Sold.

Through the office of Dixon & Alexander 18 acres of the old Potter farm on Mt. Lebanon has been sold to John F. Hay for $20,000, or $1,111 an acre. The original Potter farm included 36 acres and the part just sold belonged more recently to W. Grant Brown. It has a frontage of 600 feet on the Washington pike, about 500 feet west of the Clearview allotment and within one-half mile of the Mt. Lebanon church. The property will be plotted at once and put on the market this fall. Within the last six weeks there has been a noticeable increase in the demand for home sites in the Mt. Lebanon district owing to the fact that the tunnel line is sure to be in operation in November, thus cutting off fully one-half of the time distance from the city. The Library acres located beyond Mt. Lebanon on the Charleroi street car line are meeting with a good sale. On the Clearview allotment, the Mt. Lebanon Heights plan and the Fetterman plan, there is not only an increasing inquiry for large lots, but the sales of the last few weeks have been larger than for a year before.

C. C. Hamilton has disposed of the properties at 2025 and 2027 Penn avenue for $11,-650, a price that would indicate a decided subsiding of the Penn avenue boom of last year. The property belonged to Frank Page and the buyer is John C. Cooper, who takes it for an investment. On the front of the lot, which measures 24x100 feet, there is a large frame building and two frame houses stand on the rear of the lot. These rent for a total of $80 a month. One year ago property of the same size in the same location was held at $15,000 and numerous offers of this amount on a trade basis were rejected.

East End Corner Bought.

J. H. Coleman and W. L. Woods of the East End have sold for W. D. King to James W. Smith 100x200 feet at the southeast corner of Euclid and Hampton avenues, Nineteenth ward, for $13,500. The site is one of the most desirable vacant spots in the ward and will be improved at once with a residence to cost from $20,000 to $25,000.

Through the agency of Pearson & Fries William O'Donnell has sold to Mrs. Grace Redenbach a seven-room frame house with two frame houses in the rear on lot 22x90 feet on the south side of Perrysville avenue, near the head of Federal street extension, Allegheny, for $10,500. The property rents for $100 a month.

J. Palmer O'Neil has awarded the contract to the Commercial Building Company for the erection of five houses in Ben Avon to cost $6,000 each. Three of them will face in Forest avenue and two in Breading avenue, and they will occupy lots 50x175 feet each. The houses will be eight-room brick dwellings with all modern improvements.

To start a building movement on the Eldora allotment opposite Monessen, John M. Wanner will shortly build four six-room houses on lots 40x130 feet, to cost $2,000 each.

The real estate fraternity will soon have another addition to its ranks in the person of J. B. Griggs, former secretary of the Pittsburgh Young Men's Christian association. Mr. Griggs resigned as general secretary a short time ago and will be succeeded by George F. Robinson, now assistant secretary. He will, however, remain with the association in his former capacity until October 1, when he will open a suite of offices down town. Mr. Griggs through his Y. M. C. A. work and his being a member of the Bank Clerks association has a very large acquaintance among business men.

Last Year It Went Begging.

A striking instance of rising values in one locality came to light yesterday when Thomas McCaffrey made an offer of $300 a front foot for 50x100 feet situated on the south side of Penn avenue at its junction with Butler street. The property belongs to the St. Johns Roman Catholic church, and the offer was promptly refused. Last year the property went begging at $200 a front foot. The improvements on the lot are only of nominal value, but its location at the forks of the road, where hundreds of people daily wait for cars and directly opposite the new building of the Pennsylvania National bank, makes it a good site for store purposes.

After two unsuccessful attempts the old police station in Carson street above Third street, South Side, was finally sold yesterday to H. J. Evan of Wilkinsburg for $3,000. The building has not been occupied as a police station for many years.

Bellevue: The Bellevue Realty Savings and Trust Company sold for Samuel J. Kerr of Bellevue to Charles Dunbar of the Real Estate Savings and Trust Company of Allegheny a seven-room frame house on lot 40x100 feet, on the west side of Monroe avenue, Bellevue, for $4,500.

Homestead: Thomas Carrick sold to George Cramer a six-room brick house on lot 35x120 feet, at Fourteenth and West streets, Homestead, for $4,000.

Chadwick: The Liberty Real Estate Trust Company sold for the Chadwick Land Company to William Conrader 25x100 feet in Grotto street, Twenty-first ward, for $500.

Butler street: Christian F. Klopfer sold to Frank Laulietta an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in Butler street, Seventeenth ward, for $5,900.

Forbes street: Mary McCoy sold to Margaret B. Schluederberg an improved lot 20x116 feet, on the north side of Forbes street, Fourteenth ward, for $4,000.

Frankstown avenue: C. T. Weiss sold to Jacob Hartman an irregular shaped lot on the north side of Frankstown avenue, near Station street, Nineteenth ward, for $1,286.

FATAL ACCIDENT BY TRAIN STRIKING AUTO

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—An automobile in which four men were riding was smashed by a Long Island railroad freight train shortly after noon today at Kings Highway and Gravesend avenue. The occupants were hurled from the machine and picked up unconscious. The owner of the machine, Martin Rauscher, proprietor of the Albemarle hotel at Coney Island, lies badly injured in the Coney Island hospital, while one of his companions, Horatio Abbott, will not recover. The accident occurred at a point where there was neither gate nor flagman. The engineer and fireman were arrested.

FLEEING ROBBERS FATALLY WOUND DEPUTY SHERIFF

VINCENNES, IND., July 21.—Frank Stockman, deputy sheriff of Wabash county, Illinois, was fatally shot today while pursuing two men who were suspected of robbing a store at Allendale, Ill. A bullet passed through the hat of Sheriff Carr of Lawrence county. Both robbers escaped, but it is believed they are seriously wounded. The pursuit is continuing.

FLOUR STEADIES UP; NEW CELERY CROP IN

A Better Outlook for Butter. Peaches Show Easier—Oats Not So Active.

The flour market is still firm, but the decline in wheat during the past few days has averted an advance in quotations. Coffee continues very active and sugar continues in excellent demand. Local jobbers report grocery business good, especially for this time of the year. There is good trade in staples of all kinds. There was no change in the cheese situation locally; butter is in good supply but may not continue so very long because of the good demand for milk in all the big cities. Eggs are still commanding high prices and are in good request generally.

Produce was active; more so on the street than in the yards yesterday. Arrivals were about the average; potatoes looked firmer and the same was true of tomatoes. There was a slight decline in peaches, although Elbertas are selling off rapidly at present quotations. Cantaloupes and melons are getting easier and coming in plentifully. New Ohio celery is moving and has arrived in Pittsburgh. Egg plant is reduced. Raspberries are firmer; the stock is getting very small and what is left on the market is selling off at good figures. Lemons and oranges are on the upward trend and the same can be said of all new crop fruits. Pears are moving in bigger quantities and prices have been reduced. Poultry is active and firm.

There is considerable inquiry for corn; the feeling on oats is not so good as it has been for the past 10 days, but no change is made in quotations. Hay is moving better this week, but sales are scant at moderate prices.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania—17 cars hay, 11 cars oats, 3 cars feed, 2 cars corn, 1 car corn and oats; Baltimore & Ohio—2 cars oats, 1 car hay; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie—1 car hay, 2 cars oats.

Dealers charge an advance of $3.00 a ton on hay and millfeed, and 5 cents per bushel on grain from warehouses in less than carload lots.

WAR NEWS CAUSES WHEAT TO STRENGTHEN

Rains in American Harvest District Also a Leading Influence.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—Renewed apprehension as to possible Anglo-Russian complications caused strength in wheat today. Rains in American harvest districts were also a leading influence. At the close September wheat showed a gain of 1¾c. Corn was up ⅝c. Oats are ¾c higher and provisions are up 10@12½c.

Opening quotations on September wheat were unchanged to ⅛@¼c higher at 87@87¼c to 87⅛c. A resumption of unsettled weather in the west and southwest was largely responsible for the firmness manifested at the start. The further delay in the marketing of new wheat resulting from the additional rains was a good reason for fresh purchases by those who had sold out the day before in anticipation of immediate heavy receipts. Some of the buying, however, was actuated by another motive. A revival of fears regarding difficulties between Russia and Great Britain had considerable to do in bringing out the active demand at the opening. Another factor in the situation was the estimate of a French journal on the total wheat crop of France. The figures showed a reduction in yield of from 25 to 30 per cent. With such a combination of crop and war news the market became quite excited, shorts being exceedingly anxious to cover sales of July. The price of that delivery jumped ¾c between trades. Offerings were so light that the price was soon more than 3 cents above the initial figures. The strength of July was reflected in the more distant deliveries, September advancing to 88⅞c. Late in the day much of the advance in July was lost on realizing, but the future options held at the top. Closing quotations on September were at 88¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 81,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 544,600 bushels, compared with 501,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 225 cars, against 176 cars last week and 213 cars a year ago. Strength of wheat was largely responsible for the firmness of the corn market. Commission houses were on the buying side, but local bears sold freely on every advance. Trading on the whole was small. The market closed almost at the high point. September opened a shade lower to a shade higher, at 49⅛@49¼c, sold between 48⅞c and 49⅞@49⅞c, and closed at the latter figure. Local receipts were 167 cars, with 10 of contract grade.

Sentiment in the oats pit was bullish, partly because of the strength of other grains, but chiefly on account of the small local stocks and the poor prospects of receipts being much increased in the near future. Several large commission houses were active buyers and the selling was scattered. After opening with a loss of ⅛c at 32⅜c, September sold up to 33⅜c, where it closed. Local receipts were 95 cars.

The impression that packers were supporting hog products turned a rather weak provision market into a strong one, the entire list showing good gains. The selling pressure at the start was due to the settlement of the strike and to a large run of hogs with lower prices at the yards. The close was practically at the high point. September pork being up 12½c at $12 82½, lard and ribs were each up 10c at $6 95 and $7 55, respectively.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 209 cars; oats, 56 cars; hogs, 19,000 head.

Railroad Traffic at Last Is Really Growing in Volume

"At last traffic is increasing," said a Pennsylvania official yesterday.

"We have passed through the stages of a lessening business and the stationary stage is also at an end. It is a steady growth now that is shown by the daily reports. The business gives every promise of continuing this growth, and when the large crop movement of the fall comes then traffic will be very heavy indeed.

"The increase is noted in coal, coke and general lines of iron and steel products as well as in merchandise. In the last the change is not so strongly marked as yet, because it is the off season. It will increase with the others, however, when its time comes."

That the business of the railroads throughout this section is growing will be shown by the July earnings reports. The officials are not pessimistic over the general outlook, as they were only a few months ago, and a far greater activity is manifest in the operating departments. Nothing approaching the rush which was on here for three years in the transportation of freight into and out of this district can be seen, but the present volume of traffic is up to the average for the last six years, it is said.

The resumption of the furnaces and steel mills in particular is swelling railroad traffic. There is no single industry along a railroad that produces as much freight on the same investment as does a blast furnace. The inbound coke, ore, limestone, etc., and the outbound pig iron mean loads both ways and constitute a very desirable traffic. The furnaces which were closed in June are in several cases now in operation, and in others are preparing for going into blast again.

In connection with the statement as to the increasing railroad traffic the Pennsylvania called attention to the truth with which the general industrial and business condition of the country is reflected by this means. When a section is prosperous a railroad has business, and when the prosperity decreases or vanishes the railroad earnings go down with it. The present upward turn is considered, therefore, highly significant.

Rates Have Decreased.

That railroad rates have been steadily decreasing is shown by the report of the statistician to the interstate commerce commission in the report made public this week. The average revenue per passenger per mile for the fiscal year 1903 was 20.06 mills and per ton of freight per mile 7.63 mills. The Railway Age from official reports shows the average revenue per passenger mile for the decade from 1890 to 1899 was 20.51 mills and that per ton mile was 8.39 mills. It appears, therefore, that the earnings of 1903 for passenger service averaged 2.19 per cent lower than during the 10 years from 1890 to 1899, and the earnings from freight service 9.06 per cent less.

The bureau of labor's comparisons of the wholesale prices of commodities during 1903, with the average prices of the same decade, show a very different result. Thus, instead of the decline shown in the prices of railway service the average of its 260 series of commodities shows an advance of 13.6 per cent. Farm products advanced 18.8 per cent; food, etc., 7.1 per cent; cloths and clothing, 6.6 per cent; fuel and lighting, 49.3 per cent; metals and implements, 17.8 per cent; lumber and building materials, 21.4 per cent; drugs and chemicals, 12.6 per cent; house furnishing goods, 13 per cent, and miscellaneous articles 13.6 per cent. No group of commodities on the bureau's list shows a decline; railway service stands alone in that respect.

Large Crowd for the Seashore.

Breezes at the seashore were sought by several hundred persons yesterday who took advantage of the Atlantic City and other New Jersey coast resorts excursion over the Pennsylvania railroad. The Union station was well filled, both when the morning trains left and in the evening. The plan adopted last year of making an extra charge for the tickets good for use on Pullman cars has resulted in a larger proportion of the travel being by day than was the custom until that time. The business yesterday will compare favorably with that done at any July excursion since the railroads here popularized Atlantic City. In August come the largest excursions of the year.

Pennsy to Start Half Holiday Outings.

Half-holiday excursions on Saturdays from Pittsburgh to Rock Springs park is an innovation on the Pennsylvania lines west which will be introduced tomorrow and will continue through the excursion season. The special train will leave the Union station at 1:30 p. m., city time, and the Allegheny station of the Fort Wayne at 1:45, running through to East Liverpool, where street cars will convey the excursionists across the river to the park. Returning, the train will leave East Liverpool at 10:30 p. m. This business is somewhat similar to that on Saturday afternoons to Cambridge Springs, Conneaut Lake and some other few resorts known as "week-end" excursions. The tickets for those, however, are good for return until Monday.

Railroad Notes.

E. D. Taylor, private secretary to the president of the Wabash, was in Pittsburgh for a couple of hours yesterday, going from New York to St. Louis.

Col. Thomas E. Watt, western district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania, is east on a business trip.

The new station which the Panhandle is building at Marshalsea is to be completed in September. It will cost $5,000.

Morning service from Sewickley to points in the Shenango valley is furnished now on request by train 209, leaving the Union station at 7:30 a. m. city time. The train will stop at Sewickley on notice to the conductor or agent.

FITZ RETURNS LION CUB: CHARGES CALLED OFF

NEW YORK, July 21.—The charge of grand larceny, which had been entered against Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, on the allegation that he had carried off a lion cub from one of the Coney Island animal shows, was dismissed today, the complainant explaining that he had learned that Fitzsimmons had been told he could have the lion, the offer being made by one of the managers as a joke. The lion has been returned to the show.

Saw Loomis Before Ship Touched.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 21.—Thomas F. Adkins of this city, who has just returned from abroad, was one of the last persons to see F. Kent Loomis alive on the night of June 20, when Loomis mysteriously disappeared from the deck of the Kaiser Wilhelm II., a few hours before the ship reached Plymouth. Mr. Adkins believes Loomis accidentally fell from the deck.

BUDAPEST COURT WANTS EVIDENCE

Bunco Game Worked in This City Brought to Light by Arrest in Hungary.

WALKER RELEASED BY JUDGE

The Royal criminal court of Budapest, Hungary, has requested the officials of common pleas court No. 2 of this county to take the evidence of Vasvil Bilunka of 3208 Jane street, who alleges he was robbed of $100 by Andrew Svanda, now under arrest in Hungary. Svanda admitted to the foreign police that he had received the money from Bilunka, but says he was buncoed out of it and fearing arrest, fled to the old country. He told the police at Budapest that Bilunka had given him a number of bills and requested him to have them changed to a $100 note. He said he was in the postoffice in this city when he was approached by a man who volunteered to change the money and gave him a confederate bill for the good money. On finding he had been fleeced, Svanda left the country. Bilunka has been summoned and will give testimony, which will be forwarded to Hungary.

The will of Martha Russell of Pittsburgh makes the Episcopal church the main beneficiary of her estate, which is valued at $4,000. Trinity church of Pittsburgh is left $1,000; Margaret McCourt, a sister, is left $100; Mary McCourt, a sister, $200; Sarah McBride, a sister, $200; and Martha A. Kirkpatrick, a niece, $200. A codicil mentions the death of Sarah McBride and transfers her legacy to Mary McCourt. The residue is left to the Beltzhoover borough mission of Trinity church.

James Scott pleaded guilty to stealing a valuable Scotch collie from William Falconer, superintendent of the Allegheny cemetery. He was sentenced to serve one day in the workhouse and pay the costs.

Statements were filed in the suits of Robert W. Harvey, Patrick Carroll, Jr. and Smith Thomas, against the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company. Each asks $50,000 damages, alleging they were victims of the Sheraden disaster of May 12, 1902.

Jacob Catalon has sued John Iveshits for $300 damages, alleging the defendant falsely charged him with perjury.

James Austin, for his daughter Sarah, has sued Charles Messick for $10,000 damages for alleged slander.

In the mandamus proceedings against William C. Hill, a Turtle Creek councilman, the defendant has filed a demurrer, setting forth that the suggestions filed do not show any borough contract with the Valley Times, and are also vague and uncertain.

John Sneider has begun habeas corpus proceedings against his wife to recover possession of their 9-year-old daughter. It is alleged the wife deserted him, taking the child with her.

In the bankruptcy case of Albert Winter, the referee has refused to allow his wife $4,000 which she claims to have loaned her husband. One thousand dollars of the money is said to have furnished their home and the rest is said to have built it. The referee shows that the household goods are claimed by the wife and that she cannot claim both goods and money, the $3,000 used in constructing the house, the referee says, was spent for the comfort of the family and is a bar to a claim.

The First National bank of Oakdale has sued M. M. Garland and others for $7,490 50, alleged to be due on a note of April 1, 1904. The signers are John M. Boyce, J. W. Nesbit and Josiah Shaw, liquidating committee. Garland appears among the indorsers of the note. The suit is also against all the makers of the note.

RAIN CANNOT DAMPEN ARDOR OF LAND SEEKERS

YANKTON, S. D., July 21.—When registration for the Rosebud reservation lands began today there were 1,500 persons in line. An all-day rain made waiting in line a dismal proceeding. Those who were able to secure umbrellas heroically held their places, while other equally determined ones secured strips of oil cloth, which they hung about their shoulders. The total registration will be brought near the 50,000 mark by today's additions.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED.

Amalgamated Association Determined to Have Rebate System Abolished.

The conference between the Amalgamated association and the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company adjourned last evening without effecting a settlement of the rebate question, which is the matter at issue. John Kearnsey of Granite City, Ind., failed to arrive at the conference, which retarded progress. Another conference will be held this morning.

The Amalgamated association has appointed John H. Morgan as its representative on the conciliatory board to settle the iron scale between the association and the Republic Iron and Steel Company. Morgan is state factory inspector of Ohio, and at one time was a member of the Amalgamated association. The Republic company has named Henry W. Heedy as its representative. Mr. Heedy is connected with the Ohio Iron and Steel Company of Lowellville, O. The two selected will name a third to adjust the scale.

MAN ON EVENING MAIL MUST HAVE BEEN SNUBBED HERE

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—The New York Evening Mail says this evening: "The mayor of Pittsburgh has balked at the task of selecting a 'typical' girl for the St. Louis exposition. He should not have found the task difficult. Provided that she has smudge on her nose, a cinder in her eye, a belief that Victor Herbert is the greatest musician since Bach, and in her heart a reverence for Carnegie and his works, all requirements will be met."

BRITISH FORCE ICE-CLAD PASS ON ROAD TO LHASSA

GYANGTSE, TIBET, July 21.—The British mission to Tibet, under command of Col. Younghusband, on July 18, forced a passage of the ice-clad Karola, the highest pass on the road to Lhassa. A less stubborn defense was made than was expected. The Tibetans retired early in the engagement, sniping the advancing British soldiers from the neighboring cliffs. The British are now 92 miles from Lhassa.

TO SEE VISITORS AT WHITE HOUSE

President Roosevelt Will Return to Washington After His Notification.

PREPARING FOR CAMPAIGN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 21.

On Saturday the headquarters of the Republican national committee in this city will be closed, and after that the work of the campaign will be directed from Chicago and New York. Chairman Cortelyou leaves on Monday for New York, where he will open headquarters, and on the same day Secretary Elmer Dover leaves for Chicago to open the western office of the committee at the Auditorium hotel. On Tuesday evening Mr. Cortelyou will go to Oyster Bay to be present at the notification of President Roosevelt of his nomination. This will take place on Wednesday, the 27th, and the following day President Roosevelt will return to Washington.

The president left here with the intention of spending three weeks in this city upon his return the last of this month. Although he has greatly enjoyed his vacation at Oyster Bay and would prefer to remain there until the close of the summer, he cannot do so. After three weeks here he will go back to Oyster Bay to probably take three weeks of rest.

The interruption to the president's summer vacation is due entirely to the necessity that he shall lend himself to the politicians for a short while. Since his nomination he has had few conferences with the Republican leaders of the country. Oyster Bay is too small to accommodate the visitors and the president must come here and sit in his own office for three weeks while he hears from the leaders of the various states just what they think of the outlook and just what they believe ought to be done to make the situation a little more secure than it appears now; for there are no Republicans anywhere who have any public fears as to the outcome. With them it is simply a question of how big they can make the majority in the electoral college.

Some of the usual summer overhauling at the White House is in progress, but none of it is necessary for the personal comfort of the president or members of his family at this time. The president will probably be here during the three weeks of his stay without the members of his family. Mrs. Roosevelt will stay with the children at Oyster Bay and the family will not get back to Washington until after the middle of September.

HUNGARIAN STATESMEN ABUSE THEIR EMPEROR

Object to Increasing His Salary, When Bill Comes Up in Parliament.

By MALCOLM CLARKE.
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, July 21.—From Budapest comes the news that Emperor Francis Joseph and other members of the imperial family have been abused in the most disgraceful manner by the members of the Hungarian parliament, who are debating a bill providing for an increase in salary of the king.

Two of the members called the king a greedy hog, while the others designated the bill as robbery. One member, Karl Eoeceoes, made the proposition that in the future the king of Hungary should only receive as much from the people as was necessary to cover his expenses for wine, beer, clothes and lodging. If the king was not satisfied with the salary which he was getting, the best thing he could do would be to send some of the many archdukes and princesses to convents and in this manner relieve the burden which rested upon the people.

SOLDIER IS HELD UP AND ROBBED OF MONEY

He Was Getting Ready to Join the Eighteenth When Highwaymen Got Him.

Edward Haniey, Nick Young, Joseph Griffith, Andrew Young and Joseph Wells, all of the South Side, were arrested yesterday afternoon at Lasners Ferry, west of Coraopolis, for holding up and robbing T. B. Armstrong, steamboat steward and a member of the Eighteenth regiment.

Long, Griffith and Hanley were camping on the river bank, and Young and Wells were employed on a steamboat lying at anchor near Lasners Ferry. Armstrong was returning from getting his pay from his employers, preparatory to accompanying his regiment to Gettysburg, when Young and Wells approached him, knocked him down and held him while they ransacked his pockets. The others stood near ready to help if necessary. They relieved Armstrong of $10 and a gold watch.

Armstrong went to Coraopolis and told his story to Chief of Police McCutcheon, who swore in three deputies and caught the men. At a hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice Stevenson, Hanley was released and the others were held in $300 bail for court.

ACCUSED MURDERER JEERED AT WITNESSES

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—Though on trial for his life before Judge Foster in general sessions today, Adolph Koenig, a cab driver, laughed and jeered at the prosecuting witnesses, and displayed no concern about the possible fate awaiting him. Koenig is accused of strangling Mrs. Mary A. Kaufman on May 3. It is alleged that he induced the woman to run away from her husband, Max Kaufman, also a cab driver, and go with him to 319 West Fortieth street. After the death of the woman Koenig made an attempt at suicide. He maintains that the woman met her death accidentally and then in remorse he wished to kill himself.

NEEDS A GOOD PRESS AGENT

National Commission Declares St. Louis Exposition Needs Advertising in Newspapers.

ATTENDANCE UNSATISFACTORY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, MO., July 21.—Because it believes the fair is not being properly exploited by the press in this and other countries, the national commission has caused a letter to be addressed to President Francis of the exposition, in which it calls his attention to the apparent need for an extension and enlargement of the publicity feature of the exposition. It says, in part:

Beyond the line of the special influence of the local press, the extensive proportions and interesting details of the fair do not appear to the commission to have been made known to the general public, to the extent or in the manner calculated to inspire the interest and secure the attendance warranted by the extraordinary merits of the great educational force herein stated. In the opinion of the commission this delinquency does not arise from any lack of devotion to the public welfare by the press of the country at large.

The daily attendance has been far short of what it should be from any point of view. Unhappily the magnificent proportions and the numberless attractions of the exposition do not seem to be fully understood by the masses of the people throughout the United States, whence attendance must be chiefly expected. The details through which publicity may be widely extended might wisely be made the result of a conference by a committee made up of persons appointed by the exposition company, the national commission and the representatives of governments, states, territories and districts having duly accredited commissioners appointed to represent them. Those newspapers of the respective states will, without doubt, cheerfully give space to descriptive matter directly relating to the exhibit and achievements of their readers.

One instance has been called to the attention of the commission where the names of visitors to the fair, registered at a state building, are being forwarded to the leading daily papers of the state, and published as a matter of news in their columns. The papers in question not only publish the list of arrivals at the exposition, but have called for any other matter of interest occurring here relating to the people, or affairs of the state. This method of publicity pursued by the commissioners of one state might, as the result of conference, become generally adopted. The exposition company could well afford to aid and assist in the preparation of descriptive articles accompanied by plate matter relating to different localities.

It is far from the intention of the commission to interfere with the operation of any of your own matured plans; but it is respectfully submitted that the failure of expected and necessary attendance at the exposition is a matter of such supreme importance as to command every available force in directing the attention of the people of the whole country to the attractions and merits of the exposition. Should it comport with your judgment to call the conference suggested, the national commission will be pleased to cooperated with you.

SOLD $3,000 RING FOR $25

Scrub Woman Arraigned to Tell How She Came into Possession of Jewels.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(Special.)—Mrs. Nellie Quinlan, a scrub woman formerly employed in the Waldorf-Astoria, was arraigned in Jefferson Market police court today to explain how she came into possession of a $3,000 ring which was stolen with other valuable jewelry from the apartments of Mrs. Charles L. McIntosh of Milwaukee, Wis., in the Waldorf. The ring is a 10-karat emerald in a cluster of diamonds. Mrs. Quinlan says she found it on the tenth floor and knows nothing about the other missing jewelry. The robbery occurred on the fourth floor.

Mrs. Quinlan took the ring home with her. She had no idea of its real value, and she says that at the suggestion of a friend she stowed it away and said nothing about it. A week ago she took the ring from its hiding place and sold it to a Mrs. Wagner of No. 337 First avenue for $25.

The detectives found Mrs. Wagner. She had the ring and verified Mrs. Quinlan's story. Mrs. Wagner gave it up without a murmur. The recovered ring was the most valuable piece in the lot. Just how much jewelry was stolen the detectives will not tell.

BANDS TO COMPETE.

Grenadiers of England, Italians and New York Boys May Be at Exposition.

The Western Pennsylvania Exposition society is now having a long distance music competition. The candidates are the Grenadiers of London, the Banda Rossa from Italy and the Pinto orchestra of boys from New York. The three organizations are making bids for an engagement at the exposition during the next month.

The Grenadiers have fought in South Africa, while the Banda Rossa is said to be the pet band of the king of Italy. Pinto's orchestra is resting solely on its merits without any monarchial or war record. It relies solely on its music. The exposition management has not yet made up its mind as to which of the three will be engaged and is worrying somewhat as to which will get the engagement. The youthful orchestra is known as the Boys' New York symphony orchestra, with A. F. Pinto, aged 22, as its conductor. The orchestra is made up of over 50 pieces, the members being American boys who have excelled in the various branches of instrumental training. These youthful players have appeared in New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Chattanooga, Asheville, N. C.; Richmond, Washington and Raleigh.

Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic national committee, who is in St. Louis, today issued the following call for the meeting of the committee, to be held at the Hoffman house, New York City, on Tuesday, July 26, at noon, to organize and transact such business as may come before it.

To Elect Officers for Labor Day.

The miscellaneous trades division will meet August 7 and the Iron and Glass division August 14 to elect the necessary officers.

BRITAIN HAS NO FEAR FOR INDIA

Can Place Army of 175,000 on Frontier to Meet the Russians.

POLICY OF TIBET CAMPAIGN

By PAUL LAMBETH.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 21.—England has no fear for India in case of war. The empire is perfectly able to defend itself against any attempt at invasion on the part of Russia. The Indian army consists of 222,000 men, with 468 guns. Under the plans for defense perfected by Lord Kitchener 175,000 of these, with full complement of artillery, can be concentrated on the northeastern frontier almost immediately after the call to arms.

The two main routes of invasion are via Herat and Kandahor, and by Balkh, Kabul and Peshawar. The first is regarded as the gate of India, and elaborate preparations have been made for its defense. A railway tunnel was constructed under the Knojak pass after the Afghan war. This tunnel leads out from the mountains to the plains of Kandahor. Railway stock is kept in readiness for continuing the line to Kandahor, where battle would be offered against any Russian advance. Through this tunnel, Lord Kitchener could pass an army with great rapidity, and when he has his increased force on the frontier both routes of invasion will be blocked. The Khyber pass is practically invulnerable. In Gen. Kuropatkin's plan some indication is given of an advance by Chitral, but the pass by this line is very difficult.

Of course, the attitude of Afghanistan would cut a big figure in any plan for defense. With the Afghans hostile, it would be necessary to take Cabul; but with Afghanistan friendly the Khyber pass would be the advanced line of defense against invasion from this point. As a matter of fact, little fear is felt as to the attitude of the ameer. He recognizes the fact that England has no designs on his country. She prefers to maintain the existing status with Afghanistan as a buffer state. Russia's plans, on the other hand, contemplated the absorption of Afghanistan as a preliminary to an advance on India. The facts are as well known in Cabul as they are in London, and as Great Britain can afford to be a more generous paymaster than can Russia, the friendship of the Afghans is assured.

Russia's plan of conciliating Persia and of using that territory for the passage of troops and stores is one of the serious dangers which threaten India. Lord Curzon, however, had instituted a vigorous policy. Southern Persia has been surveyed, and military authorities maintain that all that is needed is a judicious use of capital in railway construction and the development of commerce to nullify Russia's efforts, and make India safe.

It is known that the controlling motive in the expedition to Tibet was to close a possible door to the advance of Russia into India and to put an end to Russian intrigue for the sowing of dissension among his majesty's Indian subjects. Russian influence was becoming strong, and in time would have become paramount at Lhassa, the fountain head of the religion of millions of Indians. It was, and is now, believed that Russia intended to use the influence acquired at Lhassa to stir up sedition and engineer religious hatred to the government of British India. This is the underlying motive for the advance into Tibet, and is the reason why there will be no halt until British influence has overshadowed that of Russia at the court of the Dalia Lama.

SHOT WIFE AND HELD OFFICERS AT BAY

Desperate Murderer Is Finally Captured Through Ruse and Chloroformed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PEORIA, ILL., July 21.—Frank Pierce today shot and killed his wife at their home in Canton, Fulton county, and then held the entire Canton police force at bay. A sheriff's force was summoned from Lewistown.

Pierce, after shooting his wife three times, barricaded himself in the upper portion of his house and through the closed shutters announced he would kill the first officer to set foot on his premises. His mother was allowed to pass in and out of the house at will, but he would not permit her near the death chamber. He requested his brother-in-law, Charles McCaslin, to come to the house to talk regarding the disposition of certain personal effects, and he asked Fred Messler, an undertaker, to care for his wife's remains, but both refused to come until Pierce had been taken prisoner.

Pierce said there would be another Pierce corpse in the house as soon as he had talked with his brother-in-law. He was thrown off his guard by Undertaker Messler, who finally consented to enter the house and prepare the body of Mrs. Pierce for burial. Officers then rushed in and captured Pierce after a desperate fight. They were forced to chloroform him.

MRS. MAYBRICK IN FRANCE.

She Is Now in the Seclusion of Her Mother's Residence at Rouen.

ROUEN, FRANCE, July 21.—Mrs. Florence Maybrick arrived here from London today. Mrs. Maybrick was awaited at the station by her mother, the Baroness De Roques, with whom she drove in a closed carriage to the house of the baroness, who has been living here under the name of Mme. De Moremont. The house is situated on the Rue Tannery and is surrounded by high walls, completely shutting off the neighboring residences.

Visitors to the house today were refused admittance, being informed by an old family servant that the baroness had left Rouen some time ago and would return within a week. Neither Mrs. Maybrick nor the baroness went outside the grounds of the residence today.

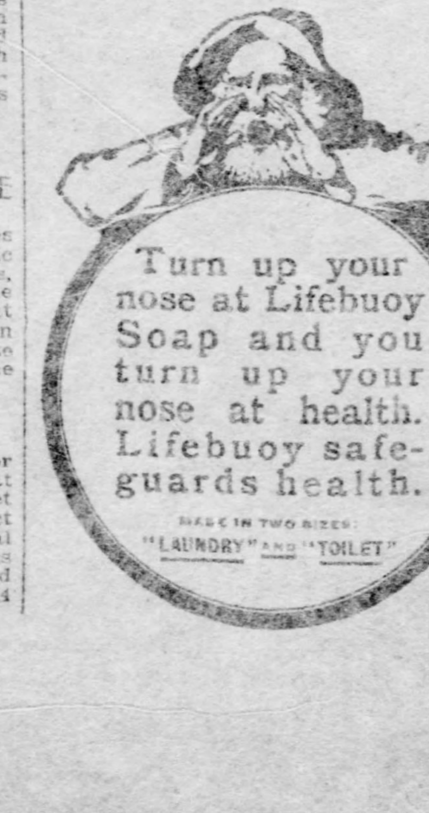
Death Postponed a Hearing.

The hearing in the case of H. G. Henderson, charged with securing $2,300 from the Liberty National bank, on a forged note was continued yesterday for a week. H. H. Woods, who is prosecuting the case, is a brother-in-law of Thomas S. Bigelow, and the latter's death caused the postponement.



BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR STEEL MEN

Big Plants Are Expected to Run Continuously the Rest of the Year.

AFTER THAT COMES A BOOM

As gauged by the outlook at the Homestead works, the largest and most important plant of the United States Steel Corporation, the prospects of the steel business are bright.

The Carnegie Steel Company, it is understood, is practically assured that it will have enough orders on hand to keep the big plant running full all the remainder of the year, and and after that a boom is expected as a result of the work held back by railroads during the last year.

All the departments will continue in full operation indefinitely, the only one now closed being the old 119-inch mill, which is being converted into an 84-inch mill. Hereafter such work as the 119 has been doing will go to the great 140-inch mill, the largest in the world.

In Homestead the rumor is revived that portions of the upper at lower Union mills will be removed from Lawrenceville to Homestead, greatly enlarged, and set up on the tract of the vacant land owned in West Homestead, beside the Howard axle works.

The resumption in Homestead shows that railroads are large buyers. A third of Homestead tonnage goes into steel car plates and structural material, as these lines have been slack. The Pressed Steel Car Company and the Standard Steel Car Company, however, have received substantial contracts, and larger ones are pending. The American Bridge Company has received the contract for a big building at Atlanta, Ga., and several large fort and bridge orders.

Pig irons have this week advanced from 50 to 75 cents a ton, and preparations are being made to start some of the corporation's idle furnace capacity.

The Duquesne Steel works has just completed the rolling of a 50,000-ton order of billets, sheet and tin plate bars, which were shipped for Liverpool delivery and consigned to different Welsh tin mills and English steel mills. Both Homestead, Duquesne and Edgar Thomson have done considerable export business and have much on their books yet.

The National Tube works is shipping large amounts of smaller sizes of tube to South Africa and South America from the McKeesport mills.

The "old" mill of the Edgar Thomson works at Braddock, which have been making billets, will soon go on steel rails again.

FRANCHISE FOR LOOP OBTAINED BY FRAUD

Charge in Suit to Compel Removal of Chicago Elevated Terminal.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, July 21.—The Union Elevated loop, traversing the business district of Chicago and affording terminal facilities for all the elevated railroads in the city, was made the subject of a sensational legal attack today. The state of Illinois, in a bill in the circuit court here filed by Attorney General Hamlin, asks for an injunction restraining the Union Loop Company from maintaining and operating the loop. The court is asked for a decree requiring the company to remove immediately all of the structure. It is said that abutting property owners are back of the bill.

The charge is made that money was used to buy signatures to the petition for the loop ordinance, and it is also charged that not one-half of the signatures to the petition were illegally procured. Besides the Union Loop Company the following elevated roads are made defendants: The Northwestern, Lake Street, South Side, Metropolitan and Union Consolidated.

In the six day bicycle races the pace tells terribly at the end. Man after man falls out exhausted. The victor wabbles wearily over the line. In the business race it's the same. Man after man drops out exhausted. The successful man is often a dyspeptic, unable to enjoy success. When the stomach is diseased there is not enough nutrition assimilated to sustain the body and repair the daily waste of tissues. The result is weakness, tending to collapse.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect assimilation of food by which the body is built up with sound, healthy flesh.

"I have taken one bottle of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for indigestion and liver complaint," writes Mr. C. M. Wilson, of Yadkin College, Davidson Co., N. C. "Have had no bad spells since I commenced taking your medicine—in fact, have not felt like the same man. Before I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I could not eat anything without awful distress, but now I can eat anything I wish without having unpleasant feelings. Last summer our baby was teething and was so poor he was almost a skeleton. We gave him your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and now he is as healthy and well as any child. I will speak a good word for your medicine whenever I have an opportunity."
